in which at

44 W pie be löfe

Markey ... tare Til

alera.

第4.95 年

la spirate.

at a seci

mer of the m white or 1964 A. C. Marter pri 14 :

fre Barber Egypte Frances

The state

I

A 11-14-1-14

SECTION ...

and 1-00.

200 .U. .

a Liver

up lué.

belije i i .

Mark and 海河 🙀 🖈

de gratia :

Military.

for No. of

THE N. P.

ar -£terri

e Mille

AND COLUMN

m alternations

wi Maran

or and was

WARRY A

MENT SEE NO

Approximate the second

MANAY'S

Lottery with of 10 Tickets

F 100 150

HARLES BOLLER

g was bedater.

表 输送室

New York

Per 18 1

Meditary and to ..

WEATHER DATA APPEAR ON PAGE 16

No. 31.443

ESTABLISHED 1887

Israeli Vote Paves Way For Early Elections

By Edward Walsh Wushington Past Service

JERUSALEM — The Israeli arliament voted Thursday night o dissolve itself and hold new parinmentary elections later in the

The 61-to-58 vote to advance the late of elections, which had been cheduled for 1985, was a prelimiary step still requiring parliamen-ary action, including the setting of a date. But at the end of a day of solitical maneuvering, the vote deermined that Israeli voters will go o the polls before the end of 1984.

The elections could be as early as Any or June if the main opposition abor Party and its allies get their ay, or as late as the fall if the overnment of Prime Minister itzhak Shamir succeeds in a series i delaying tactics.

However, Thursday night's vote. fter a rancous Knesset session, as-ared the holding of early elections nd a national debate not only on ne dominant issue of the domestic conomy but also on the situation Lebanon and Israel's policy in ne occupied West Bank and Gaza

The challenge to the Shamir gov-rument began to develop dramatially Monday night, when the leadof a small party that is part of the x-party government coalition anounced that his group was breakg ranks and would vote for the

That appeared to give the oppotion sufficient votes, but it did not revent the government from some aneuvers to prevent approval of ie bill. The coalition appeared on ne verge of success earlier Thursay as a three-member parliamenay delegation flew back to Israel om a tour of Argentina. On board the opposition but was said to be rushing back to vote against early

Adding to the drama was the uestion of whether former Prime Minister Menachem Begin would appear in the Knesset for the first ime in more than seven months to support his successor, Mr. Shamir. Mr. Begin resigned as prime minister last September, but he has retained his seat in the Knesset.

It was thought that if Mr. Begin appeared to vote with the governnt, Mr. Zeigerman's vote would be decisive in determining the out-

In the end, Mr. Zeigerman did vote with the government while Mr. Begin was the only member of the nember Knesset who was absent. But the question of Mr. Begin's presence was mooted earlier in the day when another maverick coalition member, Mordechai Ben-Porat, also defected and annonneed that he would vote for the

The prospect of elections this year is certain to produce months of political turmoil in Israel, including a likely challenge to Mr. Shamir's leadership of the ruling Likud bloc. Deputy Prime Minister sought party leadership against Mr. Shamir after the Begin resignation, has not ruled out another attempt to supplant Mr. Shamir.

In addition, former Defense He flight was Dror Zeigerman, a winister Ariel Sharon has said he averick member of the coalition ho had been expected to vote with the next elections.

Minimum Tax Sought In Americans Abroad

By Robert C. Siner

International Herald Tribune WASHINGTON - Provisions at would sharply increase the taxof many Americans working in w-tax foreign countries have been icluded in a deficit-reduction schage approved by the Senate inance Committee.

The $74-billion package includes nguage that would require all mericans abroad who file returns aiming the income exclusion and rusing deduction to also compute alternative minimum tax and -1y the greater of the two.

totaling $89,000 of adjusted gross However, this minimum tax ($40,000), the four personal exempvald be offset, on a dollar-forillar basis, by income taxes paid tions ($4,000), and the standard dea foreign country. The tax would duction ($3,400) — a total of $47,400 — leaving $41,600 in tax-able income. The alternative minitotally offset for any American sying foreign income taxes at a FAGES "te of 20 percent or higher. FOR #1 The new minimum tax would be CLASS imputed by adding all income id allowances, and then subtractg 2 $30,000 income exemption for dividuals ($40,000 for a married suple filing a joint return), the ional exemption, and the stan-are deduction or itemized deducons. The alternative infimum tax would be 20 percent the remainder. Husbands and ives filing separate returns would ich be allowed a $20,000 exemp-

INSIDE

U.S. cancellation of weapons 'sales to Jordan and Saudi Arabia is seen as another setback to US S 660.000 W Paris ready-to-wear fashion showings open with any fashion

US $ 275.000 Have. The Sikh militant leader has Some militant leader has swarfied that a New Delhi government crackdown could lead vio a revolution bound.

Brassia is being rehabilitated by the East German authorities the Communist regime. Page 6. BUSINESS/FINANCE

> Durable-goods orders in the United States fell by 1.2 percent in February. Page 11.

Anthony Burgess sounds gleeful about causing a stir with his list of the best "Ninety-Nine Novels" since 1020

TO OUR READERS

Distribution of the International Herald Tribune was disrupted Thursday because of a nationwide work stoppage by French printers.

housing deduction.

this, or $8,320.

income. From this they would sub-foreign income taxes, their U.S. tax they would owe the full $8,320.

The minimum tax was proposed by Senator John C. Danforth, a Republican of Missouri, who was a strong supporter of tax relief for Americans abroad during the five-year battle that produced the pre-had proposed the minimum tax, said that it was in line with his long-held belief that all Americans

The Finance Committee's bill.

approved Wednesday night, is being held off the Senate floor until other committees complete work on spending cuts. Chairman Robert J. Dole, a Republican of Kansas, has said he hoped that floor action could be completed before the Senate's Easter recess begins

April 13, but this is considered unlikely.

If the bill were passed by the Senate, it would still have to be reconciled with a $49.3-billion tax bill passed by the House Ways and creases that would bring the earned income exclusion from $80,000 for income earned in 1983 to $85,000 in 1984, 590,000 in 1985, and

$95,000 in 1986. These increases would take effect in 1987, 1988 and

Ben Brown, director of the Tax

Fairness Committee, a lobbying arm of the construction industry, said that his group would lobby to have the minimum-tax provisions taken out of the bill either on the Senate floor or in a Senate-House

1989 under the House bill.

An aide, asked why the senator sent income exclusion.

should pay some tax.

Vice President George Bush and Under current law, a couple with other senior U.S. officials told Saltwo children living abroad who vadoran leaders that military comearned $50,000 in salary and bo-manders, including Colonel Carnuses, a $20,000 housing allow-ranza, should move aggressively ance, a $10,000 cost-of-living alagainst anyone involved in death lowance, a $5,000 education squad activities to dispel the imallowance and a $4,000 home-leave allowance would owe no U.S. income tax if they used the income exclusion of $80,000 under Section

The State Department officials said Wednesday that since Colonel 911 of the U.S. tax code and the Carranza took command last year, the Treasury Police had improved To determine the new alternative its conduct somewhat but re- marked Ed's long career of public minimum tax, the couple would add the salary and all allowances, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5) service." Mr. Reagan said.

Salvadoran Said to Be Informant For CIA

By Philip Taubman New York Times Service WASHINGTON - The head of

El Salvador's Treasury Police has been a paid informant for the Central Intelligence Agency since the late 1970s, according to U.S. offi-

The Treasury Police has long been considered the least disciplined and most brutal of the Salvadoran security forces, and some of the members have been linked death squad activities.

The U.S. officials, who are familiar with CIA activities in El Salvador, said that the Treasury Police chief, Colonel Nicolas Carranza, had received more than $90,000 a year from the CIA as an informant for the past five or six years. A former Salvadoran official, in an article published in The New York Times on March 3, said that Salvadoran military and civilian leaders were involved in organizing and directing death squads. Colonel Carranza was one of those he implicated in terrorist acts. The Treasury Police's head of intelligence, Major José Ricardo Pozo, was removed from his job late last year after the Reagan ad-ministration pressed the Salvadoran government to take action against security officials who were linked to the death squads, according to State Department officials. The U.S. officials maintained, however, that there was no credible evidence that Colonel Carranza was personally involved with the death squads.

[The White House on Thursday denied any link between the CIÁ and officials implicated in death squads. United Press International

[The White House spokesman, Larry M. Speakes, said the CIA "scrupulously" abides by an executive order barring U.S. involvement in assassinations. The agency "does not employ people whom it beengaged in assassination activi-ties," he said.]

Administration officials said that in visits to El Salvador at the time of Major Pozo's dismissal, ranza, should move aggressively pression that commanders con-

PARIS, FRIENY, MARCH 23, 1984

Meese Requests Special Prosecutor For Allegations From Senate Hearings

By Mary Thornton

WASHINGTON - Edwin Meese 3d, the president's counselor, who has been nominated for U.S. automey general, asked the Justice Department on Thursday to request a special prosecutor to investigate "all allegations relating to me" in connection with his Senate confirmation hearings.

Because of unsubstantiated charges that have been widely publicized by those who oppose my nomination ... I feel that there that will examine the facts and make public the truth," Mr. Meese said in a letter to Attorney General

President Ronald Reagan released a statement saying that he would not withdraw Mr. Meese's nomination. "I know that an impartial, prompt and thorough inquiry will demonstrate the high level of integrity and dedication which have preliminary inquiry early this week into allegations against Mr. Meese to determine whether a special prosecutor should be requested.

The investigation was begun after an admission by Mr. Meese that he had inadvertently failed to disclose, as required by law, a $15,000 interest-free loan to his wife, Ursula, from Edwin Thomas, a friend who later received two federal jobs.

On Thursday morning, before Mr. Meese made his announcement, Senator Strom Thurmond, a South Carolina Republican who is the chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and Senator Joseph R. Biden Jr. of Delaware, the ranking Democrat on the committee, sent a letter to Mr. Smith asking for assurances that other allegations would also be investigated.

The committee has suspended the confirmation hearings at Mr. Meese's request, pending the outcome of the investigation.

Mr. Thurmond and Mr. Biden outlined areas they think the spe-

The Justice Department began a cial prosecutor should focus on, in-• The role Mr. Meese played, if any, in obtaining federal jobs for members of the Thomas family after the $15,000 loan. • Whether Mr. Meese played any role in obtaining federal jobs four other persons who also helped him financially. • Mr. Masse's transfer from the Retired Army Reserves to Active Reserve status and his subsequent promotion to colonel. A report by the army's inspector general criti-wrongdoing by Mr. Meese. Last month, Mr. Meese asked to be reblocked a rebate of 750 million blocked a rebate of 750 million cized the promotion but found no turned to reserve status because of Any role played by Mr. Meese 1983 contributions.

in efforts by Mr. Reagan's 1980 Carter's re-election campaign. Mr. butions if ministers at Tuesday's as soon as possible since the sum-Meese has said repeatedly that he meeting decline to unblock the mit conference had "at one momation, which was apparently for- what she regards as Britain's un- significant agreements." warded to his campaign office.

U.K. Postpones A Decision on Withholding Its EC Payments

LONDON - Prime Minister ciliatory mood emerged during the Margaret Thatcher told Parliament cabinet meeting Thursday and that on Thursday that she has postponed a decision on whether to freeze British payments to the European Community.

Mrs. Thatcher met with her cabinet for three hours and then told the House of Commons that she would wait to see the results of an emergency meeting of community foreign ministers in Brussels on

But she also said she would make no move to meet the EC's request for a $143-million advance pay-ment on Britain's April contribu-

Noting that France, which holds the rotating chairmanship of the 10-nation community, had called the meeting of foreign ministers in Brussels on Tuesday after the collapse of this week's summit meeting, Mrs. Thatcher said:

We welcome this initiative, and in these circumstances the government will take no action that might damage the prospects of decisive progress next week." But she added: "In the meantime, we shall not ask the House to consider a supplementary estimate for an advance payment to the community. We shall consider our position on that request in the light of the outcome of the meeting."

Mrs. Thatcher told the Commons on Wednesday that the blocking of the British refund agreed upon eight months ago "was inwise and will sour relations."

"One can't go on as if nothing has happened," she said. "It's almost intolerable that one should be expected to send a supplementary in the face of what has happened. in recent months, member nations have made advance contributions to keep the community afloat financially. Holding up an advance payment would not so clearly vio-

ate the community treaty as would withholding regular contributions. Mrs. Thatcher is widely blamed for the failure of this week's Brussels meeting, which ended with the government had decided to "play it cool."

European Currency Units ($638)

In noisy exchanges in the Comcampaign to obtain documents and mons, Mrs. Thatcher declined to information from President Jimmy rule out cutting off regular contri- 10 to return to the negotiating table does not recall receiving such infor- 1983 rebate and find a solution to ment seemed within arm's reach of fairly high contributions.

The EC has been deadlocked for months on Britain's complaint that it bears too high a proportion of the community's cost although it is one of its poorest members.

This is because it benefits to a lesser extent than its neighbors from agricultural subsidies; it also still imports much of its food from outside the community and thus has to pay levies on it to the EC.

The summit deadlock meant that the community would soon run out of money to pay the growing cost of its farm-support program.

Mrs. Thatcher called the EC's decision to block last year's rebate "reprehensible." She had warned in Brussels that unless that money was paid by March 31 she would freeze Britain's membership dues. This would be illegal under the Treaty of Rome, which Britain signed in 1973 when it joined the The Common Market faces bankruptcy because it pays huge subsidies to farmers. Farm spending is already $425 million over budget this year, EC officials say. West Germany and Britain contribute more money than they draw from the EC . All agree Britain pays too much but they cannot agree on how much to refund to London.

Britain will pay in an estimated $1.7 billion this year. Mrs. Thatchment to link future payments to

The other nine offered $850 million this year and for the next five years. The summit leaders were unable to bridge a gap between Mrs. Thatcher's demands and what the Continental partners offered.

The opposition Labor Party and some of Mrs. Thatcher's Conservative Party supporters have urged her to withhold funds from the EC, Thursday's calmer view of the

In retaliation, France and Italy collapse of the Brussels conference was echoed in the British press. The conservative Daily Telegraph said million) due March 31 on Britain's the meeting was not the catastrophe that some community leaders had made it appear. The Financial Times urged the mum tax would be 20 percent of If the couple had paid $8,000 in liability would be $320. If they paid no foreign income tax, as is the case in most Middle Eastern countries, plainclothes policeman looks through debris in the archive storage department of UNESCO's Paris headquarters building, which was heavily damaged by fire Wednesday. respondence were damaged, and

M'Bow Calls for Police Investigation Of 'Criminal' Fire at UNESCO Wing heavily damaged a wing of the or- UNESCO building in Paris. ganization's headquarters was Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization said the fire began in an archives storage area, but they can so that we can find out the denied that any classified documents had been destroyed, as had the identities of the person or perbeen reported. The fire occurred a few weeks before the expected start of a U.S. review of the financial and administrative operations of UNESCO. "No document concerning the budget or the administration of UNESCO that could interest the U.S. congressional inquiry due here shortly was destroyed," said Jerome Hinstin, a UNESCO official. He said only recent correspondence and files concerning the cor-

"criminal" in origin and asked em-ployees to cooperate in a police inquiry.

members of his staff that he had requested a "painstaking inquiry" by the French police, firefighters Officials of the United Nations and prosecutors into the fire, which occurred Wednesday night. "I am asking everyone to do all > sons at the root of this crime," Mr. One official estimated structural damage at more than $625,000 and said about 100 ciffices were dam-

Henri Lopes, an assistant director-general, said at least 40 percent of the documents "were compara-tively old" and could be replaced by use of a central file where copies are kept.

The United States, which provides one-quarter of UNESCO's der control.

PARIS - Amadou Mahtar files were kept in another wing of nounced Dec. 28 that it would M'Bow, director-general of UNES- the building. Mr. Hinstin said per-CO, said Thursday that a fire that sonnel files were kept in another the end of this year because, in Washington's opinion, it had be-Mr. M'Bow told assembled come too politicized, was anti-tembers of his staff that he had Western and badly managed.

Congress is seeking the review of UNESCO to help it determine the merit of President Ronald Rea-

Representative James Scheuer, Democrat of New York, announced the investigation at a March 2 news conference and said at the same time that he had heard rumors of UNESCO documents being destroyed and shredded. UNESCO formally denied any documents had been destroyed.

The fire broke out at the modemistic Y-shaped building near the Eiffel Tower an hour after most employees had left for the day. It rased through seven of the buildings' eight above-ground floors before 200 firelighters brought it un-

Jumblat Warns of More Beirut Violence as Moslem Rivals Clash

Means Committee earlier this month. This bill also is being held Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches BEIRUT - Druze Moslem milioff the floor while other committees take action on spending cuts. The House bill does not contain a minimum tax provision for Beirut, police and witnesses said. Americans abroad. Instead, it would postpone three scheduled in-Gunfire and explosions rocked the city's Moslem sector from midnight Wednesday. The rightist Christian Phalange radio said 125 people were killed or wounded, but police put the death toll at five. The positions held by the Murabitoun -- the name means "amend of the inconclusive reconciliation conference in Lausanne, Switzerland, on Tuesday. The Murabi-

when President Amin Gemayel re- tinian Liberation Organization tour headquarters, and Druze mili- main leaders of the Syrian-backed turned to Lebanon from the talks guerrillas to return to Beirut. siamen defeated Libyan-backed and a subsequent visit to France.

Sunni Moslem rivals Thursday as The state radio said Mr. Gemayel Mansour, said the Murabitoun also into hiding.

The Murabitoun, the only major the clashes had shelled East Beirur when Amal, The Murabitoun, the only major that he feared "more fighting."

Thursday's clashes came as Britain announced it was ending its limited peacekeeping role in Lebanon, bringing home 115 troops already evacuated from Beirui to a bushers" in Arabic — were the first ship offshore. The move follows to change hands in Beirut since the breakdown of the Swiss talks. ship offshore. The move follows the Although allied in their light against the Christians in East Beibut the Druze Moslem leader, Wa- the Moslem militia, and forces belid Jumblat, said after talks at the longing to Mr. Jumblat's Progres-British Foreign Office in London sive Socialist Party, were committed to the cease-fire.

The fighting stopped around midday Thursday after intense negotiations among Druze forces, Lebanese police and the Murabitoun. A mosque used by the Murabitoun as their headquarters and the militia's radio station were tuned over to police.

Mr. Jumblat's forces said 150 of the 600 fighters were captured, intoun were excluded from the rot, the leaders of Murabitoun and cluding many Palestinians.

Lausanne talks. The lighting was still under way over the question of allowing Paleston and cluding many Palestinians.

Broken glass and masonry littered the street outside the Murabitiamen set up roadblocks to detain A Druze spokesman, Ghazi Murabitoun fighters who had gone PLO, Yasser Arafat.

Sunni Moslem militia in West Beirut, gets much of its financing from Libya. The militia consists largely of Arab nationalist followers of Nabih Berri, last mouth they would Gamai Abdel Nasser, the Egyptian president who died in 1970. After being forced out of Beirut by the Israeli invasion of 1982, the Palestinian return. Murabitoun reappeared in small numbers last month after Mr. Jumblat's party and Amal took control of West BeiruL

Ooleilat, is in Libya for talks with the Libyan leader. Colonel Moamer Qadhafi. Mr. Qoleilat met ported rocket and artillery duels in Tuesday in Tripoli with the three opposition to the chairman of the The three Palestinians, Abu

Musa and Abu Saleh of el-Fatah and Ahmed Jibril of the General Command group, promised Mr. Jumblat and the leader of Amal, not send Palestinian guerrillas back into Beirut. Mr. Qoleilat has since been quoted as saying he lavored a Thursday's fighting temporarily distracted attention from the daily exchanges between Moslem forces in West Beirnt and the Lebanese The Murabitoun leader, Ibrahim army and rightist Christian militias in the eastern section of the capital.

The Christian Phalange radio re-tween Lebanese Army soldiers in the stronghold of Souk el Gharb and Druze militiamen based in the villages of Aitat, Aley and Kaifoun

Commenting on the Lausanne talks, the White House spokesman, Larry M. Speakes, said in Washington that the Reagan administration was "disappointed the conferees have been unable to make greater progress toward national reconciliation. We hope the parties will continue to work to make more meaningful the fragile cease-fire that now exists."

Donald H. Rumsfeld, the special U.S. envoy to the Middle East, arrived in Cairo on Thursday for a 24-hour visit and met for two hours with President Hosni Mubarak.

(Reuters, UPI, AP)

By Bernard Gwertzman New York Times Service

WASHINGTON -- By announcing that it was canceling plans to sell advanced anti-aircraft missiles to Jordan and Saudi Arabia, the Reagan administration appears to have bowed to supporters of Israel in Washington. In the process, the administration ignored the views of the State Department's own experts on the Arab world.

The sudden cancellation Wednesday, following the public denunciation of Washington by King Hussein of Jordan, climaxed a string of setbacks to U.S. policy in the Middle East. On Feb. 7, President Ronald Reagan ordered U.S. Marines moved from Beirut International Airport to ships offshore. On March 5, the U.S.-sponsored disengagement accord of last May 17 between Israel and Lebanon was canceled by the Lebanese government under pressure from Syria.

There is now a widespread perception among officials in Washington and in other capitals that the administration is mishandling the Middle East, 2 region that it once thought would offer opportunities for a foreign policy success.

"Our whole Mideast policy is in a state of drift," a State Department official said, with the administration now limited to listening to what others have to offer. He said the situation was far different in Sep-to the Portuguese news agency.

NEW YORK'S

HOTEL GARLYLE

MADISON AVENUE AT 76TH ST.,

Hope.

tember 1982, when Mr. Reagan offered his plan for town journalists at the White House, that the sale peace in the Middle East and the marines were sent should be made. back to Lebanon as U.S. officials sought to negotiate the withdrawal of Israeli and Syrian troops.

Some senior officials acknowledge the failure to achieve results, but say the blame has to be shared by

"Somehow or other we have to get over this notion that every time things don't go just to everybody's satisfaction in the Middle East, it's the U.S. fault or it's up to the U.S. to do something about it," Secretary of State George P. Shultz said Tuesday.

NEWS ANALYSIS

The White House, in announcing the decision to cancel the sales of the shoulder-held Stinger missiles, said Mr. Reagan had acted on the recommendation of Mr. Shultz and other senior advisers.

In a sense, the administration was forced to cancel after it was disclosed that there were more than enough votes in Congress to kill the proposal anyway. But officials said they regarded it as an added embar-rassment. Only last week, Mr. Reagan had appealed for support of the sales when he spoke to the United Jewish Appeal. An hour before his decision to cancel, Mr. Reagan was still arguing, at a meeting with out-of-

Richard W. Murphy, assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern affairs, said Wednesday: "We are sending a signal, unintentionally certainly on the part of the administration, that we are not prepared to supsupS. Eagleburger, the undersecretary for political affairs, port what the administration concluded after long and Thomas A. Dine, the executive director of the studies were the legitimate security needs of Jordan and Saudi Arabia.

American and anti-Israeli remarks by King Hussein in Jerusalem. interviews last week had increased congressional op-position to the point that the administration decided to cancel the projected sales rather than risk a humiliating defeat in Congress.

Aides said that Mr. Murphy, who theoretically is in charge of Middle Eastern policy, was not informed of the decision to cancel the missile sales until Thursday morning, more than 12 hours after the decision had been made and after the American-Israel Public Affairs Committee, the leading pro-Israeli lobby, had

Some officials cited this as an example of the disarray in the administration's policy-making ma-chinery. A State Department official said that decisions are now being made day by day and that Middle East experts are rarely called upon for their opinions

By Michael Dobbs

Washington Post Service

matic test of strength with the Soviet Union over the deployment of NATO missiles in Western Europe.

opening with Moscow dominated

Mr. Mitterrand's hourlong talk with Mr. Reagan at the White House and an address to a joint they shared the view that the Atlantic alliance had emerged strength-controversy over new nuclear missiles being stationed in Western

At a welcoming ceremony for the "courage" and "decisiveness" in

Mr. Mitterrand in turn promised counted upon to bring an original

The effusion of mutual praise at the start of Mr. Mitterrand's offi-

Europe by the North Atlantic Trea-

Spokesmen for both leaders said

ession of Congress.

ty Organization.

The theme of searching for an

Why was the American-Israel Public Affairs Committee told before many key administration officials of the decision to cancel the missile sales? A State Department official said it was because the decision had been preceded by discussions between Lawrence and Thomas A. Dine, the executive director of the committee, on a possible trade-off: The administration would cancel the Stinger sales in return for the In testimony before the House Foreign Affairs committee's agreeing to kill a pending bill to require subcommittee on the Near East, he said the anti-moving the U.S. Embassy in Israel from Tel Aviv to

> The negotiations between Mr. Eagleburger and Mr. Dine have annoyed some State Department officials, who said privately that this undermined the administration's efforts at being even-handed in the Middle

Ever since the pullout of the marines from Lebanon, the administration has been searching for a coherent Middle East policy. In early February, Robert C. McFariane, the national security adviser, began telling reporters that the administration could now focus its attentions on the broader peace issues between Israel and the Arabs, and put Lebanon aside.

That resulted in the decision to focus public attention on the possibility of enticing King Hussein to join the negotiations on a Middle East peace. But Hussein rejected such talks.

WORLD BRIEFS

Strike Halts Trade, Transport in Peru

LIMA (AP) - Much of the nation's commerce and public transportstion were interrupted Thursday by a 24-hour general strike called to protest the government's economic policies.

The walkout was called by the nation's leftist-dominated unions.

Strikers briefly blocked the Pan-American Highway with rocks and burning tires, but the police said they cleared the road. The strike was called to protest government policies that the unions said were responsi-ble for an inflation rate of 130 percent and a 20 percent jump in .!

The police sent armed patrols into Lima's streets following a series of bombings by Marxist guerrillas Wednesday night. Two guerrillas, two policemen and a passerby were injured in the bombings, the police said. The injured rebels were arrested.

80 Percent of U.K. Mines Shut Down

LONDON (UPI) - Miners picketed in record numbers Thursday closing down about 80 percent of Britain's mines, despite a massive polici

By mid-afternoon Thursday, an estimated 5,000 traveling pickets had brought 137 of the nation's 175 mines to a halt, leaving only 38 functioning. Many miners who had voted to continue working despite union calls for a nationwide strike ignored the pickets and reported for work. About 8,000 police officers guarded mines to ensure that no violence erupted between the divided miners. One miner died in clashes

Scotland Yard, which is coordinating the huge police operation, said 4: pickets had been arrested from Wednesday afternoon to Thursday. They said a total of 96 people, most of them charged with obstruction, had been arrested in the nine-day strike to protest pit closures.

French Trucks End Spanish Blockade

IRUN, Spain (UPI) - French truck drivers Thursday ended their 60hour blockade of the western Spanish border on a promise from Spain of police reinforcements to protect them from anti-French gangs. been defined in a clear and lasting Meeting in the village of Ondarroa, however, Spanish Basque fisher men vowed that despite the increased security, they would renew attack: said that the encounter between Mr. Reagan and Mr. Mitterrand in that have resulted in the burning of more than 20 foreign trucks. The fishermen are protesting the French naval action March 7 against two Spanish trawlers that were fishing illegally in the Bay of Biscay.

The authorities said that more than 600 foreign trucks rolled across the border into Spain on Thursday in the first two hours of the borde opening in convoys of up to 15 rigs escorted by Basque police vans. The lockade began late Monday.

Poland Reported to Arrest Academics

WARSAW (UPI) - Police arrested about 25 academics and seize opposition literature during a raid on the Jagellonian University i Krakow, university sources said Thursday.

Diplomatic sources in Warsaw said the raid, which happened Marc. 12, was a sign that the Polish authorities were clamping down o opposition groups. One of those arrested was still detailed Thursday, but the other transfer of the said that the polish authorities were clamping down of the said that the polish authorities were clamping down of the said that the polish authorities were clamping down of the said that the polish authorities were clamping down of the said that the polish authorities were clamping down of the said that the polish authorities were clamping that the polish authorities were clamping that the polish authorities were clamping to the polish authorities were clamping the others were released after 48 hours, the sources said.

The raid was one of the toughest crackdowns on academics since th imposition of martial law on Dec. 13, 1981, according to the source They said those arrested would be tried on charges of spreading illeg:

More Japanese Loans Seen for China

TOKYO (LAT) -- Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone of Japan : expected to pledge a seven-year package of $2.1 billion in loans for seve Chinese economic development projects when he visits Beijing on Friday Japanese diplomats said Thursday.

The new aid, for railroads, harbors and power stations, follows a five year package of $1.3 billion in official aid that ends March 31. M Nakasone also is expected to announce grants of $26.7 million for telecommunications training center and a meat-processing research inst

The diplomats said the new credits were expected to help increase two way trade, which last year exceeded $10 billion, more than twice the $4. billion level of U.S.-China trade. They added that the credits realfin-Japan's long-term political commitment to assisting Chinese develor

For the Record

The West German government has agreed to export two submarines: Chile, an Economics Ministry spokesman said Thursday. Production the 1,500-ton submarines, worth 300 million Deutsche marks ($11 million) was approved in 1980, but delivery was delayed for fear that it sale to the Chilean junta would damage West Germany's internation

Two American yachts carrying 19 people were back on course Jamaica on Thursday after spending a day detained in Cuba because the vessels sailed too close to the island during a race. (AP)

Mitterrand, Reagan Agree on Need Soviet Is Building Base For Reopening of East-West Talks On Island, Report Says

LISBON - Moscow is trans- are stationed

Angola, situated 600 miles (972 forming the African island nation kilometers) southeast of São Tomé of São Tomé and Principe into a South Atlantic military stronghold and Principe, agreed to a cease-fire with radar, ground-to-air missile with South Africa on Feb. 16. Anand submarine facilities, according gola's president, José Eduardo dos Santos, went to Havana this week, The Agencia Noticiosa Porturenortedly to discuss a framework for the gradual withdrawal of the guesa, quoting Western diplomats in the tiny archipelago, said Tues-day that about 2,000 Soviet and Cuban force. The Portuguese agency cited its sources as saying that President Manuel Pinto da Costa's leftist. Cuban troops were manning at least three military facilities on the island, which is on the oil tanker single-party island regime also benefited from the protection of about 2,000 Angolan soldiers stationed in route around the Cape of Good the country of 100,000 people.

The unidentified diplomatic Soviet and Cuban troops built sources were quoted as saying that Moscow was establishing its mili-tary presence "in force" in the and were manning two radar stations and a submarine port equipped with ground-to-air mis-siles on the main island, São Tomé, country to counterbalance a possible loss of influence in Angola,

> There have been repeated rumors of Soviet bases since the island gained independence from grouping and heir to a nationalist Portugal in 1975.

3 Die in Collision of U.S. Jets United Press International

DIME, Alabama — Two T-38 Talon air force jets, flying in a four-plane formation, collided and ex-NEW YORK 10021 CABLE: THECARLYLE NEWYORK TELEX: 620692 ploded Wednesday, killing three, fliers. A fourth flier ejected and received only minor injuries.

Opposition Paper Appears in Egypt

CAIRO — The first issue of a ened during the past year because new opposition newspaper, al-Wafd, appeared on newsstands throughout Egypt Thursday mornand the previously uninhabited ising, heralding what its sponsors let of Rolas, the report from Lisbon hope will be a resurgence of the political party behind it.

The weekly is the organ of the French Socialist leader on the New Wafd Party, a right-of-center White House lawn, Mr. Reagan praised Mr. Mitterrand for his movement formed in 1919 to oppose the British occupation of handling "international challenges that tested the character of Western Egypt. It is a revival of an old party known as the Wafd, or Delegation, and which was firmly rooted in the urban middle class. The Wafd Parthat the U.S. could rely on France ty was disbanded in 1953 along as "as a constant ally that can be with other parties. Noman Gomaa, assistant secrecontribution" to the search for tary-general of the New Wafd. said world peace. Thursday the party has about a cial visit appeared designed to sig-nal the Kremin that the Atlantic alliance has weathered a challenge WASHINGTON - President to its cohesion after the buildup of Ronald Reagan and President Soviet SS-20 missiles targeted on François Mitterrand agreed Thursday on the need for a reopening in East-West dialogue after the diplo-

Western Europe.

Both French and U.S. officials share the view that a display of Western unity will eventually force Moscow to resume arms negotiations broken off late last year after the deployment of cruise and Per-

None of the U.S. missiles were deployed in France, which withdrew from NATO's integrated military command structure in 1966. However, it continues to take part in political consultations, and Mr. Mitterrand publicly endorsed the NATO missile deployment and urged other West European leaders to accept the weapons.

Thursday's grandiose arrival ceremonies at the White House, which included marching bands, trumpeters and a 21-gun salute, were seen by U.S. officials as a way of expressing gratitude for Mr. Mitterrand's pro-Atlanticist foreign po-

It contrasted with misgivings in Washington over the appointment of four Communist ministers in the Socialist-led government after Mr. Mitterrand's election victory in

In his speech to Congress, Mr. Mitterrand insisted that the balance of forces between East and West was "the primary guarantee

"This is why," he said, "when we perceive this balance to have been broken, as was recently the case with intermediate-range nuclear weapons, we do everything in our power to restore it.'

He added: "But at the same time let us remain open, let us not beafraid to enter into dialogue with the Soviet Union once the bases and purposes of such talks have

Both French and U.S. officials

the Oval Office was devoted almost exclusively to a review of East-

The White House press spokesman, Larry M. Speakes, said that the two leaders had participated in "a philosophic, introspective examination of world affairs with considerable focus on the underly-

A French presidential spokes-man, Michel Vanzelle, said that there had been a "convergence of views" between the two leaders on

Mitterrand Plans

PARIS - François Mitterrand

revealed Thursday that he planned to visit the Soviet Union for the first time as president of France,

In an interview in the magazine probably this year.

Visit to Moscow

ing foundations of Soviet behav

West relations.

Paris-Match, Mr. Mitterrand said that events in Afghanistan and Po-land, which had held him back from visiting Moscow in the past, must still be condemned. However France had been resolute in standing up to the Soviet Union, especially in pressing for a balance between opposing forces in Europe, and it is unlikely that it could be accused of weakness,

"France is working for peace and is highly conscious both of the position of the U.S.S.R. in the world and of our historically friendly relations with the Russian people," he said. Mr. Mitterrand visited Moscow in 1975 as president of the French Socialist Party.

reputation (Reuters)

(Continued from Page 1) mained a major source of human

he had never received any money

U.S. officials said the use of Colinvolved the agency directly or in-onel Carranza as a paid informant port to the defense minister. directly in sanctioning death was part of the CIA's effort to John N. McMahon, the monitor military and political de-velopments, including power strug-gles within the Salvadoran military. When he was recruited by the CIA in the late 1970s, he was the deputy rights abuses.

Salvadoran Is Said to Be Paid CLA Informant

Intelligence officials said CIA ship," he said.] operations in El Salvador had not directly in sanctioning death squads. An agency spokesman, George V. Lander, refused to confirm or deny that Colonel Carranza had been an informant.

[Colonel Carranza, interviewed Thursday by The Associated Press at his office in San Salvador, said active in efforts to counter guerrilla minister of defense. The Treasury Police, originally established to deal with revenue from the U.S. government in exchange for information.

["I have never received anything from the Americans except friend-"

["In the U.S. government in exchange for information.

Security forces in El Salvador. The involved on their own in activition others are the National Police and that the agency does not necessative that the agency does

John N. McMahon, the deputy John N. McMahon, the deputy director of central intelligence, in a death squads in El Salvador au recent appearance before the Senate Select Committee on Intelli-gence cited U.S. policy barring the use of agents or informants who were involved in assassinations, according to two members of the forces. Like the army, all three re-

One of the senators, who asked not to be identified, said the CIA had recently terminated its relahip with a Salvadoran security officer believed to be involved with the death squads even though be had been a valuable source of information. That former informant, the

Information linking Colonel Carranza to the CIA was initially provided by the former Salvadoran official who also implicated the colonel in the death squads.

In an interview, the former Salvadoran official accurately identi-fied the current CIA station chief in El Salvador and named his two immediate predecessors. His infor-mation about Colonel Carranza's connection to the CIA was confirmed by U.S. officials familiar with the agency's operations in El Salvador.

Salvauor.

The official, who was promised $50,000 by a group of critics of Reagan administration policies in Latin America if he would speak out, has asked to remain anonymous for fear of reprisals. He has received $29,500 of the $50,000.

U.S. officials said it was common for the CIA to recruit and pay senior military officers in foreign countries to provide information and to further U.S. interests. Many

WORLDWIDE ENTERTAINMENT

poche MOLLY BLOOM Jan. 7, 1981, cable to Washingt from the U.S. Embassy in San Sangador that named six Salvadors living in Miami as the source money, organization and planni for death-squad murders a threats. Mr. White was the Car administration's ambassador to Salvador and was dismissed President Ronald Reagan. Late Tuesday, as Mr. White

The former Salvadoran offici provided suitable men to carry o

■ Ex-Envoy Admits Error

Joanne Omang of The Washin ton Post reported from Washingto

Robert E. White, a former U

nbassador to El Salvador and leading critic of the Reagan admi-istration's policy there, has : knowledged that he may ha wrongly named a Salvadoran livi in the United States as one of :-

who had organized and financdeath-squad activity in El Salo, dor. Mr. White made the charge.

congressional testimony la.

subcommittee on Feb. 2 that 1

Reagan administration has knov for three years and has covered certain knowledge that Roberd'Aubuisson, a leading candidator president of El Salvador, is

He made public the contents o terrorist, a murderer and a leade death souads.'

Mr. White told a congression in the article in The New Yo repeating that testimony before Senate Foreign Relations Comm tee's subcommittee on Westi Hemisphere affairs, one of the Salvadorans appeared in the he ing room with his attorney a boxes of documents.

The attorney, Jerris Leona told the hearing that Mr. White I slandered Arturo Muyshondi, of San Salvador.

HARRY'S N.Y. BAR ®

Thorate:

Market No. 1911

Manager Land

Mehren Detrois in ...

¶'⊷ Vuo. ...

A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE Aburday := ...

g. Militar Who. Lon.

Miller Binds die is

Property of the party

विकास किया है।

Barrell of Laboratory Co.

ATTACHE TO SELECT A . .

AND RESERVED TO THE SECOND

Miration ...

Market .

MAN Profess

the the mary and

BOOK STOLEN

Mi were frame and that more in .

继续执行法

(4.1.4. 数公里表, 4.1.4.

MAN BENING IN

ment after d'. .

g of the case of best jude eter Lo.

The state of the state of

٠. 🕶 🕶 🎝

Market : 🗡

Designation of the Co.

A 100 199 1 1 1 1 1

- 48 (44)

海 李 · · · · ·

Agent (No. 1)

(dam) -:

Market and a 碘 森水 أنت كالماليطانين

See Trickel

$ 900 EST

page His 😑 🕆

A . Tr. The Test

a mark i restant i ri

garage design

ser the Project of

Charles Many and a

ibit Mattagas

in the strain to a molt.k. Mine. Ship

rucks End Spanish B

ported to treet led

Trade, Transport U.S. Stocks Report, Page 6

FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1984

IBM's 'Open Architecture' For PC Has Mixed Blessings

TECHNOLOGY

By DAVID E. SANGER

New York Times Service lmost nothing about the innards of an International Business Machines Corp. Personal Computer is secret, and that says almost everything, many believe, about the machine's success. By designing an "open architecture" system, made largely with off-the-shelf parts, the company enabled thousands of innovators to build small fortunes by writing programs for the computer, or making peripheral equipment that enhanced its powers.

No one benefited from that strategy more than IBM itself. Software sells computers, and more software - everything from financial spreadsheets to custom-designed programs - is available for the PC than any other microcomputer.

"Open architecture has been a tremendous boon to IBM." said Steven Ballmer, vice president of marketing for Microsoft Corp., the privately held Bellevue, Washington, company that designed the Personal Computer's operating system. But the open system has also had its disadvantages. And now there are hints - a small flurry of IBM announcements and a lot of industry speculation about future products - that the days of the open IBM system may

The open architecture system means IBM is not in full control of its computer's destiny.

Despite denials from the company, "there is every indication that IBM wants to regain control," said Michael Murphy, coeditor of the California Technology Stock Letter.

Indeed, for all its virtues, the open architecture system means IBM is not in full control of its computer's destiny. Because independent software makers do not need to rely on IBM for technical help in designing their products, they can price their programs at will — often raising the overall cost of running a Personal Computer much higher than the computer giant would Moreover, open architecture has also made it easy for dozens of manufacturers to turn out IBM-compatible computers. Should the IBM standard become immutable, Mr. Murphy and others say, it would likely benefit Japanese manufacturers, who would like nothing better than to aim their low-cost manufacturing technology at a sitting target.

All of this has been taken into account by IBM watchers, who scrutinize the company's moves with the care of a Kremlinologist reviewing the May Day linear atop the Lenin Mansoleum. And many of them expect that the next generation of IBM Personal Computers will be built around a "proprietary" microprocessor and perhaps even a new operating system.

or its part, IBM dismisses the speculation. "Open architecture has been responsible for tens of thousands of new products that are providing excellent value for users," the company said in a statement Wednesday. "We believe open architecture in this area is crucial to the discovery of new uses of personal

Most analysts remain unconvinced, saying that the first truly "proprietary" personal computer may be one expected later this year, capable of high-resolution graphics and displaying "windows" at high speed. Windows allow users to work on several documents at once. The high end of the line is also expected to allow multiple users, each at his own terminal, to share the power of the computer's microprocessor - much as computer users tap into larger minicomputers and mainframes.

Most analysts expect that the new IBM machine will be based on the Intel 80286, a sophisticated cousin of the 8088 microprocessor in the Personal Computer. It is faster and more efficient than the 8088, consolidating many of the functions of other chips on the Personal Computer's circuit board into one.

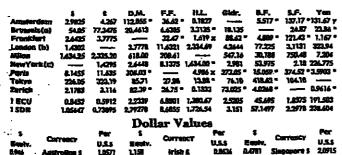

If the computer also made use of another processor, the Motorola 6800, users could also run programs under the popular UNIX operating system, developed by Bell Laboratories and long favored by engineers and other specialists.

Analysts say their suspicions about IBM's moves are fueled by recent events. Lisa Morgenthaler, an analyst for Woodman, Kirkpatrick & Gilbreath in San Francisco, points to two specialized models of the PC announced last fall, both incorporating circuit boards with proprietary parts and software. IBM has kept the details of both under wraps.

IA Informati On Wednesday, IBM offered a glimpse of its own prototype windowing package, in a program for brokers designed with

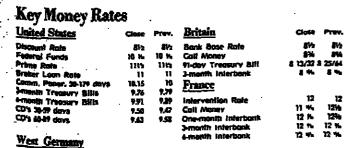

CURRENCY RATES

Late interbank rates on March 22, excluding fees.

INTEREST RATES

	En	TOCULT	ency I)eposi	ts			March 22
		Daller	Th.More	Swizs From:	SterBox	French Frenc	ECU	SDR
. 1	ik. 201, 201, 117,	10 % - 10 % 10 % - 10 % 10 % - 10 % 11 - 11% 11% - 11%	516 - 574 516 - 574 5 14 - 5 14 5 14 - 5 16 610 - 676	34 - 34 34 - 34 34 - 34 4 - 46	8% - 8% 8% - 8% 8% - 8% 8% - 8% 8% - 9%	1496 - 1596 15 %- 16 %- 1596 - 16 15 %- 16 %-	994 - 994 994 - 994 9 54 - 9 54 1046 - 1096	9% - 9% 9% - 9% 9% - 9% 9% - 10%

GOLD PRICES AM. PM. CI'R 392.85 391.95 - 0.99 391.49 - 1.09 391.53 391.37 - 0.22 391.95 390.25 - 2.59 391.46 389.25 - 1.09 387.26 - 4.50

All Eyes Are on the Fed as U.S. Economy Surges

BUSINESS/FINANCE

The Suspense Builds: Will It Tug the Reins?

By Peter T. Kilborn New York Times Service

WASHINGTON - On Tuesday, the government estimated that the economy is growing at an annual rate of 7.2 percent this quarter, far faster than even the administration says is healthy or wise. And one day earlier, the banks raised their prime interest rate for the first time since August.

With that, a lot of nervous attention - in the marketplace, in the White House, in Congress, in the treasuries of other countries and the counting rooms of industry — turned to the Federal Reserve Board, with fears rising that the central bank is causing or tolerating a new move toward higher borrowing costs.

NEWS ANALYSIS

With industrial activity now running at more than 80 percent of capacity and the economic expansion showing surprising vig-or, the Fed is worried that new inflationary forces are building and need to be checked by a slower pace of business growth.

Some administration aides, including senior White house and Treasury officials, fear that higher interest rates before Election Day could damage the president's chances of re-election. And as these officials have done intermittently for three years, they seem disposed to blame the Fed for the prospect of higher rates.

So the Fed may be at one of those cross-roads where it could shove the economy in a new direction, as it did four and a half years ago, when a shift - to a severe curb on the availability of money - precipitated a deep recession that produced a welcome decline in

Whether the Fed should tighten the reins again to cool down the economy is likely to be the subject of a good deal of election-year debate and perhaps acrimony.

Next Monday and Tuesday, the central bank's 12-member policy-making panel, the Federal Open Market Committee, will convene behind closed doors, as it does eight times a year, to consider the trends it sees in the economy and how to deal with them.

It is a more important meeting than most. The long battle in the administration and Congress over budget deficits has blunted two important tools of economic policy taxation and spending. Thus the focus on the Fed, which is left with the only other tool, its control over credit and - directly and indirectly - over interest rates, chiefly shortterm rates.

At a time when voters vote their pocketbooks, the Fed is beginning to feel the pressure from the White House and Congress. "They are really in a trap with anything they try to do in this situation," said Robert V. Roosa, a partner of Brown Brothers Harriman in New York.

Paul A. Volcker, the Fed chairman, insists he ignores political influences, and his record seems to bear this out. But the pressures this year are as severe as they have ever been: If the Fed elects to curb the economy - to contain inflation — when Congress or the White House wants the Fed to spur recovery, the central bank could face another chorus of demands to restrict its independence.

If it relaxes its restraints on the growth of the money supply, and thus lets interest rates fall, stock prices might rise, in anticipation of another year of lusty industrial growth. But the bond market might see such relaxation as a recipe for more inflation and thus force up ong-term interest rates.

And the Fed must also be mindful of the eveloping world's debt. The payments that debtor countries must make on nearly all of the debt are linked to U.S. interest rates, Mr. Roosa said. As U.S. rates rise, so does the risk to both the earnings of U.S. creditor banks and the health of the world economy.

Most economists doubt that the Fed had much to do directly with the rise in the prime rate and the chain of other rates -on federal funds, or overnight loans between banks; on (Continued on Page 13, Col. 6) analyst at the London stockbroker-age of de Zoete & Bevan, said the new structure does not seem to al-

He expressed the widely held view that Philip Morris originally bought into Rothmans as a way of blocking a similar move by R.J. Reynolds Industries Inc., another big U.S. cigarette maker. In the long-term, he said, it would make sense for Philip Morris to try to ter the underlying situation.

Durables Orders $\mathbf{Fell}\ \mathbf{1.2\%}\ \mathbf{in}\ \mathbf{U.S.}$ For February WASHINGTON - Durable-goods orders declined 1.2 percent in February, the first drop in seven months, the government reported

The Commerce Department said orders for durable goods — products expected to last three or more years — fell to $99.7 billion following a sharp rise of 2.8 percent in January. The February decline was the first since a 2.9-percent drop in Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige said that, while new orders fell, the backlog of unfilled orders continued its yearlong rise.

"Inventories are still lean, so durables production promises to continue to contribute substantially to economic growth," he said. Even with the February decline, he said, new orders were up 3.5 percent from the average posted in the final three months of 1983.

The decline was led by an 8.8percent plunge in orders for steel and other primary metals, following a 17.8-percent rise in this category in January. The decline left orders at $11.5 billion, still well above their low of $7.1 billion in October 1982.

The department said activity in the metals industry had "been showing a strong upward trend" despite the fluctuations since the depths of the 1981-82 recession.

Nondefense capital goods saw an increase of 1.7 percent in February, identical to the January rise. This area reflects industry's plans to add equipment for future production and is considered a key barometer of future business activi-

Many economists are expecting the current economic recovery to be sustained this year by increases in business investment as the surge in consumer spending begins to taper off.

Orders for machinery fell 3.8 percent, following a 0.2-percent rise in January. The decline reflected similar falls in the electrical and nonelectrical machinery segments. The new level of $31.3 billion was still up from the low point reached a year earlier of $24.7 bil-

Transportation-equipment orders were up 4.1 percent following a 0.5-percent rise in January.

In the defense category, orders were up 5.1 percent following a decline of 25.1 percent in January. Orders for household durable goods fell 11.8 percent following a 5.3-percent increase the month be-

Shipments in February were up 0.1 percent to $95.3 billion. The latest report reinforced indications from some segments of the economy that January's exceptionally strong progress was tempered by a slowdown the following

Baldrige Says Deficits Cause Too-High Dollar

WASHINGTON - U.S. Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige said Thursday that high budget deficits were causing the dollar to be overvalued - a view contrasting with recent statements by Treasury Secretary Donald T. Regan. Mr. Baldrige told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce that he did not foresee a quick solution to the currency-exchange problem, which he said could be solved only by reducing the def-

Mr. Regan said recently that comparisons of exchange rates in past years between the dollar and other currencies did not indicate that the dollar was overvalued, But Mr. Baldrige said, "Whether or not you feel that other currencies are undervahed, I would agree that the dol-lar is too high."

He said negotiations were taking place between the Treasury and Japanese leaders to increase the international use of the yen so that it would strengthen against the dollar.

U.S. M-1 Up Philip Morris Says It Restructured $4 Billion in Holding in Rothmans International Latest Week By Bob Hagerty in Rothmans International. are likely to challenge the arrange-International Herald Tribune United Press Intern But West Germany's cartel of-LONDON - Philip Morris Inc. NEW YORK - The narrowest Nyren Scott-Malden, tobacco fice said it had rejected the plan on measure of the U.S. money supply, known as M-1, rose $4 billion in the latest statistical week, the Federal Reserve Board said Thursday. Short-term borrowing also surged, signaling a possibility of further upward pressure on interest rates.

"The money-supply rise had been fully discounted in the bond market, which already was down sharply on a host of other bad said William V. Sullivan Jr., senior vice president at Dean Wit-ter Reynolds. "The consistent rise in the federal funds rate has out unward pressure on open-market yields, and if credit demand continues to surge we can expect further

Mr. Sullivan noted that nonbank commercial paper, short-term notes issued by large corporations. rose $2.8 billion in the latest week, far above the normal seasonal Other data released by the Federal Reserve showed more than $1 billion in borrowings at the Fed's discount window, "nearly double the figure of a few weeks ago," Mr. Sullivan said. This indicates that banks are being forced to make up

The $4-billion increase in M-1 followed a $1.4-billion drop the previous week and leaves the money supply within $1 billion of the upper range of the Fed's growth Another negative for the credit markets was the "poor reception" given the Treasury's $8.25-billion two-year note auction Wednesday, Mr. Sullivan said.

M-1, comprising cash, checking accounts and similar accounts money that is available for immediate spending - was a seasonally adjusted average of $536.1 billion in the week that ended March 12, compared with $532.1 billion the said Thursday that it had restruc-tured its shareholding in Rothmans International PLC, the British tothe ground that Philip Morris still holds more than 25 percent of the equity in Rothmans. bacco company. Competitors also were uncon-But the move failed to quell vinced by the new arrangement. strong opposition from competi-"What's new?" asked a spokesman tors and from West Germany's cartel office, and analysts continue to speculate that Philip Morris evenfor BAT Industries PLC, the London-based tobacco giant. "What was anticompetitive in 1982 [when tually will try to take over Roththe EC challenged the shareholdmans. Such a move would create a ing] is even more anticompetitive in 1984." dominant company in the Europe-an Community, where Rothmans is The BAT spokesman said that the largest seller of cigarettes and Philip Morris is No. 2

The controversy stems from Philip Morris's $350-million purchase of an indirect stake in Rothmans in 1981. The U.S. tobacco, beer and soft-drinks giant acquired 50 percent of Rothmans Tobacco (Holdings) Ltd. from Rembrandt Group Ltd., which is controlled by Anion Rupert, a South African businessman. Rembrandt retained the other 50 percent. At the time of the transaction.

the holding company owned 44 percent of the equity and 50 percent of the voting rights in Roth-mans International. Thus, Philip Morris had an indirect stake in 22 percent of the equity.

Under the planned restructuring Philip Morris would sever the link to Rembrandt created by their joint ownership of the holding company. Philip Morris would directly own 24.9 percent of the voting rights and 30.8 percent of the equity of Rothmans International Rembrandt would own 44 percent of the voting rights and 30.8 percent of

The European Community Commission, which had objected to the original arrangement as anticompetitive, has given its blessing to the new plan. The commission apparently reasoned that the new structure reduces the scope for coprevious week. In the latest 13 ordination between Rembrandt weeks, M-I averaged a 6.5 percent and Philip Morris. It said Rembrandt no longer needs Philip Mor-

U.S. Agencies' Rule On Money Brokers Set By Nancy L Ross

Washington Post Service

WASHINGTON — The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, over objections from the administration and Congress, intend to issue a final regulation Monday that would virtually cut off brokered funds from banks and savings institutious, according to officials of the two agencies.

The regulation, effective Oct. I, would limit insured funds to $100,000 per money broker per institution. The agencies' chiefs insist that the measure is necessary be-cause about half of all financial a 13/22 a 25/64 institutions that have failed in the past two years have received large deposits generated by money brocredit unions, find banks offering advantageous terms.

> The proposal is basically the same one made several weeks ago. Although the agencies refused to say Wednesday if the resulting criticism had generated any changes, a source who has seen the draft rule said it will no longer require listing services to be covered as brokers. These services publish lists of institutions that offer the highest rates. ings on that legislation, there ap
> At a hearing on deregulation be-tee, the National Credit Union Administration's chairman, Edgar F. Callahan, said Wednesday that the change would not work because brokers would sell lists and banks would obtain deposits from the same sources without the middle-The FDIC chairman, William Isaac, replied that his agency would propose a rule to stop credit unions with funds to deposit from "shop-ping for the highest rates from lonsy banks." The comptroller of the currency,

C.T. Conover, expressed disap-pointment that the FDIC and Federal Home Loan Bank Board chiefs were unwilling to negotiate on the issue. He said he favored a ceiling of 15 percent of a bank's deposits kets. The brokers essentially help of 15 percent of a bank's deposits institutional depositors, such as in brokered funds, or twice the bank's capital. The committee chairman, Jake Garn, Republican of Utah, called the proposal overkill and said a compromise must be achieved. He added, however, that any such legislation would not be considered separately, only in the context of his omnibus Financial Services Competitive Equity Act.

In the next to last week of hear-

For the man with exceptional goals, a new dimension in banking services.

What makes Trade Development Bank exceptional? To start with, there is our policy of concentrating on things we do unusually well. For example, trade and export financing, foreign exchange and banknotes, money market transactions and precious metals.

Equally important, we are now even better placed to serve your needs, wherever you do business. Reason: We have recently joined American Express servative ratio of capital to International Banking Corporation, with its 64 offices in 36 countries, to bring you a whole new dimension in banking ser-While we move fast in serving our clients, we're distinctly traditionalist in our basic policies. At the heart of our business is the maintenance of a strong and diversified deposit base. Our Nassau, Panama City, Zurich. portfolio of assets is also welldiversified, and it is a point of principle with us to keep a condeposits and a high degree of liquidity-sensible strategies in these uncertain times.

If TDB sounds like the sort of bank you would entrust with your business, get in touch

TDB banks in Geneva. London, Paris, Luxembourg, Chiasso, Monte Carlo,

TDB is a member of the American Express Group, which has assets of US$ 38.6 billion and shareholders equity of US$ 3.7 billion.

Trade Development Bank

Shown at left, the head office of Trade Development Bank, Geneva.

An American Express Company

هكذامن الأحل

 \boldsymbol{z}

Campaign Strategists Why Plan for Slower Pace in Democratic Primaries

By Milton Coleman and Martin Schram Washington Post Service

WASHINGTON - Advisers to Walter F. Mondale, Senator Gary of the campaign," said Oliver Hen-Hart and the Rev. Jesse L. Jackson are planning their strategies for the next phase of the Democratic presidential campaign as the contest for the nomination moves beyond its initial round of scattered, rapid-fire primaries to a marathon of weekly

One-third of the convention's 3,933 delegates have been selected, but neither Mr. Mondale nor Mr. Hart could clearly claim the mantle of front-runner, even though Mr. Mondale had 640 delegates to Mr. Hart's 358 after final returns from Campaign strategists for the three candidates said that no one may have the 1,967 delegate votes needed to nominate at the end of the last primary day, June 5. There are five presidential primaries and cancuses that day, including California's important primary.

That would increase the likelihood that the selection would be made on the floor of the convention in San Francisco in mid-July, because by party rules no delegate is legally bound to the candidate of

Most-major contests are well spaced between now and the campaign's final Tuesday. They include the New York primary April 3, Pennsylvania primary April 10, the Missouri cancuses April 18, the tration.

Texas cancuses May 5 and the Ohio primary May 8.

"We want to get the campaign away from the ephemeral notion of momentum and back to the issues kel, Mr. Hart's campaign manager.
"There will be a lot of scrambling between June 6 and the conven-

Mr. Mondale, too, plans to be issue-oriented, his campaign chairman, James A. Johnson, said. But he noted the political advantage of Mr. Mondale's lead of nearly 300 delegates.

Mr. Jackson is counting not only issues and delegate votes, of which he has fewer than 80 now, but also the number of popular votes be

There's no question now that he commands a critical part of the electorate," said his deputy campaign manager, Preston Love. And that part is large enough and important enough that if he does not get the nomination, the nominee will have to deal with him." All three candidates showed signs Wednesday of the wear and tear of the early political sprints. Mr. Jackson and Mr. Hart both spent the better part of the day resting and meeting with advisers.

Mr. Mondale, who concentrated the campaign, headed west to New Mexico and California for fundraising events. Even though he said he was "pooped," Mr. Mondale stepped up attacks on the Reagan adminis-

his spending on the first phase of

Hinckley Letter to Reagan Tells Of 'Great Remorse' Over Shooting

WASHINGTON — John W. Hinckley Jr., who attempted to assassinate President Ronald Reagan in 1981, says he now has "great remorse for the pain I inflicted on so many people" in "a crazy

"I am very sorry for the shooting," Mr. Hinckley said in an open letter to Mr. Reagan, which he sent to The Washington Post. "I thank God no one died, but I still live with the fact that James Brady is partially paralyzed and his life is less than what it should be. The emotional pain that I caused is also tremendous, and I know your wife and family suffered greatly.

"I can only hope you and your family will forgive me for my past madness. I pray for the victims of the shooting every night, and God has been answering my prayers."

Mr. Hinckley, who has been confined to St. Elizabeths Hospital in Washington since he was found not guitty in the assassination attempt by reason of insanity, asked that the letter be published on the March 30 anniversary of the shooting.

Besides Mr. Reagan, three other persons were wounded: Mr. Brady, the president's press secretary, a Secret Service agent and a

Washington policeman. Mr. Brady is still undergoing therapy for a Walter F. Mondale displays a T-shirt given to him on his arrival in Los Angeles for fund-raising events in California.

"By the time we get past the nomination, I predict the Demo-cratic Party will be more unified the embassy from Tel Aviv to Jeruthan ever before," Mr. Mondale said in Albuquerque, New Mexico.
The main unifying factor will be the sleaze factor in this administration." This was a reference to allegations against Edwin Meese 3d, the president's nominee for attor-ney general, that led Mr. Meese to call Thursday for an investigation Thursday for an investigation

■ Candidates Spar Over Israel

by a special prosecutor.

Mr. Mondale accused Mr. Hart on Thursday of "a blatant political shift" as Mr. Hart apologized for a letter that differed from his statements on moving the U.S. Embassy in Israel, The Associated Press reported from Los Angeles.

Both candidates are seeking to advance their position among lewish voters, who have accounted for about a third of the Democratic primary turnout in New York City Mr. Hart, speaking in New York City, was asked to explain a letter sent out by his Senate office that suggested the U.S. Embassy in Israel be moved to Jerusalem only as part of overall effort to negotiate a Middle East peace treaty.

Mr. Hart said that if elected president, he would move the embassy without preconditions. As for the letter, he said, "I apologize for that ambiguity. It is unfortunate, I assume responsibility for it. But the letter does not reflect my position today or my position a year ago, or for that matter six At a news conference in Los Ansalem represented "a blatant politi-cal shift" just days after Mr. Hart had written to the Zionist Organization of America indicating another point of view. In the letter, Mr. Mondale said, Mr. Hart said the United States should not take sides in the matter unless agreement on the matter was reached by all sides. Mr. Mondale said he interpreted this to mean the various Arab factions in the Middle Fast, and "the chances of that are as great as the sun coming up from

■ Jackson Cites Race Factor Gerald M. Bayd of The New York Plan Exercises Times reported from Richmond, Vir-

Mr. Jackson, asked at a news conference Wednesday to explain the failure of most whites to support his presidential bid, said, Whites have developed over their history a lack of regard for the intelligence and hard work of black people."

Mr. Jackson's response represented one of the few times in recent weeks that he has tried to explain his lack of voting success among whites, particularly liberals, peace advocates and others who would seem to endorse his views.

Mr. Jackson, speaking on the campus of Virginia Union University, said. "It remains a moral chalenge to white leadership to make judgments based on character and not based upon race. I've seen slow movement. It's not fast enough."

Salvadoran Campaign Closes Quietly particularly from the capital, where they have adopted in the cam- that the election of Mr. d'Aubois-

By Richard J. Meislin

New York Times Service SAN SALVADOR - El Salvador's presidential campaign, which drew to a close Wednesday, was marked by less violence than the campaign two years ago.

No one is willing to predict whether the atmosphere of relative tranquillity will last through Sunday's voting. For the moment, however, what is not happening in San Salvador is more noticeable than "One of the most remarkable things about this campaign is how little violence there has been," said former President Jose Napoleon Duarte, the presidential candidate of the Christian Democratic Party.

None of the major candidates -Mr. Duarte, Roberto d'Aubuisson of the far-right Republican National Alliance and Francisco José Guerrero of the National Conciliation Party — had major public ap-pearances Wednesday, the last campaigning day before a three-day hiatus required by law.

To be sure, some violence persists. Three members of the Constituent Assembly were killed by unidentified gunmen during the campaign. Residents are still shaken from their sleep by an occasional bomb or the rattle of gunfire in the night. Power outages are not uncommon in the capital.

The Salvadoran military continues to battle the guerrillas in the countryside. But, although there have been brief outbreaks of new fighting in recent days in Suchitoto. San Miguel and San Vicente, there has been no major increase in activity since the guerrillas ended a major offensive in January. But almost entirely missing

U.S. Armed Forces

The Associated Press NORFOLK, Virginia - More than 30,000 military personnel from the U.S. armed forces will participate next month in one of the largest training exercises ever held in the Caribbean, the Atlantic Fleet announced Thursday.

The exercise, called Ocean Venture '84, will be conducted April 20 through May 6 in the Caribbean, the Gulf of Mexico, the Straits of Florida and the Atlantic Ocean.

Fleet officials said units taking part in the exercise include the aircraft carrier America and its battle the country. The two are considgroup, the army's 82d Airborne Di-ered the leaders in the election. vision, the 26th Marine Amphibiprotect sea lanes in the region.

particularly from the capital, where about one-third of the vote is expanded of the system of the system of the assemble of th of tension and intimidation that preceded the 1982 vote. Before that election, the guerrillas battling the government vowed to try to disrupt the voting through military action. Although a major disruption never came, the threat had the country in a state of anxi-

This time, the political-military council that nominally leads the guerrilla effort said in advance that although they thought the elections were a farce, they would not try to make them a "direct target" of military action.

The exiled opposition called for a national conference conducted by an appointed "government of broad participation," including representatives of all political fac-tions and sectors of Salvadoran society except that of Mr. d'Aubuis-

While two of the three top candidates, Mr. Duarte and Mr. Guerrero, are willing to hold talks with the guerrillas, no political force in the country is willing to forgo the election to do so.

A major opposition military leader, Joaquin Villalobos, leader of the People's Revolutionary Army, vowed last weekend that the guerrillas would "deepen" the war before, during and after" the election. But subsequent statements on the rebel radio station, Radio Venceremos, have only warned government officials and businessmen that they will face reprisals if they press subordinates to vote.

About the only direct rebel action taken to thwart the election has been the seizure of national identity cards in some villages. Under the election law, those without the cards will be unable to vote. It is in sharp contrast to the campaign of fear mounted by the guerrillas two years ago. The beavily armed security forces who regularly patrolled the streets of the capital in 1982 are seldom seen. Residents say the patrols are less frequent, or at least less visible, than they have been in

■ Magaña's Views

Robert J. McCartney of The Washington Post reported: President Alvaro Magaña of El Salvador, in an interview Wednesday, disputed suggestions that the election of either Mr. Duarte or Mr. d'Aubuisson would polarize and club-class passengers.

ous Unit, an amphibious task force, face June 1 after more than two traced the source of the contaminadestroyers, submarines and mine-sweepers and air force and Coast "If either one of them wins, it don. Guard units. The exercise is to seems to me that their government demonstrate U.S. capabilities to will not be 100 percent identified for the flights to the United States, with the polarized positions that Africa and the Gulf.

face a large fraction of the assembly against him," he said. "That's why I am not worried it will be an extreme government." Later, he said that the armed forces also would exert a restraining influence. In the interview, Mr. Magaña also made these points: • The United States is likely to continue to supply military and economic aid to El Salvador because Washington views the conntry as "fundamental" to U.S. secu-death squads, would create "difficulties" in obtaining congressional approval of new aid.

 The armed forces as a whole appear unlikely to stage a coup "at least for a whole year," assuming that the new president does not try to wrench the country in one direction or another politically.

El Salvador probably would not decide until after the election whether to participate in joint military exercises with U.S., Honduran and possibly Guatemalan troops in rity. He acknowledged, however, Honduras this summer.

2 More Convicted, 2 Acquitted In Rape in Massachusetts Bar men guilty of aggravated rape and two others not guilty in an assault on a woman in a tavern. The Superior Court jury re-turned guilty verdicts against John Cordeiro, 24, and Victor Raposo,

23. Aggravated rape carries a maximum life sentence. deiros, both 24 and no relation, were acquitted. Witnesses testified that they interfered with attempts separate trial growing out of the tuguese-American.

same incident. Those two, Daniel FALL RIVER, Massachusetts Silva, 27, and Joseph Vieira, 28, - A jury on Thursday found two were to be sentenced Friday, but the judge delayed it until at least All the defendants are Portuguese immigrants, and those con-victed could face deportation pro-The highly publicized incident um life sentence.

had drawn expressions of indignation across the United States. Parts of the trials were broadcast on ca-

Some members of New Bedto stop or report the rape, but no ford's Portuguese community conone implicated them directly in the tended that Mr. Silva and Mr. attack on March 6, 1983, at Big Veiera were convicted because of Dan's tavern in New Bedford, their nationality. But District Attorney Ronald Pina, a Portuguese-Two other men were convicted American, has rejected the claims Saturday of aggravated rape in a of prejudice. The victim is also Por-

Food Poisoning Traced to Airline In-Flight Meals

New York Times Service

NEW YORK --- About 100 passengers and crew members contracted salmonella food poisoning from hors d'oeuvres served aboard 13 British Airways flights March 12

Officials at the Federal Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta announced that the sicknesses had been traced to food served aboard Concorde flights and to first-class

An epidemiologist at the Federal Center for Dissease Control in At-Mr. Magaña, who is to leave of lanta said airline officials have

The caterer provided the meals

"And there's so much space for your!

All KLM (4) and 20 and flights are offering a completely renewed Business Class. Just look at the many improvements and advantages: NEW 31 MCH WARE STATE "And these seats are so much wider."

"That's new, too".

all Business Class seats are 41/2 inches wider, giving you more room than ever before. There are 38 comfortable "EN DARFERST" "And most of them are two-abreast."

"That's new as well".

two-abreast. Comfortably padded electronic headphones with full stereo sound, free-of-charge. A 30 kilo baggage allowance, 10 kilos more than before. NEW ELECTRONIC

And naturally, all drinks, including champagne, are free. Why not experience the difference for yourself? Test us, try us, fly us. Call inches of space for your legs. Most seats are your travel agent or KLM for full details. LM's new intercontinental Business Class. All that space makes all the difference.

The Reliable Airline KLN

Another Half a Point

The banks' prime interest rates reflect, at least roughly, the rates that the banks have to offer to attract deposits. Those rates are set in the great continuous auction of the money markets, and in the past year they have been rising. The U.S. government is having to pay higher interest to attract the money necessary to finance its budget deficit, and private business has to bid against it to finance its own expansion. The prime rate, 10.5 percent a year ago, went to 11 percent in August. Now it has risen again, to 11.5 percent.

At the same time, the Commerce Department published America's international accounts for 1983. There is a link between the movement of the domestic interest rates and financial flows with the rest of the world. The deficit in the current account set a new record, increasing steadily and rapidly throughout the year. The current account is a broad and illuminating measure of the country's international financial position; it includes merchandise imports and exports and also net earnings on services and investments abroad The current account deficit is an important number because it represents the extent to which the rest of the world is financing the U.S. economy by accepting IOUs in dollars.

The government's budget deficit, by forcing up interest rates, has induced foreigners to lend to America. But what happens if those foreigners decide, as a good many have decided in recent months, to pull out their money and send it somewhere else? Then the dollar falls on the foreign exchange markets, and interest rates rise, as government and business in America compete still more aggressively for a diminishing supply of credit. Both effects— the declining dollar and the rising rates—have been clearly visible since mid-January.

American politics is poorly equipped to deal with the international effects of its internal mistakes. The prevailing ideas about economic policy were formed in the country in the 1950s and 60s, a period of fixed exchange rates and massive American domination of world markets. There is not much in American experience to prepare either politicians or voters for the kind of instability that international deficits on the present scale, and swings in the value of the currency, can generate. Relying on foreigners to finance U.S. public spending has been convenient in the very short run, but it has created a degree of economic vulnerability that is now becoming apparent.

- THE WASHINGTON POST.

Toying With Jerusalem

And now that unguided missile called American diplomacy is aimed at Jerusalem. For reasons that have more to do with politics in the United States than the Middle East, Congress clamors to have the American Embassy in Israel moved from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. For reasons that sound cowardly but are rooted in prudence, the Reagan administration clumsily pleads for the agitation to stop.

The sponsors of the bill note that Jerusalem is the only capital denied full respect by America. They call it craven appeasement of Arab opinion. Mr. Reagan replies that his diplomats treat Jerusalem as Israel's capital but that actually moving there would ignite an anti-American explosion in the Moslem world. What Congress ignores is the adage: If it ain't broke, don't fix it. What Mr. Reagan ignores is his capacity to end this needless controversy by dealing firmly but justly with Israel.

Jerusalem is a city of storied beauty, holy to three religions. It has been reunited and brilliantly administered by Israel since 1967, when Jordan lost the eastern half in a war it should never have joined. The city's 300,000 Jews and 100,000 Arabs, although in no sense integrated, have prospered and forged relationships that diplomats cannot formally acknowledge.

West Jerusalem has been Israel's capital for 36 years. The walled Old City with its Christian, Jewish and Moslem shrines has been safe and open to all worshippers for 17 years. East Jerusalem, although recently made nearly half-Jewish, remains a vibrant Arab center linked commercially, culturally and politically with Jordan. Given the passions that attach to Jerusalem's every rock, the city's daily life is a remarkable testament to accommodation.

If ever a true Arab-Israeli peace is written. Jerusalem would be the most difficult paragraph. Diplomats tried writing one at Camp David and almost wrecked the talks. They would not even agree to record their disagreements. Israel claims sovereignty over all Jerusalem. Egypt claims that at least East Jerusalem is sovereign Arab soil. America thinks that until the city's future is negotiated, East Jerusalem is "occupied" territory.

All Israelis are determined to hold all Jerusalem forever. But many want the issue to lie dormant, to keep the city peaceful until other disputes are resolved. And at least between election years, American leaders have been content to let the matter lie, so as to preserve hope for Arab-Israeli negotiations.

In that spirit, President Reagan's quiet message to Tel Aviv -- or rather, Jerusalem -should be easy to compose: I'll move the embassy tomorrow, if you insist, but to your "juridical" capital of "West Jerusalem." If I move, I shall also have to proclaim at every turn that East Jerusalem is "occupied" and that its borders and status are unsettled.

It is hard to believe that Israel wants to revive such conflict with America. So why are politicians playing with this flame? If there is a evance, it is for Israel to press, not Congress. — THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Other Opinion

Europe and the Third World

[African, Caribbean and Pacific countries booe the European Community will surmount its summit failure.] They would like to believe that because a united Community is easier to negotiate with than a dismembered Europe. A European common market would also enable its industries to pick up faster from the throes of inflation. This would stimulate demand for imports from ACP countries.

ACP countries believe, too, that an economically strong Europe would address itself more seriously to the deteriorating terms of trade. A strong Europe may also find it easier to give investments the importance they deserve. Only investments - joint ones between private individuals and institutions, if necessary - can give ACP countries the economic dose they require to stay afloat.

- The Daily Nation (Nairobi).

Mitterrand Visits America

François Mitterrand is a socialist who disagrees with much that the United States does in the world, but he is also a patriot whose common sense tells him that, in the things that matter, France and America stand together. His visit should be viewed in that light.

During most of the years since World War II there has been a certain anti-Americanism in France. The late Charles de Gaulle tended to define French independence in terms of separateness from American policy. One would have thought that these differences would have been especially pronounced in an era in which France was led by Mr. Mitterrand, a convinced socialist, and the United States was led by Ronald Reagan, an ideological conservative. Things haven't worked out that way. France, to be sure, still has a view of Third World problems that is different from that of the United States. Also, the French, along with other Europeans, are very upset over the Reagan economic policies that translate into high interest rates and an overvalued dollar. But Mr. Mitterrand has kept his eyes on something more important — the ability of the West to cope with Soviet bullying.

The French leader has used his considerable political weight to warn West Germans not to fall victim to the temptation to play Washington against Moscow for reasons of domestic German politics. [He] has been the staunchest supporter of the NATO plan for deploying U.S.-made missiles as an offset against the Soviet SS-20 missiles that are already in place.

in truth, the evolution of French attitudes reflects far more than a change in leadership. It also involves a dramatic shift in the view of French intellectuals, who are no longer inclined to give the Soviet Union the benefit of the doubt. At a time when the West German political situation is in flux, Americans have a special reason to appreciate Mr. Mitterrand's France as a solid anchor of the West.

- The Los Angeles Times.

Some Lebanese Aren't Ready National reconciliation in Lebanon failed because not enough people are yet ready for it: Too many believe that if they hang on longer, almost certainly with a few more rounds of bloodletting, they will get more than was on offer in the artificial environs of Lausanne.

- The Guardian (London).

FROM OUR MARCH 23 PAGES, 75 AND 50 YEARS AGO

1909: Carrie Nation Assails English NEW YORK - The Baltic arrived [on March 21] with Mrs. Carrie Nation in the second cabin, whose other occupants had a tempestu-ous voyage. Stewards said that Mrs. Nation snatched cigars and cigarettes from the mouths of passengers and made the voyage still more miserable by denouncing them when they took alcoholic drinks. She escaped being put in irons. Mrs. Nation harangued reporters at the dock on observations she made in England. She said: "Nobody in England has an original thought. I never saw so many cowards. Even the clergymen are cowards. It is because they don't want to lose their meal tickets. I never saw so many men and women drunkards as in London. Whatever political differences there may be between the Liberals, the Tories and the Laborites, they are all for rum."

1934: Fire Devastates Japanese Port HAKODATE, Japan - At least 1,000 persons have lost their lives, while 120,000 have been rendered homeless by a fire which laid waste to two-thirds of Hakodate [on March 21] and is still smoldering in the ruins of the city. Another 2,000 persons are still unaccounted for and it is feared that the final death toll may be double the present official estimate. Thousands fled to the hills above the town where they sought such shelter as could be found from the bitter cold. The fire was caused by the toppling over of a chimney shaft of the Hako-date public baths, the resulting blaze being swept through the city by a strong wind. While it is still impossible to ascertain the extent of the damage, it is estimated at $8,000,000. Hakodate is a seaport and industrial centre on the Island of Hokkaido, northern Japan.

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE JOHN HAY WHITNEY, Chairman 1958-1982

KATHARINE GRAHAM, WILLIAM S. PALEY, ARTHUR OCHS SULZBERGER

LEE W. HUEBNER, Publisher RENÉ BONDY
FRANÇOIS DESMAISONS
RICHARD H. MORGAN
STEPHAN W. CONAWAY

Deputy Publisher

Deputy Publishe PHILIP ML FOISIE Executive Editor Editor WALTER WELLS ROBERT K. McCABE

CARL GEWIRTZ International Herald Tribune, 181 Avenue Charles-de-Ganlle, 92200 Neuilly-sur-Seine, France, Telephone: 747-1265, Telex: 612718 (Herald). Cables Herald Paris.

Directeur de la publication: Walter N. Thayer.

Gen. Mgr. Asia: Alain Lecaur. 24-34 Hennessy Rd., Hong Kong, Tel. 5-285618. Telex 61170. Managing Dir. U.K.: Robin MacKichan, 63 Long Acre, London W.C., Tel. 836-4802. Telex 262009.

S.A. au capital de 1.200,000 F. RCS Nanterre B 73201136. Commission Paristaire No. 34231. U.S. subscription: $280 yearly, Second-class postage paid at Long Island City, N.Y. 11101. © 1984, International Herald Tribune. All rights reserved.

Khomeini May Be on the Verge of a Sweep

WASHINGTON — President Reagan, his eyes W fixed on the Kremlin, had better take a good look at Iran. Ayatollah Khomeini may be on the point of precipitating one of the biggest geopoliti-cal upheavals since World War IL

Reports from the front indicate that Iran's forces may be nearing a breakthrough. According to military analysts, Iraq, heavily outnumbered, is being exhausted by Iran's relentless human-wave offensives. Apparent use of poison gas may be a sign of Iraqi desperation. A forthcoming Iranian offensive could sweep the Iraqis away.

President Reagan's recent public statements indicate a growing awareness of the danger of an Iranian victory. But the concerns he has expressed are for the Gulf as a waterway. In fact the threat is more serious than that.

U.S. strategic thinking has for so long been oriented toward the Mediterranean edge of the Fertile Crescent that it has scarcely taken account of the perils that an underarmed but highly motivated army can present on the eastern flank.

Ayatollah Khomeini, apart from his religious realory, stands for an Iran which for centuries has challenged the Arab world. If he succeeds in occu-pying Baghdad, or in bringing down Iraq's Presi-dent Saddam Hussein, it would be naive to believe that his appetite would be satisfied.

Mr. Hussein's regime offends the ayatollah, who, during years of exile in Iraq, worked tirelessly to subvert its secular, socialist-oriented tenets. Mr. Hussein, himself a tyrant, started the war. His reason, he says, was to save Iraq from Ayatollah Khomeim's attempt to set up the kind of radical theocracy he established in Iran.

By Milton Viorst

The avatollah's target is not just Iraq, however. No Arab regime is Persian enough or pure enough to meet his exaited standards.

If Iran's army vanquishes Iraq, it would almost surely turn south to swallow up the pro-Western oil states — Kuwait, Qatar, Bahrain — on the shore of the Gulf. Sandi Arabia is unlikely to organize itself to resist. It is not farfetched to imagine Iran acquiring control of all the oil on the Gulf's periphery. Would the ayatollah stop there? Islamic fundamentalists who are already installed in every Arab state would serve as a fifth column, preparing the way for his armed forces.

Hafez al-Assad's Syria, currently riding high as master of Lebanon, recently fought a nasty little civil war against fundamentalists at home. Although he has taken Iran's side in the current war, Mr. Assad subscribes to the same Baathist tenets as Iraq. Most Arabs would bet their worry beads that Ayatollah Khomeini in victory would not show Mr. Assad the slightest pity. The ayatollah already has a beachhead among Islamic fundamentalists in elections in Jordan demonstrates that even there he has support. Israel is almost surely his ultimate target. If America, as was learned during the hostage crisis of 1979-81, is a Big Satan, Israel is Satan on only a smaller scale, Israel has been slow to see this. It exploited traditional Persian-Arab hostility to befriend the late shah. It remained beloful to Iran after Ayatollah Khomeini took over, supplying arms and ignoring vicious anti-Israeli slogans. Quite possibly the Khomeini regime would not have survived the early stage of the war, which Iraq dominated, without Israeli weapons. There is evidence, even now, that Israel is buying Iranian oil the Shiites in Lebanon. The recent victory of three and shipping military supplies in return.

Mr. Reagan's record in Lebanon, and Israel's, show how vulnerable both are to surprises. They could wake up one morning to find Ayatollah Khomeini installed on the Jordan River.

Mr. Reagan remains obsessed with the Russians, a relatively feeble force in the Middle East, and the Israelis with the Arabs, who have not for years had the capacity to do them serious damage. But the security situation in the Middle East is changing ominously. Staying faithful to the old strategic clichés could prove disastrous.

The writer, a specialist in Middle East affairs, contributed this article to The Washington Post.

A Southern British Watershed?

Africa, Things are so bad in the neighboring Marxist countries the seek respite from Pretoria's pressur may record the events as a watershe

as the start away from violence

the long black of But, in the longer term, histor the long black-white struggle is southern Africa. That is to be we comed, even if for now it appears strengthen the regime of apartheid Extremes always reinforce eacher. The bloodier the combat, the more South African hard-liners have been convinced that not only the power and privilege but the very su vival of white Africans is at stak Who can say that a reversal of ci cumstance, a prospect of grown security rather than mounting co flict, will not gradually relax attitud-and isolate the diehards?

No doubt that will not happe automatically. Wisdom and moralit however, must weigh on the side of encouraging what forces there are 6 conciliation and political maneuver To be blunt, the experience been dreadful. Revolution and wa of liberation proved effective only for

There are important differences in the cases of Mozambique and Angonow. Samora Machel's regime lo control of large parts of Mozambiqu to South African-backed rebels. Th economy collapsed, aggravated by long drought. In return for denying base to the African National Co-

gress, he will gain breathing space. Angola, earning dollars from i Gulf Oil Company, is in somewhabetter shape, although it has to pa an estimated $5 to $6 million a mont for Cuban troops. The key issue wit South Africa is not over activities i the Republic itself but in Namibia.

does seem to be a mutual desire for way out of the long confrontation. South Africa's purposes are clea

The formal ceremony with Mr. Mr. chel, the most militant of the "fron line" leaders, was a major breach i ers and enforce racism at home. flict in the region and racism in Sout Africa is in the global interest of th tempt to preserve their beleaguere revolutionary regimes or as a tur toward the West. The less their nee tries will rely on ties to Moscow.

The next critical step is a Namitan settlement, which will surelling an authorized from Ang. have to deal with the finance ministers, says one knowledgeable European. The crisis in the European Community does not augur well for create by its demand that the Cuban European collaboration on anything. promise to leave first. With that exvarious initiatives all the more valuable, if only in relative terms. He is amove Pretoria toward wider peace. It seems wildly optimistic voke superpower confrontation. Buthe possibility may be coming. The United States should seize the opportunities of the composition of the composi tunity. It could break the deadlock. The New York Times.

Where 'to Run for Office Is To Run for the Cemetery'

By Guillermo Ungo

The writer is president of the Democratic Revolutionary Front of El Salvador and a vice president of the Socialist Interna-

D ANAMA CITY — The presi-I dential election in El Salvador on Sunday will not be free or democratic. Nor will it contribute to a resolution of the main problems of the country — war, military dictatorship, widespread violations of human rights, economic and politi-cal crises and foreign intervention. The election takes place in a setting very different from that of a election. It is being held in the midst of a full-scale war that now spreads over most of the country. More than 45,000 people, almost I percent of the population, have been killed in the last four years by death squads and the armed forces. Hundreds of people are under arrest or have disappeared.

All independent press and broad-casting has been destroyed by the army and the oligarchy. What is left of the press is controlled by the hard right and the armed forces. Free campaigns and political organizing are impossible in this atmosphere of repression, fear and death. For members of the opposition to run for office is to run for the cemetery. In this atmosphere, the opposition feels that an election is premature. We believe that peace, justice, respect for human rights and the foundations of a democratic system — the conditions for free and democratic elections — must come first. This is precisely what we want and propose. Thereafter, we would be ready for general elections. The approaching election, far from improving the political situation, has instead already worsened it. Victory for any of the three candidates running for president could easily lead to a coup d'état. It could also lead to the formation of a weaker and less stable government than the present one, a government that would have less support and more contradictions, both nationally and internationally

The decision to hold this election was made by and for Washington. The outcome will prolong the war and make increased U.S. military aid necessary. It may be used to justify direct military intervention to save what will be called "a democratically elected government." We in the opposition believe that there is a better way. On Feb. 9, in Mexico City, the Salvadoran oppo-sition announced a detailed proposal for a broad-based provisional government that would lead to general elections within a relatively short time. We in the opposition are committed to elections through negotiations. We would hope in this way to bring about the first Salvadoran elections not abused by the oligarchy and the army. Only in this way can we help Salvadorans to regain (aith in the electoral process.

The options are clear: a military or a political solution, intervention or power-sharing. The best is a broad-based coalition government to achieve peace, lay the grounds for a democratic system and lead to free elections. Thus we hope to guarantee Salvadoran stability and security for the hemisphere.

'And I solemnly promise to punish those right-wing killers.'

We in the opposition are sharply aware of the economic and geopolitical realities we will face if we achieve a share of power. This, and our experience within the left in our coalition of armed and unarmed groups, has contributed to a maturing of the Salvadoran opposition. It has shaped our ideology —our wish for a democratic and nonaligned revolution. We want a new relationship with the United States, a relationship based on mutual respect and cooperation. We believe that such ties are necessary and possible. Yet so far Washington has been indifferent to our goal — hostile to real democracy and nonalignment. It continues to support dictatorships, to manipulate and destroy democracies, to disrupt Latin pendence and nonalignment. It has shown that it is hostile to revolution in a small neighboring country no matter what the nature and ideology of that revolution. This, of course, makes it all the more difficult — if not impossible to achieve our hopes for a democratic and nonaligned revolution. Instead, the United States should be helping to create space for peace, democracy and nonalignment. We in the Salvadoran opposition are facing our responsibilities. It is time for the Reagan administration and Congress to face theirs. Otherwise we may soon be caught up in a large and violent confrontation that vould all prefer to avoid. The New York Times.

Americans' progress toward inde-

Mitterrand Deserves a Hearing From Americans

WASHINGTON — Americans By Philip Gevelin owe a careful hearing to visit-tour of the United States. The ritual hobnobbing with Washington's high and mighty was not supposed to produce more than the usual reaffirmations of friendship and shared principles, some clear definition of areas of agreement — and agreements to disagree on particulars. But his exposition of the unique French viewpoint is a healthy antidote at a time when you can hardly open a journal of opinion without encountering a learned lament over the alarming state of the Atlantic alliance. Henry Kissinger, for one, is proposing major surgery: a far larger European conventional military contribution and a dramatic rearrange-sies that he says are "both unprece-dented and unsettling." Returning from a conference of Americans, Europeans and a few Soviets in West Berlin, Arthur Schlesinger Jr. reported dire findings.

No less than other Europeans, the French resent a lack of adequate U.S.

ment of American and European roles to deal with NATO controverconsultation. They, too, perceive a tendency of the Reagan administra-tion to turn every Third World con-flict into an East-West cockpit. They also see an overbearing, too-demand-ing U.S. insistence that Europe shoulder a far larger share of the Alliance aging European economies. The French prize their own independent nuclear force. Mr. Mitterrand, no less than Charles de Gaulle, insists on an arm's-length relation-ship with NATO: French forces available but not integrated into the NATO command structure, with France sitting in on NATO councils. While expressing an understanding of the U.S. preoccupation with its Soviet superpower adversary, Mr. Mitterrand draws a practical distinction. "We French live on the same continent as the Russians and harbor no hostility toward them ... Given the confidence we have in ourselves, none of us should hesitate to enter into dialogue with the Soviet Union We have always favored maintaining trade relations."

And yet, for all that, France is uniquely positioned among all the NATO allies to be part of the solution. Mr. Mitterrand's anti-commu-nist credentials are beyond question. So is his dedication to the Atlantic alliance, if not to all its workings. At a time when Europe is not exactly blessed with towering leaders of the stature of an Adenauer, a Churchill. or a de Gaulle - or with the vision of a Jean Monner, who labored a lifetime for a united Europe - Mr. Mitterrand is out front in an effort to get ing President François Mitterrand of defense budget at a time when U.S. the West Europeans to do more to France, currently on a coast-to-coast economic policies are severely damimprove their own defenses. improve their own defenses. Mr. Mitterrand is moving carefully, but with a sense of urgency that is born of two anxieties.

One is an awareness that the Americans will probably not be prepared to continue a costly defense effort in Europe unless the Europeans are willing to do more on their own. The other is West Germany, where

"neutralist" or "nationalist" political pressures could cause West Germans to slip their moorings to the Western alliance in pursuit of some closer re-connection with East Germany. Mr. Mitterrand would do nothing to undermine NATO. Nor would he threaten the U.S.-European connection in any way that might undercut the effectiveness of U.S. nuclear deterrence. But he is moving to expand French-German military cooperation. The two countries have agreed to join in the production of a German-French combat helicopter. Mr. Mitterrand has revived arrangements for systematic defense consultation which have languished since they were written into a French-German friendship treaty in 1963.

The French are replacing their Plu-ton tactical nuclear missiles with the longer-range Hades. The significance of this is that Hades missiles would be targeted on East Germany. They would be designed to deter an attack on France before the attackers had reached West Germany; the Pluton's shorter range would have made West Germany the nuclear battlefield. The French are taking the lead in a plan to revive the Western European Union, a moribund organization set up after World War II to keep an eye on West German rearmament. Now the idea is to use the WEU as an instrument for promoting "Europeanization" of Europe's defenses, including cooperative production of new weapons and the sharing of new weapons and the sharing of United States. It probably does no weapons technology in an effort to matter whether Mozambique an give Western Europe a greater mea- Angola see negotiations as an asure of technological independence from the United States.

defense ministers are still going to have to deal with the finance minis-But that makes Mr. Mitterrand's not only worrying about some of the of the day when southern Africa ca same things that worry U.S. policy-makers, he is doing something about be scratched off the list of trouble regions whose conflicts could prethem. In the long run, that may prove far more important to U.S. interests than France's distaste for U.S. policy in, say, El Salvador. The Washington Post

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dialogue at UNESCO

As chairman of the so-called Information Group at UNESCO — an informal consultative group which meets regularly to share information and is made up of 24 states which are also members of the OECD — I wish to comment briefly on your March 16 report entitled "24 Nations Ask Changes at UNESCO."

As the article is open to a number of interpretations, I would like to explain that a working document has been prepared within the group which is an analysis of UNESCO's long-standing problems and contains proposals for solving them. It meets with the agreement of a large major-ity of the states making up the group. and has been made available to other groups of member states at UNES-CO and to the director-general in order to find common ground and provide a basis for discussion and dialogue on how matters at UNESdeveloped among the majority of joint session of the U.S. Congress on member states. The sharing of this March 15. In his address to a packed document with other member states chamber, Dr. FitzGerald appealed to and with the director-general is the first step in this process.

CO can be improved.

The purpose of this initiative is to begin a frank and constructive dialogue with all concerned.

The purpose of this initiative is to ed States to support what the Forum is trying to achieve.

I find your omission difficult to logue with all concerned.

It is hoped that by taking advantage of the perceptible mood for renewal in all quarters at UNESCO, you gave to the March 14 murder progress on a number of issues can begin with the spring session of UNESCO's executive board.

Ambassador of Greece. UNESCO, Paris. FitzGerald in America

A.J. PHRYDAS.

I have been an avid reader of the International Herald Tribune since it became available in Northern Ireland two weeks ago. Your coverage of the American primaries is unrivaled in the United Kingdom or Ireland and I commend you for it. However, I was Efforts to change UNESCO will be most disappointed and surprised to successful to the extent that a cooper- see not a mention of Irish Prime Min-

Britain to respond to the report of the New Ireland Forum, and to the Unit-attempt on Gerry Adams. MARTIN O'BRIEN.

Belfast. Sandino: 'Just a Bandit'

Editor, The Irish News.

Regarding the opinion column "Don Augusto Césur Haunts the Colossus (Feb. 23) by Peter Kornbluh:

If the writer will continue researching he may find that in the early 1920s the Nicaraguan government was heavily in debt to Britain, which had no hope of collecting and threatened to send troops. That could have led to colonization, but then the United States pulled out its Monroe ative effort and united will can be ister Garret FitzGerald's address to a Doctrine and put a stop to it.

Britain was adamant, so an agreement was made whereby a U.S. Marine colonel was placed in charge of customs collections in Managua and a small detachment of marines was to train the Guardia Nacional. This ensured the British of repayment of the debt from a stabilized nation whose strength could deter revolutions. In this same time span, many bandit gangs, soldiers of fortune and other adventurers roamed the hills of Central America, raiding village banks and wealthy businessmen. Don Augusto César Sandino and his so-called revolutionaries were just another bandit gang of the times. To keep them from destabilizing the country, the Guardia Nacional, with U.S. marines participating, set out to capture Sandino. He was finally enticed to a meeting and killed, thus ending the activities of his gang. The marines were withdrawn after his death, but the post of chief of customs continued to be occupied by a marine colonel until the debt was finally paid off in the 1970s. Nicaraguans were not enemies of the United States por were they treated as such; the country was neith conquered nor occapied. Relation between the two governments wer excellent until the current group too over and made Nicaragua into a advance base for communism. F.P. SCHULTZ.

1

7 - 0.00

1 - 2 :

Bandung, Indonesia. Whittaker Chambers

George Will is an articulate consevative spokesman, but in his March our of Whittaker Chambers, as conparable to "The Education of Henr Adams," he shows a remarkable surrender of intellectual standards political partisanship. Henry Adan. reflected deeply about the meanir. of the American enterprise. "Wi ness" was at best the self-exculpation of a man who moved uneasily b tween the margins of American potics. It is a pity, as Philip Geyel. argued in his March 1 column, th the medal should be exploited for narrowly political purpose.

DON MEIKLEJOHN.

By Flora Lewis PARIS — The nonaggression par with Mozambique and the cease fire with Angola, although still tem ous, look like a triumph for Sout

S ROUNDUP

seizing power, not for improving the Pretoria promised to grant Namil ia independence, but each time nego tiations reached the moment of dec sion it found an excuse to back of Meanwhile it invaded Angola an supported Angolan rebels to head of ...

Angola-based Namibian guerrillas. Now Prime Minister P.W. Both has put the month-old cease-fire an withdrawal from Angola in doub Both sides may be maneuvering fo position rather than digging in. It hard to tell at this point, but ther the ever more theoretical Africa boycott of South Africa. Pretoriaaim is to build a net of economi dependence among its neighbors the permanently inhibits their capacit to challenge its system of apartheid. South Africa's economic superior: ity is evident. It is true, as Mr. Both likes to say, that his country ha much to offer in cooperative relation for development. The question nority rule or gradually bring Sout Africans to see benefit in extendin the rights of citizenship to all the people, thus earning by political an social example the regional primac they crave and have won economical ly and militarily. Already, blacks an opposition whites can argue that it i a basic contradiction to deal on a equal basis with black African lead

Every move toward reducing cor None of this guarantees that the Europeans will be ready any time soon to take on a substantially larger share of the NATO burden. The The less their county tries will rely on ties to Moscow.

The next critical step is a Namib.

cuse removed, the press of history ca.

Africa BASF Earnings Soared 66% Waters In 1983 on 8.1% Sales Gain

Reusen
1.01 billion DM a year earlier, Revenue increased to 35.11 billion DM many - BASF AG of West Ger- from 32.49 billion DM. many reported Thursday that BASF said its 1983 results were worldwide group pre-tax profit for better than had been expected. It

Earnings of the large chemicals indicate that the trend is continuous sche marks ($637.3 million) from BASF did not comment on the

GEC. Framatome Set for China Job

连 15gg 新 电 $10gg

HONG KONG — General Elec-tric Co. PLC of Britain and France's Framatome SA are likely to be awarded major contracts for a planned nuclear-power project in China's Guangdong province by July, industry sources here said Thursday.

GEC recently submitted a bid to supply two 950-1,000-megawatt turbine generators and related nt, while Framatome tendered in February for the construc-tion of two nuclear reactors, the

Both bids were backed by gov- tions, BASF said. It added that emment-backed financing pack- capital investments in 1983 were ages for about $1 billion each but lower than a year earlier because the sources were unable to estimate some large projects were completed the value of the tenders.

1983 soared 66 percent on an 8.1percent revenue gain.

added that strong orders during the first months of the current year

BASF did not comment on the dividend it would pay for 1983. The 1982 payout was reduced to 5 DM from the 7 DM it paid a year earlier. But Hans Albers, the chairman of the management board, said last antumn that, because of the pros-pect of improved 1983 profit, there was no reason for the dividend not to be channed. to be changed.

A company spokesman said Thursday that the supervisory board would meet April 25 to set the dividend.

Despite the 66-percent increase m pre-tax earnings, the company said that losses in currency transactions had hort results. The company said the rise in 1983 sales was because of higher volume, with particularly high increases in West Germany, North America and Asia. Sales fell in some European na-

To Buy Stake In Brokerage

International Herald Tribune LONDON - Hambros Bank, one of Britain's biggest merchant banks, said Thursday that it had agreed in principle to buy a 29.9-percent stake in the London stockbrokerage of Strauss Turnbull & Co.

The planned alliance is the latest in a series announced in recent months as British banks and securities houses prepare for government-encouraged deregulation of the stock market. Hambros also said that it would join with Societe Generale, the French bank, and Strauss Turnbull to set up an international share-dealing company with an initial capital of about £10 million ($14.2 miltion). The move will not affect Société Générale Stranss Turnbull Ltd., a London-based Enrobond trading house set up by the French bank and the British broker in 1980, Hambros said.

Rupert Hambro, chairman of Hambros, said the bank was attracted by Strauss Turnbull's expertise in international securities trading. The companies declined to disclose the price for the stake.

RYE BROOK, New York --- International Business Machines

Corp. introduced Thursday a new generation of magnetic-tape drives that replaces reels of tape with cartridges. The company said the new generation also more than doubles

the rate at which tape devices can handle information and offers significantly greater data reliability.

The company said the drives were part of its new 3480 magnetic tape subsystem, which uses less space and power than comparable systems. IBM said it planned to make the 3480 generally available

It said two drives were contained in a cabinet about the size and shape of a two-drawer office file cabinet, taking up 60 percent less floor space than two IBM 3420 model 8 tape drives.

The company said the purchase in the first quarter of 1985.

Disney Attempting to Triple As the U.S. Economy Surges Credit Line to $1.3 Billion for the resignation.

An increase in the credit line could be used to buy out a shareholder or purchase holdings to im-

Los Angeles.

Meanwhile, the price of Disney stock fell $1.875, to $61.50, Thursday on the New York Stock Ex-

Rumasa Flagship Sold

To Spanish-Arab Group

MADRID - A Spanish-Arab

veck high of $84.75.

ange. The stock has risen 25 per-

LOS ANGELES - Walt Disney Productions, rumored to be a takeover target, said Thursday that it was trying to triple its $400-million credit line to $1.3 billion.

Michael L. Bagnall, Disney's chief financial officer, said that Disney was negotiating with a group of banks. Disney's current credit line is with Bank of America.

Mr. Bagnall's statement made no mention of whether the negotiations were part of a takeover defense, as the Los Angeles Times suggested in a report Thursday. He said the additional credit availability would be for "general corporate

Edwin Okun, a Disney vice pres ident and spokesman, said the company had no comment beyond its statement as to the reasons for the negotiations. Mr. Okun also reiterated the company's earlier statements that it did not know of ry potential suitor.

Rumors about a takeover, which lantico, the flagship of the Rumasa ave helped lift Disney's stock group nationalized last year, bankany potential suitor.

have helped lift Disney's stock sharply in recent days, have focused on Roy E. Disney, son of one of the company's co-founders, Roy O. Disney, and nephew of Walt Disney. Roy E. Disney resigned from the company's board March 9 after 17 years as a director. Neither Roy E. Disney, 54, nor price of a typical 3480 configuration - a controller and eight drives

South Koreans Agree

SEOUL - Three major South

Korean makers of color televisions have agreed voluntarily to restrict exports to the United States, an official of the Korea Electronics

The three, Samsung Electronics

Co., Daewoo Electronics Co. and $60 million worth of sets to the Association said Thursday.

pesetas ($33.6 million), the sources said. IBM Unveils New Tape Drive Aviation Insurers

ing sources said Thursday.

The Spanish cabinet agreed to sell the bank to Banco Arabe Espafiol, the Bahrain-based Arab banking corporation and Spain's Banco

Exterior de España for 5.1 billion

-was $237.910. Volume purchase LONDON - Aviation insurers discounts for the 3480 start at $817 around the world had their worst year to date in 1983, paying more than $450 million on air crashes that killed 988 passengers, the Aviation Insurance Offices Associa-To Curb U.S. TV Exports tion said Thursday. It said the claims were 55 percent higher than in 1982, when 553 passengers died.

Report Bad Year

The association's chairman, Denis Floyd, said aircraft insurers paid up on 27 Western-built planes that were destroyed. The insurers were particularly hard hit, he said, by the losses of four jumbo jets in the last four months of the year.

The 1983 losses increased aircraft insurance rates 10 to 50 per-Gold Star Co., each sent more than cent this year, Mr. Floyd said. "Some insurers got their fingers United States last year, the official burned and have now dropped out said. Last month, the U.S. Com- of the aircraft business," he said. merce Department said South Ko- He also said rates for satellites were rean color television sets were un-dercutting U.S. producers' prices. tle lost two.

All Eyes Remain on the Fed (Continued from Page 11)

certificates of deposits, and on new 10% percent. Treasury securities. Rather, they say it was really the upward presthe company has offered a reason At the start of 1984, he was the the prime rate that they charge with the Fed's most touchy observ board's largest shareholder, ownmany corporate borrowers. ing 2.15 percent of the company's

"The financial markets have been driving rates higher," said Lawrence A. Kudlow, once the chief economist in the Office of Management and Budget and now pede an unfriendly takeover, said a consultant in Washington. "The Gordon Crawford, a senior vice tightening you're seeing is a marpresident of Capital Research in ket-induced move, not a Fed-induced move."

"So far," added a Treasury official who asked not to be named, the Fed is "just sitting there watching." "If they are going to do any-thing," this official added, "it will cent since closing at $50.50 on March 8, but remains below its 52be after next week's FOMC meeting. They're certainly going to have to make a tough decision. Even then, I don't think they want to For months, economists have contended that despite Mr. Volcker's urgent warnings that high federal budget deficits threatened the economy, and despite his implied threat that the Fed would force the administration to deal with it by driving interest rates up, the Fed has been what they call accommodative. They gite the acid test of Fed policy — the growth of the money supply.

From the last quarter of 1983 through February, the basic measure of the money supply grew at an annual rate of 7.3 percent, close to the top of the 4-to-8 percent

"M-1 under Carter grew by an annual rate of 8 percent during his four years," Mr. Kudlow said. "Through the first three years of Reagan, M-1 has grown by 8 per-cent annually — the same amount. So the Fed has been just as accommodative under Reagan as it was under Carter." At next week's Open_Market

Committee meeting the Fed may confirm that it regards as appropri-

French Pact in Hong Kong

PARIS - A group of French construction companies, including Empain Schneider Group's Spie Batignolles, has a 140-million Hong Kong dollar ($17.9-million) low-cost housing contract for the Hong Kong Housing Ministry, panies involved, said Thursday.

ate the new federal funds rate, 10 to To some analysts, that might seem a passive move, not a deliber-Sure on the cost of money that ate shirt toward more restraint. But forced commercial banks to raise that interpretation may not sit well er, the White House. Said Larry Speakes, the presidential spokes-man, this week: "We want interest rates to come down.

U.S. Bill to Halt All Oil Mergers Is Withdrawn

By Robert J. Cole New York Times Service

NEW YORK - Senator Bennett Johnston has withdrawn a bill that would have halted all oil mergers for six months, effective Feb. 28. The Louisiana Democrat said he would introduce a new bill soon advancing the effective date of the moratorium to last Wednes-

The legislation thus would no longer apply to Standard Oil Co. of California's pending $13.2-billion purchase of Gulf Corp., which first became public Feb. 28, and Mobil Corp.'s subsequent $5.7-billion bid to buy Superior Oil Co. Socal is offering $80 a share for Gulf's shares. Mobil is offering $45 a share for Superior's stock. Mr. Johnston said neither of the transactions would be affected by the legislation.

"They will be able to do their deals without our interference," he said in the Senate Wednes day.

There has been increasing opposition in Congress to the. original version of Mr. Johnston's bill. But there were signs that the change in the effective date of the moratorium would help the legislation's prospects. Sentiment for legislation to bring major oil mergers to a halt for six months had been building in Congress since early this month. Opposition had come largely from Socal, Gulf, Mobil and T. Boone Pickens, chairman of Mesa Petroleum Co. and leader of an investor group that would have lost heavily if the Socal-Gulf merger had been blocked. The two transactions still face government antitrust scrutiny but have a good chance

Gold Options (miss is 5/02.). Phos May Aug. Nov. 15501700 2700200 ---600-750 1650-1850 250-350 827-1825 --- 275-375 1850-1750 252-475 750-700

Valeurs White Weld S.A.

DeVoe-Holbein Int. N.V. $71/2 Bid - $8 Ask Adjusted for recent 21/2 for 1 stock split. Prices in U.S. dollars Quote as of March 22, 1984. First Commerce Securities b.v. Herengracht 483 1017 BT Amsterdam

Telephone: 020-260901 Telex: 14507 firco ni CENTRAL ASSETS CURRENCY FUNDS LTD. Prices as at 23-3-84 41.17 129.47 Fr.Francs. 298.74

Portinax Development Limited Bid: U.S. $4% Asked: U.S. $5% As of date: March 22, 1984. FINANCIAL PLANNING SERVICES BY Holer, Jersey, Channel Monds.

 Tel.: Jersey (0534) 74689. Teles: [JJQ] 4192258.

Kalvenstraat 112, 3rd Floor 1012 PK AMSTERDAM, Holland. Phone: (0) 20-250477/229873; Thu: 18536. EMPRESSA NACIONAL DEL PETROLEO, S.A.

("ENPETROL") U.S. $25,000,000 Floating Rate Notes due 1986

Notice is hereby given pursuant to Condition 3 (e) of the Terms and Conditions of the chowe mentioned Notes first the Rate of Interest (as therein defined) for the Interest Period (as therein defined) from 23rd March, 1984 to 24th September, 1984 to the caused rate of 11% % The U.S. dollar amount to which the holders of Coupon N° 12 will be which the holders of Cospon Nº 12 will be entitled on day presenting the some for poyntent on 24th September 1984 will be U.S. 359.4184 subject to such assendments ferrate for appropriate alternative arrange-ments by way of adjustment which we may make, whithout further notice, in the event of on extension or shortening of the obove-mentioned interest Period. EUROPEAN-AMERICAN BANK & TRUST COMPANY (Principal Paying Agent).

pects to report higher consolidated nected to Pioneer's laser disc play profit for 1983 than the 1.3 billion and a videotape recorder, allows francs ($160.5 million at current exchange rates) earned the previ-ous year. The bank said French tapes and laser discs, the company customer deposits rose about 8.3 said

COMPANY NOTES

Castle & Cooke Inc. said a federal court judge has extended through next Thursday a temporary restraining order forbidding an investor, Charles E. Hurwitz, from buying additional shares in the company. Castle also said the judge declared improper Mr. Hur-witz's transfer of a Castle & Cooke lawsuit to federal court from state cal year, according to Helmut Wichn, chairman of the managing board. In the year that ended Sept. 30, the company earned 24 million Deutsche marks ($9 million). In the previous fiscal year the company had a loss of 437.4 million DM and omitted its dividend for the first time in 33 years. The company said revenue in this fiscal year would probably fall to 7 billion DM from more than 8 billion a year earlier.

Kyowa Hakko Kogyo Co. and Sumitomo Corp. have set up a biovith U.S. and Indian interc tional Pte., is 40.1-percent owned by NPI of the United States, 30.2percent by the Tata industrial group of India, 19.3-percent by Su-mitomo and 10.4-percent by

Kyowa.

Montedison SpA of Italy will report that its loss in 1983 narrowed to 350 billion lire ($214.7 million) from 758 billion lire a year earlier, eccording to company sources.

Pioneer Electronic Corp. will

Foreign exchange reserves rose start selling a 16-kilobit personal to 430 billion francs at the end of 1983 from 352 billion a year earlier, pan next month for 89,800 year the ministry added.

Banque Nationale de Paris ex- ($400). The computer can be connected to Pioneer's laser disc player users to superimpose graphics and letters onto pictures from video-at the start of the year.

francs ($19 million) from 507 million through a 1-for-12 rights issue. Each share of 350 francs nominal may be acquired at a price of 600 francs or less, the airline said. The final price will be set later. The company also said it greatly exceeded its financial goals in 1983 and continued slightly above 1984 Deutsche Babcock AG expects to Gross profit rose 29 percent to 331 remain profitable in the current fis-million francs in 1983 from 257 million and net profit rose to 56 million from 38.5 million, Swissair's chief executive, Robert Tricentrol PLC says the takeover rumors of the past year are un-founded and the sale of most of its U.S. onshore oil and gas assets is proceeding normally. The compa-ny's chairman, James Longcroft, said in London that six possible buyers for the U.S. assets were studying economic data and that he hoped the sale would be completed technology venture in Singapore by midyear. He declined to indicate produce tropical seeds and plants, ported pretax profit of £43.7 mil-the Japanese companies said. The ion in 1983, down 12 percent from venture, called Plantech Interna-

French Foreign Debt More Than Doubled

PARIS - France's net official foreign debt, including government debts and those gnaranteed by the state, is estimated to have more than doubled to 201 billion francs They said the report was in line ($24.5 billion) at the end of 1983 with forecasts by the energy com-pany's chairman, Mario Schim-berni. (224.) Dillion at the end of 1982, the Finance Ministry said Thurs-day.

ADVERTISEMENT INTERNATIONAL FUNDS Quotations Supplied by Funds Listed 22 March 1984

ed on Issue prices. The fo

Unique penthouse condominium in New York City.

of the Madison Towers Hotel. Total 6,500 square feet of space. Ideal as private gartment, corporate suite or offices. Private elevator, spectacular views. Tight security.

The Madison Towers is a richly restored 60-year-old hotel of contemporary elegance in Manhattan's Murray Hill district. Midtown, East Side location at Madison Avenue and 38th Street. Convenient to all business centers. United Nations and city attractions.

An Invitation From the International Lie and Tribune and Oxford Analytica.

Assert group of serior Branch ententives will gather at Dafford University this subtlement for the first International Branch Branch the first part of the International Branch Branch Branch Conference resembled by the International Branch B

	- ACH D1 - 200
	involution involution
The first $2,90 companies for the conscious	RESERVE 2500. Sport D Please and Conference for 2500.
mant intel continue District	The forther for the sales
	Confection Condesed
- both bother than the second
— Acceptation of the control of the state of the control of the co	Surranx
A Property of the second secon	Silve
	Fire Name Position
Property of the second state of the second second	STATE OF THE PARTY Company
	Address
	Colors Colors

[] Please reserve College accommodation for the nights Company Activity

Forsale: on the top 17th and 18th tower floors

Price: 84 million. For further information, contact us direct.

15 Onleved 6 Obsterd 3 17% Oblighed 13% Obstern 11% Ookles 6% Orland B 2% Orman 2% Orman 2% Oversa 7% Oversa 7% Obsterd 7% Obsterd 7% Obsterd 7% Obsterd

17% 11% 12% 9% 9% 9%+% 15% 15 15 — % 5% 4% 5%— %

Thursday's. AMEX Closing

Tables include the nationwide prices
Up to the closing on Wall Street

High Low Stock	Div. YML PE	190s High Low Quet, Chine
	Ā
614 194 AT1
6% 1% ATT	44	80 1% 1% 1% 137 61% 99% 59%—1%
1714 334 Armatic		20 44 44 44 44
1995 1214 Acmus	32 23 14	5 14 H H 61 134 134 134 - 4
144 7/6 Actions	9	61 1346 1396 1396 - 14
12 6% Actons 1	.00+11,4 29	106 276 274 574
612 11/2 Acts wit	- 4	10 2 3 3 3 7 7 3% 3% 3% 3% 3% 3%
	ÎT & 01.	· 1 7 1 7 1 7 1 7 1 7 1 7 1 7 1 7 1 7 1
2679 15 Actobe	24 17 14	9 21% 20% 20% - 41
28% 15 Adobe 5% 2% AssisCs 7 4 AssisCs	13	137 4 379 4
	1	10 5¼ 5¼ 5¼ + ¼ 4 23¼ 22¼ 22¼ + ¼
176 W Arisk	A0 13 9	4 274 2214 2714 + 16 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
151/2 576 AlrExa	764 7 0	15 444 644 644 16
6% 4 Alemen	. ,	105 5 5 5 26 121/2 1214 1214 34
23% 11% AlboW 1892 5% AlohoA	20e 14 7	※ 125 134 134 134 134 134 134 134 134 134 134
1892 5% AlohgA 28% 13% Alohgin	AP 42 25 2 21	105 5 5 5 26 12½ 12¼ 12¼ 12¼ - ¾ 56 8 74 74 - ¼ 22 16¾ 16 16 - ¾
2% 1% Alter	.46 -2 21	N - 11 11 E
321/2 TIM AlzeCo	.20 1.1 18	411 13% 13% 13% + 70
2976 - 1479. Amehi s	.20 1.1 18	4位 175 175 175-2
25% 7% Amedia 7% 4% Amelit	00 5 10 15 27 12	2 15% 15% 15% + % 17 5% 5% 5%
71/2 41/4 AmBilt 9% 2% AmCop	.15 27 12 125	9 元 76 76-31
44% ISW AEXDW1		7 1946 1946 1946 - 10
10% SR Alsroel	2	2666-191
1914 1 AMBID		146 136 14 14 14 16 13 29% 29% 29%
27/2 47/4 AmPet 3	38 13 18	19 40 59-4 60
8% 5% Amplen		75 76 74 74-16
20% 13 APTOC	.28 1.6 21	3 175 175 175 + 16
12% 4% ASCIE		75 76 76 76 76 - 16 3 17% 17% 17% 17% + 16 38 46 46 46 45 12 7% 7% 7% + 16
14 % ASCIPT		12 79 74 79 + 16
674 274 Ampoin	.12 53 2	195 206 206 206 - 161
2 V2 Armost		212 74 15 12-76 [
6/n 3% Andel	.271 3.2 13	11 4% 4 4% 19 8½ 8% 8%
264 676 AndJob 374 272 Angel wt	,27t 3.2 1J
6 TM Angley		43 2% 2% 2% + %
17 6 Anthons	.021 30 16	万 134 13 13 一卷
37% 221/2 ApiDtq 6	16	20 24 23 23 23 E - Tal
7% 4% ArgoPt 13% 10% ArrowA	.20 1.7 12	13 7% 7% 7% 22 12% 11% 11% %

2 BAT'S TAN BOTH AND THE BOTH A 49 44 12 30 12 20 15 5 #0 1.1 16 #0 1.1 16 #2 12 14 #7 9.1 #6 9.2 10 .5 34 8 150 49 12 75 77 77 72 29 8

206 1.8 7

| 18th | REAL ESTATE FOR SALE FOR SALE USA RESIDENTIAL USA RESIDENTIAL PALM BEACH'S MOST EXCLUSIVE private street - 4 year old Regency moreson with 3 bedrooms, Eurory, stoff sales, double garage, heated pool. $1,790,000. Retort Properties Inf., P.O. Box 1121, Polm Bacch, FL 33480. Tel: 305-659-0866. NYC 43-Story Condo 1 Block U.N. Dag Hammarskjold Tower

COMMERCIAL & INDUSTRIAL

FOR SALE

REAL ESTATE

TO RENT/SHARE

CORSICA

17th CENTURY MONASTARY to be restored Central Comica 35 rooms, 12 some 35 fb pl gorden and ook trees coverlooking Village View on mountain. Write Mastrice Le PESANT, Belandel 11580 Alet. Tels (56) 31 44 17.

FRENCH PROVINCES

ST. TROPEZ-LINIQUE, country home in colured woodland, magnificial view, 1 mile from hown, swimming pool, 7 hedrooms, 6 bathrooms, Available July or August or both, $4000 per month, Tals 202-364-0644.

FAMALY in Medieval village near most caltural events rents 2 double bad-rooss individual baths, all facilies. $30 per room/day. Write Doulsajoy, run Frederic Mistral 84440 Robios

STE MAXIME, FISHCH RIVIERA, house with swimming pool, 8 to 10 back, 2 showers, oil footbas. Available in May, June, August, Sept or Oct. Call Lyon (7) 887 29 W evenings.

CANNES - IE CANNET: July & Aug. Nice ville, 5 bedrooms, 4 betwoms, All comforts, Swimming pool Londs-copied garden, Colns, (73) 45 57 60.

240 EAST 47th ST, 24-hours Doorman & Concierge, And Skyline Lounge. Skyline Pool & Health Club, Gorage, & Housekeeping Services are available of additional cast. Studie, 1, 2, 3, 4 hedroems Soles Agent On Fremiess (212) 739-8844 Offering by prospectus only COLORADO SKI RESORTS 157H LARGEST BEST SNOW - BEST MCUNTAIN
$15 MBLION CASH. Should profit $150 mBlion within 10 years. Expresion unfamilied. Current foolities include 4 double chairs, $2 runs, 18,000 sq.ft.
lodge, 100-room botel and 400 deeded oons on which to built condos and restourants. For immediate information, call Connels France, $59, $4.49 78.
Will consider Franch francs or other cerrancies instead of US dollars.

PACIFIC PAUSADES RIVIERA 100 PER CENT PRIME AIRA Ideal for engineting family Magnificant 2-storey home offers 7 bachrooms, 6 bothnooms with all mod-ern facilises, brand new blighen, pool, rose garden and landscoping. US$1,695,000. By owner. Tel. (213) 454 6225 or fix 215568. If required, owner will provide complete immigration assistance.

WITHOUT A DOUBT THE BEST VIEW IN NYC In 10p security Olympic Tower condo-minism. Big living room, moster suite, guest soite, powder room & lighten, Mod service, garage, gym. Mosseur & telephone operator in building. Asking $1,500,000.....Contect Pater Durbne 212-825-3975 Tix 237867 Douglan Ellinsum Gibbons & Ives lac

WOODSTOCK, VERNONT - Excep-ficated commercial property in escal-lent condition, cathedral callings, pol-lacian windows, calculate parting, tastefully landscaped. Currently oper-ated as gift shop, room for expectation. Duriness avoicible supparately. $40,000. Georgina Wildomson, Inc. Reachor, 22 Em S., Woodstock, VT 05091. Tel: 802-457-2000.

$3.5 MILLION
LA JOLLA, CALIR.
Five occus on the occus. Exquisite site for compound of homes. Truly one of a land property. Top exclusive ones. You oney also hey in individual one care lots.
ALTI Carp., P.O. Box 2905, La Jole, CA 92038 USA. Tel. (619) 452-7703. Connecticut - New York Ares SCOTT ASSOCIATES Expert brokers in all kinds of real estate. Ruent in French, German & Italian, 22 Old Kings Highway So., Darien, Con-recticat 06280. Tel: 203-655-1423.

CAPE COID-SUN-SEA-SAND. Mog-milicant waterfront home with over 300 ft, of sandy beach. Swimming pool, or conditioning, charming guest house and 2 cars of mature land-scoped privacy. Price $2,000,000. Cryster Red Eston, Box 1017, Oster-ville, Mass. (2855 USA, 617-428-5754

BECONCYBLE, NY - quoint village one so, mile. 28 mile. Iron NYC. Francus school K-12, Gracious homes & co-op oportments. Write for brockure. Deed Real Estate. 120 Kraft Ave., Bromorille, NY 10708. [914] 337-0900. We are DARRIN, CONNECTICIST. Executive— type homes, for rent + sole. Reasont New York City suburb. French so-tem. Noticovide connections. Write or telephone TERRETTS REAL ESTATE, 37 Corban Drive. Yel: 203-465-7724 CONNECTICIT- SPECTACULAR Condo for sale. Close to carports and highway to N.Y. M. Butterworth, Nervill Lynch Bealty, 141 S. Main S., W. Harrhord, CT 06107. Th. 643-067 HOHFD. Tel: 203-521-8100.

CANNES. Apartments, villas with pool, moid service and bed and breakfast. Call. [73] 94 12 94 [No agents]. GREAT BRITAIN MPR & SUTCHOFF - FOR QUALITY furnished properties. A personal and efficient service. 105 St. John's Wood Terrosa, London NW8 6Pt., England. Tel 01-586 7561. Th: 883168 ACCG EXECUTIVE SUITES MAYFAIR. Linguy furnished appriments, newly decorated, fully serviced, secretorial/selectoristes. $150 to $500 per week. 3 moretis to 2 years. Moset Carzon Management Ucl. London 01-491 2626, Teles: 299185. .20 1.2 [] 20 1.2 []

8¼ Jaciyn 7¼ Jocobs II Jersen 4½ Jetron 4½ JohnPd

TW LSB
J/4 LDBory
J/4 LDPort
J/4

13% 6% 13% 27 4 16 11% 11% 11% 125% 14% 15% 14% 15%

25 10 منه 123ء

REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE

GREAT BRITAIN

CENTRAL LONDON - Executive service apartments in new buildings, constantelly furnished and fully equipped Daily resid service (fund, through Fri.) Calor TV. Phone for brackure (01) 388 1342 or write fresidential States (Mayfair) Ltd., 1 University St., London WCTE &IE.

IONDON HAMPSTEAD SUPERS lan-ury interior designed appartment in a modern block in exclusive position - 3 bedrooms, 2 bedrooms, double re-caption, fully ecotoped latchen, 2 bed-comes, pondromic versus, hamis court. £222,500. Tel: 07 435 6089.

MODENNIZED PERIOD HOUSE in cul-de-soc near City of London. Sheeps 6, garden, maid, dishwasher, T.V., had-ing, escaled but / hib / leisne canter / hourism. Available 15 August - 5 September. 5430 per week, Tek London 249 8664.

LONDON BAICER ST. Self cotering holiday flots. Fully equipped, color TV, linen, steeps 1-6 persons. Self-contained from 255/week. Crawford Holiday Flots, 33 Crawford St, London W1. Tel: 01-402 6165.

LONDON PLATS & HOUSES from £100 - £2000 per week for long / short term. York Estytes, 81 / 82 Crawford Sreet, London W1, Tek 01 724 0335.

REAL ESTATE

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED (Continued From Back Page) REAL ESTATE

TO RENT/SHARE TO RENT/SHARE PARIS AREA FURNISHED U.S.A. NEW YORK CITY 74 CHAMPS-ELYSES 8th THE MEURICE Studio, 2 or 3-room opertment 1 month or more. LE CLARIDGE. TBL: 359 67 97. NEW 15th PARC DES EXPOSITIONS Studios, 2 & 3 rocars. Fully equipped latchen. One day, one week, one morth or morn. Contact, PATOTE, 52 rue d'Orodour, 75015 Paris. Tels 554 97 56. Promotional prices.

NEW PERE LACHAISE loft. 100 sr.m., July-and Sept. $1000/month net. Go-rage included. Box 713, Herald Tri-bure, 92521 Neatly Cedex, France. MARAIS: 11TH 1 June 31 August 100 sq.m. Living, diring, 3 bedrooms. F6000 / month, Teh 805 85 86 eves. OPSIA, private to private. Familities room, latchen, both, phone. Newly redone. F2200. Tel: 296 69 55 WANTED PROFESSIONAL LADY to share elegant Latin Quarter opart-ment. Call 329 39 62. SHORT TERM in Latin Quarter. No agents, Tel. 329 38 83. 5th & 11th AREA. For short-term from F3500 to F7500. Tel: 281 14 10 PARIS AREA UNFURNISHED

LONDON For quality fernished oper-ments & houses to rent from 6 months to several years. Anacombe & Rico-lands London 722 7101 Tix 299660 SUBLET 8TH, Over 300 sq.m., flost becutiful, $2700 per month, Coll. 261 10 11 / 261 94 88, or eves: 387 54 53, JOHN BRICH has 20 years experience in Rentals. Long or short tenancies, Central & suburban London & Aber-deen, Birch & Co. 01-499-8802. SPAIN BIRO DELTA, Rehing village, 3-bed-room flot, right on sec overlooking bay. July-Aug-Sect. £100 or F1200 per week. Box 956, Herold Tribune, 92521 Neutilly Cedex, France. LONDON, For the best furnished Bots and houses. Consult the Specialists: Phillips, Key and Lewis. Tel: London 839 2245. Teles 7/846 RESIDE G. COSTA DE, SOL Hiltop villa with private pool, garage. $250-550 per week. Tel: 523523/Genera eves. TUDOR COTTAGE IN BURAL Kent, fully furnished / shapes 6, 5200 week-ly, Tel; London 852 4007 evenings. SWITZERLAND

LONDON, ROOM / ENSUITE both is mornion Bot, $150/week, 402 1524 CREECE GENEVA SUPERB SMALL APARTMENT SSLAND OF SPETSAL Becufiel villo with swinning pool to rent in June. fully equipped, elegas 7 people. For information write Boar 739, Herold Tribune, 92521 Neully Cedes, França SUPERS SMALL APARTMENT

Near CNU, Airport, Interno, Lunarious by furnished and fully equipped, High class (roof twinning pools, very silent and surny, Gorge, video, TV, 2 telephones, welled-in-soft. Belet commention installed. Available after May 1, [1] badroom, Fring room, 1 battroom / shower, 2 WCs, balcomy, fully equipped litchen, well-to-wall competing, painored weeks, $73250/month for garantees. $7250/month for garantees. HOLLAND DUTCH HOUSING CENTRE B.V. Dekore reatok. Voleriusstr, 174, Amsterdam. 020-721234 or 723222.

USA

PETER BRUSH MAJELAARDLI Int'l Housing Service-Restols Assistation. Tel: 020-768022. EURICH DOUDER GRAND AMEA For rent, leasify furnished operaned, 2-3 hadrooms, 2 fiving/fireplace, dising room, both, separate shower. 6 months up to 2 years. Write: FOB 73, CH-6442 Gersou. Call: Modern Decor AG, 01 - 47 66 70. FLORENCE LIDGUITY VILLA, Personan-ic waw. Two terrobe, longs saduled gorden creo with swimming pool. Fully farmshed. For real bisweety or trontilly April - August, Owner direct. 055 400456. PARIS AREA FURNISHED MEW YORK. Apartments and lofts. Call Paris 256 37 47 or New York (212) 977 71 71 (No agents). 8TH. Apprenent, very luminous. Price F1900 per night. 256 04 61 (no opens)

176 W 58th Street
145 W 58th Street
New tousious restel opertuents in printe location, near 5th Avenue, Conriol Part & michow business district.
Corporate & private locases. With gloss enclosed belocinies, free places, or condisconing, concising & restourant.
2 bedroom, 2 both from $2900
Places write or colf Management
212-757-7500 weekstoys RECORD PRODUCER SERIES TO ex-change magnificent, reducind conyon home more Beverly Hills. Sieges 8, pool, jacuzzi, houseleeger for villa on Cote of Azar or Italy, med-July to mid-August, London 485 0064 other 6 p.m. PHOBNOL, ARIZONA - Extraordinary contemporary 5 bedroom home on wooded core for rent by executive on oversear casignment Sept. Dec. 1984, $3000 per month, For full information, please write to: Mr. DeCorpin, 4041 N. Centro, Sto. 640, Phoenix, AZ 85012. (602)248-0036. LOS ANGELES/NEAR BACING Vol. ley. 3 badrooms / 3 baths / pool. Alec baws Son Diego home. Both $300 / doy. Tel. 619-281-7480 or write now. Box 4056, Son Diego, CA 92104-USA. WANTED/EXCHANGE OLYMPIC RENTALS

CLYMPIC RENTALS-MALRIEL Lovely old Speriels, 4 hadrooms, 2½ boffs. Recutiful gordens. July 15-Aug 15 325,000. Pershouse condo, catop casas bluff, 2 bedrooms, 2 bedrs, great fiving-likeline, large terroon-great with spectocalor view, pool, July 27 - Sept. 7, $15,000. Both on private boach, include gordener, maid service. Olympics 40 min. closs, water pool 3 ms. away. Write POB $24, Molibu, CA 90265. Tel 213-457-7351 EXCHANGE YOUR QUALITY Cole of Any residence for beautiful new 2 bedroom, 2 both, semphously for-nished beachford operisest on Mac-co Island, Florida. Our aportesset ovalicable to you any moreth, we wish south of September in Fronce. Reply Box 744, Herald Tribuna, 9252T Newi-ly Cardes, France YOUNG MAN, CANADIAN, bilingual, seeing to room and board with reach family for the summer of 1984. Roby to: M. Helders, 50 Graydor Holl Dr., Apt. 911, Dan Mile, Orleano, Canada MIN 3MA. BLEGANT, 4 BEDBOOM HOUSE with pool, road, gardener in debase Belaire section Las Angeles. Also, charming 3 bedroom home Sharmon Ooks. Would consider home exchange. Mr Mindling, 9434 Wildrins Blvd., Beverly Hills, CA 90272. Tel. 213-858-1743. The 1942255 Concola MGA 3A4.

PRENCH CIVIL SERVANT between or signatures needs a five or six room ground floor operatures or lowshouse in the 7th, 15th, or 16th sections of Poris, between Feb 85 and March 86. Tel: 504 72 25 versings until April 8th. WISH TO LEASE LUDGRY Villo or apartment Concer-Cop of Antibes-Antibes-or in the ritle marchy, month of September, no children, Please reply. Box 743, Herdel Tribune, 92521 Neuilly Cades; France
POMPANO BEACH, FLOREDA. One

REAL ESTATE

LONG BEACH. 1 bedroom security operations furnished for 2. Ocean view. Near Morino, convention centre, public buses to oll Southern Colfornia, S72900 per week, ministern 3 weeks includes 2 olympics ficials for 6 awards 8 dolling caremony, POS 613, 1211 Geneva 3 like, Switzerland. ly Ceder, Frunce

POMPANO SEACH, FLOREDA. One bedroom coato across from accior covalicitie for use between May-Docember in exchange for house or Refor two weeks in summer, MER, PC Box 100, Harrington, NY 11742.

WISH TO EXCHANGE Los Angules 2 bedroom home with boby room for some in/macr Soleburg dening Chyspics. Wither L. Mond. 6235 Desail Area, Los Angules, CA 90048 USA.

WANTED: LARGE HOUSE to rest preferably furnished, with ports, ir Paris, for French association. Let 548 53 02. EXCHANGE 2 BERROOM, 2 best opertiment, Newport Bloch, Colif. for similar Except occurrendulor for Chympic period or ensire summer. Complex has 2 pools, jocurzi, near hemis, troot, beaches, marinor and excellent strapping. Please teles V. Whiston, SF Broon 23030 Kinyat.

PRIME OLYMPIC LOCATION
Westwood, California. Two beautifully appointed 3000 sq.ft. duplemes. 3 bedrooms. 3 befra. Sherman, P.O., Box 5050, Beverly Hills, Calif 90210. Tel: 213-474-2397. FOR THE LA. SUMMER Clympics, to resh learness 10-room monsion, presige crea, San Ferrando Valley, Fool/pocuzi monos. $100 / tox, Virties P.O. 8482, Calabases, CA. $1302-8482, Sal in USA - $18-888-4830. 3 BEDROOM HOUSE in W. Holly-wood. Wolfed gardens with founton, minutes from most events, $1930 per week. More details. Jerry Weier, &36 N. Formoon Ave., Los Anguier, CA 90036 USA. Tels (213) 936-3051.

GENERAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE

MCDELING, catroctive girts required in Greeca. Write with photo, PO Box 3/32 GR 10 210 Athens, Greece.

OLYMPIC RENTALS EMPLOYMENT GENERAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE ABSPECIANT COMPANY SEECS foil fame person for Park operations omter. Aust be billingted and have neces-sary French working pagers. Previous superience on essel. Piscae forward hondwritten CV to Box 723, Herald Tribune, 92521 Neully Cades, Fronce. AVARABLE JULY & AUGUST, 4 bed-room house, sleepe 8 or 9, near UCLA, beaches, Beverly Hills. H. Blanfarb, 526 Gressor Green Way, L.A., Colf., 90049 USA. Tel-day 518-993-9311, evs. 213-476-1184.

A71-ENS. SEEK lady companion as penional assistant. Tel: 8086194. GENERAL POSITIONS WANTED I AM YOUR INIT'L COURSES, Legit-main carigoments crity, References, Victor Salfa, 213-452-1327, 1308 Claser Fark Blvd., Santa Monica, CA 90405 USA. SECRETARIAL.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE MINERVE SEBS for AMERICAN FIRMS in PAISS English, Belgion, Datch or German secretaries, Incovelege of French Bilingsof lebusts. Write or phone: 128 Avenue Victor Happ, 75114 Paris, Franca. Tel: 727 61 69. Doe't miss MIENATIONAL SECRETARIAL POSITIONS

TUESDAYS

SECRETARIES AVAILABLE: SMEUINVE SECRETARY / casistant young lody, Belgian, 26, good presen-tation, longuage Garman, Datch, Es-glish, Franch, seals Chellenging full-ines position. Write Box 731, Herold Tribute, 92521 Neufly Codes, France. ELEGANT INTELLIGENT Personal Assistant seeks attracting job with travel. Tel: England - Reistip (8956 from courses) 39718. CALL GR for the best temporary office personnel in Paris. Tel: 225 59 25

EDUCATIONAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE SUMMER JOBS IN Switzerland & Cy-prus. Applications are invited from qualified leachest of ET, French, & German for Issis Summer Language. Program in Lugano or Nicasia. Dutes include supervision of dominitory, sports & entre-conflosion extinities, For further details sand essume to Direc-tor TSLP, c/o Tosis England, Colchar-bour Lane, Thomps, Surrey, England

EMPLOYMENT FRENCH PRIMARY SCHOOL made English speaking male leadur (84-85), papers a must. Tel. Paris 224 98 49 evenings. EXECUTIVES AVAILABLE CONSTRUCTION . MANAGEMEN International experienced profession al. Tel: Landon 370 6437/937 3704. DOMESTIC POSITIONS WANTED GENERAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE BNGUSH NAFPUS & Mothers' Helps free now. Naib Agency, 33 Church Road, Hove, UK. Tel: (1273) 29044/5 Rood, Hove, UK Tel. 1977/2 (2004)

ROOS, Hove, UK T

S60 24 8

16% 13%
24% 16%
24% 16%
25% 16%
27 25%
27 25%
27 25%
27% 56%
3 1 18% 13%
2 4%
25% 6% 48 37%
15% 6% 48 57%
17% 12%

9% 5% WTC
25% 14 Walbr s
17% 10% Walbr s
17% 10% Walbr s
17% 10% Walbr s
17% 5% WrnC a
17% 16% 9% Winter
17% 6% Wilhim
17% 5% Welman
17% 4% Welfar
17% 5% Wilhin
17% 5% Wilhin
17% 5% Wilhin
17% 5% Welfar
17% 4% Welfar
17% 4% Welfar
17% 4% Welfar
17% 5% Wilhin
17% 5% Wi

AUTOMOBILES

ROLLS-ROYCE Corniche fixed head coupe 1977 TA series, UID, making with being everifier roof. Champagne hide interior, one royal owner. 22,000 mg, impaccible condition, only 227,950, Ledie & Michael Rees, let-0245 87371 (UK). Th 995411 PASTAF

AUTO SHIPPING

HOW TO IMPORT A ERROFFAN CAR BRID THE U.S.A.
This detailed document, initially written for American car dealers, legions stepby-step what one must do to bring a car into the U.S. it includes DOT / BA conversion addresses, custom descrease is shipping procedures as well as lead fips, You can save up to US$12,000 when buying a Mercadus or BMW in Europe & importing it to the States. To receive his steasus, send US$13,50 fold US$1.50 for postage), or equivatent currency to P. Schmidt, Postfoch 31,31
7000 Shettgart 1, West Germany

Aintempts Your CAR TO USA. Doily avoicities to New York. Con-firmed bookings, 5MO-Trans, Shat-gart, tak 0711-771089 W. Germany.

FRANKPUIT/MAIN-W. Germony, H Immunn Geibli, Tek, 0611-48071 Fick-up all over Europe *ro/ro-ships

INTERCORP SURCIFE of the Norther-lands befores the automobile you drive as a statement of your pride & actione-sents. Your associates style will accept nothing less than excellence.

That's why we offer you catestable from such world dost standards as ROLLS ROYCE, PORCHE, BMW MERCEDES-BB/Z, FERARLAC

CALL TODAY for information concerning TAX FREE SALES, WORLD WIDIDELINERY AND BAYDOT CONVESSON.
FULLY GUARANTEED

INTERCORP BUROFS
Boutendoon 56

Routenstoon 56 5615 KT Singhoven The Netherlands Tel: 31-40-550055 Telesc 59231 AUTOK NL

ROLLS-ROYCE

BENTLEY

BRITISH MOTORS

WRIGHT BROTHERS

MONTE CARLO Principality of Manago Tok: (93) 50 64 84 Tokan: 469-475 MC Strict Princip Deak Can Supply Workfurda: Established since 1925

Antitrus Official In U.S. Says Policy Is Under Review

WASHINGTON — Assistant Attorney General Paul McGrath, under fire from steel-state senators, defended his handling of the LTV Corp. Republic Steel Corp. merger Thursday while acknowledging that the Justice Department's guidelines are under review.

Mr. McGrath, chief of the department's Antifrust Division, told a Senate subcommittee the tentiline surround of the LTV-Red trust Division, told a Senate subcommittee that despite the tentative approval of the LTV-Republic merger, at was unlikely that a similar merger between National Steel Corp. and U.S. Steel Corp. would be permitted.

He said LTV, and Republic agreed to se facilities in Objoint Alabama to meet Justic Department concerns about overconcentration of market power for extern steel products, but that National and U.S. Steel refused to consider similar charges.

similar changes.

"The companies (U.S. Steel and National were not willing to divest an ownce of capacity.

he said.

Mr. McGrath said the two proposed merger posed special problems because they came before the Justice Department at the same time. Considered together, Mr. McGrath said, the two mergers would have resulted in an impermissibly high concentration of market power for certain steel products, thus violating the Justice Department's threshold for acceptable mergers.

mergers.
"They (the mergers) didn't just shade ove that threshhold," he said. "They moved ove that threshhold like a flood."

Mr. McGrath, however, was repeatedly critical cized and questioned by Senatura Dan Quaylate Republican of Indiana, John Heinz, Republi can of Pennsylvania, and Arlen Specter, also seems of Pennsylvania Republican, for not fully considering the inspect of fierce competition from foreign steelmakers in the U.S. market.

the Justice Department can ignore competition they (U.S. steelmakers) get from the world maket," said Mr. Heinz.

Said Mr. Specter: "It may be nece legislate to force the Justice Department to tai into account imports in making merger de

Mr Quayle told Mr. McGrath his failure address imports was fueling a campaign in Courgess—strongly opposed by the administration—to limit steel imports to 15 percent of the U, market. Imports now take more than 20 percent of the unarket.

public policy decisions that you are not going Mr. McGrath acknowledged the Justice II partment is reviewing its merger guideline especially the role played by imports in proving competition for U.S. steelmakers.

But he told the senators that there are areas. the industry where imports did not have mus impact and thus should not be considered

Penn Central Moving Base to Connecticut

The Associated Press NEW YORK - Penn Central Corp. nounced Thursday that it is moving its hea quarters from New York to Greenwich, Co necticut, a New York suburb, April 2.

The announcement said about 195 emp will be affected by the move. Penn Central moved to New York from Phi adelphia in the late 1970s, Keith Perkins,

The company makes products and suppliservices in the areas of electronics and defens telecommunications and energy. -NMBLE ... AUTOS TAX FREE AUTOS TAX FREE

SHIPSIDE TAX FREE CARS

All Makes - All Models European and worldwide delivery Insurance - Shipment FREE MURTICOLOR CATALOG SHEPSIDE BUILDING POB 7568, Amsterdam Airport-C Holland, Telep27152833, Telep22568

TRANSCO TAX FREE CARS We imap a constant stock of more that one fundred brand new core, competitively priced.

Send for fire containing & stock list Transco SA, 95 Noordstoon, 2030 Artwerp, Belgium Tel, 03/542 62 40 [10 Fires].

The 35207 TRANS 8.

SAVE ON YOUR TAX FREE CARS

TRY US REST
Roll-Royce, Berdey, Moseroli, de Tomoso, Jogor, Boyer, Roll-Royce, world wide deliveries Heating's Artsheddives B.V.
P.O. Beer 45, 3720 AA de Elle
Tel 31.30.742811 Lx 47750 hees

TAX PRE CARS
TRANSCAR 20 row Le Sourc, 75176
Prois, 14: 500 US 04. Nice 35 95 23
Antwerp 223 97 85. Coames 39: 43.44
AUTOS TAX FREE

MERIN TODAY'S RUSINESS WORLD DENANCIS USADERS IN MAKE INTERCORP BURGIE

Tolans 35546 PHCART B

RIROPE & USA SPECS, All makes for worldwide delivery for stock. Send for o TAX-FREE condi-BMW - MERCERS - PORSCHE VW - SAAB - VOLVO EUROPE AUTO EROKERS POB 214, 3430 AR Nieuwegein Holland Int. (0) 3402-41346. The 76068 EAB NL

Mercades Benz 1705...$20,250 M/Benz 500 $1/55...$20,250 Jagow XJ6...$22,700 Forqui/Fornsha/Rolls Symbol, 6/70 Fort Lune, Lexebot. Tels 491 8845. Teles: $113663

NEW MERCEDES CARS Investigate delivery from stock 200 SSI-SEG-SI BUTE INC., Townsor, 52, Frontdort, W. Gerra. 1sk 611-232351, The 411539 EXPERIENCED CAR TRADERS for Mercedes, BMW, Porsche, offer fell service import / export US DOT & BA for bount 8, decler. Coscomicio Motors, Testesogenete, 8, 4 Dunsel-dorf, W, Germany, Tel. (0)-211-434546, Telbo, 650/374

US SPEC NEW CARS READY SOON. 911 Targa, 911 Convertible Parache 930, Four Mar-codes 500 St. Tel: London 579 350. EUROPORT YAX FREE CARS All makes, Call for free catalog. Box 12011, Rotterdom Airport, Holland. Tel: 010-623877. The 25071 EPCAR NL INT'L TOURIST QUIDE to gas you in Paris & Airports 527 9 ARIS PA YOUNG LADY 527 O.
Triangual interpreter and trans.

PARIS: 525 81 QT YOUNG I PARES 553 62 62 - FOR A V.I.I. multingual young lody, your froval companion. SOCETE DIANE PARIS 260 8\ Mart & women guides, security &
ing cor services, 8 one - 12 pm. NOTE THIS PHONE: 757 42 481 of once in your dicry. Your V.I.P. travel - composion. SINGAPORE - INT'L GUIDES. Singapore 734 % 28: TOKYO-1043060, European 📏 Top Executives Girls-Friday, 💸 H/KONG, KOWLOON 724 15 Multingsol buyer constant. MUNEYA TRAVEL COMPAN Multiingool Tal 295 395. LADY COMPANION 03 997 A London / Airports / Trovelling, S WENCH RYERA. Interpreter, To Companion. Tel: (73) 61 78 63 PERSONAL ASSISTANT 747 52 Poris, International & Ironel. YOUNG LADY, linguist, chouff, will travel. Loadon 747 3304.

PAGES 18 & 1天 FOR MORE CLASSIFIEDS

BCTS BNT1, Text Free Care, Alway, stocks brand new Mercades, Bt. Forsche, Ferrari, Joguer, Bt. Worldwide delivery, De Keiserfel VGU 2018 Artwerp, Tte 7290 B Tel. 3 / 233 99 54. The 7290 BOSS. BOATS & ECREATIONAL VEHICLES RECREATIONAL . YACHT, Nichoban 43 $55,500, CT 37 $65,000, Carter 30 $19,000 Angeletos, 2 25th Martiou St., H gos., 15561 Athens. The 222066. LEGAL SERVICES ELEGE

U.S., LAWYER - executive IMMAK TION, FRANK T. HOLLAND, I Bichwand Ave., Saite 203, Hoss Taxon 7705, Tak (713) 789-0904. Board cartified. NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTANT STORY OF THE STORY SERVICES

.

وه د و معز

** ****

Atta

Pringles Bis and Transport Transport

APRIC

· A Eigh

S when he

4.1271

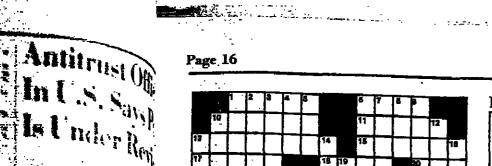

A CONTROL OF THE PARTY OF THE P

METAH

YOUNG LADY PA/Interpreter & Tourism Guid PARIS 562 05 8

YOUNG LADY City Guide and travel compani 830 52 42

1 PARIS PA PARIS: 520 97 95

Wat to 1

New 2

Yrve ...

44

And a

Mar Maria

M. N.

j's west

tret ift.

Same

45 ejeskar um.

ig ∰angerija Samangan

Same Same

e age i trace of the

A Day

and the state of

The state of the s e de la serie

独身 珠衫 (2)3

※ 編集力をあって part of 1997

TAX MIST CO.

A HAR EAST

Marie Sire of the second secon

The con-

.

8. 1. 80

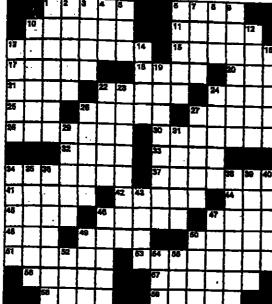

To an area.

Access in .

A Park Control i despes

The state of the s

internal and the second

ACROSS 1 Charleston. e.g. 6 Indecent 10 The north wind 11 Tear-jerker 13 Comic verse 15 Stubborn 17 inflexibility 18 Anacreontics' 20 Tiny 21 Islet in la mer 59 Employing 22 Parting word in Pamplona 24 Finale for Friml 25 Marsh 26 Injure 27 Diverting 28 Sea cucumber 30 Flaunts 32 Sheltered at 33 First letter of the Arabic alphabet 34 Discritical mark $7 Cuts molars 41 Atlanta university 42 Happen again

14 Choice cut of 45 Yule fuel

46 Writer Ben 47 Con 19 Li'l Abner's 48 British inc., land 22 Man-made once 49 Banifiber Iran 23 Shabby 50 Inaugurate 51 Tar 24 Skill 26 Memorable 53 Loser comic Cox 56 Damascus is 27 Household its capital appliance 57 Isolate 58 Plaintiff 31 Alaskan rooms DOWN 35 Overacts 1 Euphemistic 36 Early August oath 38 Browbeaten 39 Father of 2 Underworld Andromache . .do-weil 4 Kind of barn or 40 Statu 5 43 Raw-silk color 5 Suffix With Horrible," journal comic strip

34 Monastery

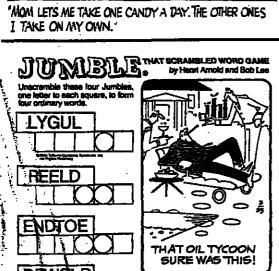

6 Veins of ore 47 Of the art of 7 A son of Seth flight: Abbr. 8 Peruke 49 Lyon product 9 Spring beauty 10 Sight in many a cellar 52 Joanne from 12 Tease W. Va. 13 Blizzard 54 Sailors' org. creation

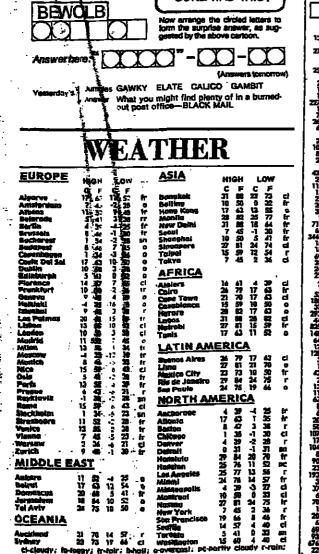

Rheingold"

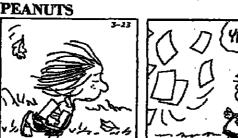

© New York Times, edited by Eugene Maleska.

DENNIS THE MENACE

BLONDIE

WHAT'S YOUR

BEETLE BAILEY

SOMEONE DREW

A MOUSTACHE

ON YOUR WIFE'S

PETHFOGGER

WOULD LIKE TO MAKE

A DEAL SIRE

GARFIELD

PICTURE, SIR

IT'S BEEN SITTING IN

THE POT FOR TWO ~ WEEKS

IF I EVER FIND

OUT WHO DID THAT,

HEADS WILL ROLL!

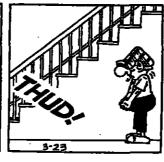

THATS

TERRIBLE

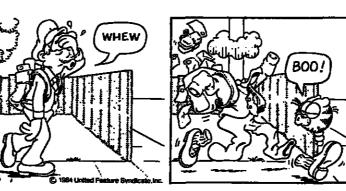

Canadian Stock Markets

Amsterdam

BOOKS

THE MARCH OF FOLLY: From Troy to Vietnam

By Barbara W. Tuchman. 447 pp. Illustrated. $18.95.

Knopf, 201 East 50th St., New York, N.Y. 10022.

Reviewed by Christopher Lehmann-Haupt

N HER latest book, Barbara W. Tuchman I — the author of such well-known and successful works as "The Guns of August" and "Stilwell and the American Experience in China" - has set herself no less a task than to probe the very roots of folly as it has revealed itself over the long course of human history. Among her conclusions is that folly is sometimes caused by people's "wooden-headedness." At other times, it results from "cognitive dissonance," or an unwillingness to listen to the facts. On still other occasions, folly occurs as a consequence of ignoring previous history -or, one might almost say, as a result of folly.

But then it may be that I'm muddling Tuchman's message. Let me try another approach.
What she is also trying to do is look as closely as possible at four major acts of folly in human history. These are the Trojans' decision to move the Greek horse within the walls of their city; the refusal of six Renaissance Popes (whom Tuchman blithely refers to at one point as "the Renaissance six") to arrest the growing corruption of their church and to recognize the increasing restiveness that would lead to the Protestant secession; the British misrule under King George III that eventually cost England her American colonies; and the United States's mishandling of the conflict in Vietnam.

Tuchman takes pains to point out that she chose these particular examples because they meet three criteria. Those who were responsi ble were warned in advance of the potential for disaster. There were feasible alternatives to the course they took. And it was groups, not individuals, who perpetrated the foolishness.

The first two seem to me gratuitous since it is hardly a case of folly to act without knowledge of the consequences when there is no alternative line of action to pursue. The third may be part of what gets her into such trouble in "The March of Folly," for it is hard enough to explain why individuals act a certain way in history, let alone to account for group behavior in the past. As for undertaking to explain four such wildly different cases of folly in human history — well, I suppose if one has promised oneself to square the circle, one might as well go ahead and cube the sphere.

But perhaps I'm still misunderstanding what she is up to. And there is yet another possible way one might approach her new book. In it, she has gathered four historical essays, each approximately twice as long as the one that precedes it. Having noticed that in each example a group pursues a policy contrary to its own interest. Tuchman has tried to generalize, calling the result "The March of Folly."

But the generalization doesn't work. First, the four examples don't bear any resemblance to one another, except, very superficially, for the British loss of her American colonies and the United States's "loss" of Vietnam. Second. the essays are detailed narrative accounts of certain historical events and not at all concerned with the search for underlying principles. Thus, when Tuchman gets around to drawing conclusions, she is forced by the breadth of her canvas into uttering fatuities. "Failure of communications appears to he en-demic to the human condition," she informs us at one point. "Historical mistakes are often irretrievable," she discovers at another.

And in summing up why the Renaissance Popes provoked the Protestant secession, she drops the following bombshell: "First, it must be recognized that" the attitudes to power of "the Renaissance six" "and their resultant behavior were shaped to an unusual degree by the mores and conditions of their time and sur-roundings. This is of course true of every person in every time, but more so in this case because the mores and conditions of the Italian governing class of this period were in fact so exotic."

Exotic to whom, besides outlanders lik: Martin Luther and his fellow Northern Europeans, who were bound to find their Southern neighbors exotic? Did the Italian governing class seem exotic to the people they ruled, who one would assume, were part of "the surround ings" that shaped that class? Or is it simply that the mores and conditions seem exotic it. Tuchman, which leaves her, not for the first or last time in this book, committing the historic: fallacy of judging the past by present stan

But any way one approaches "The March o Folly," it is unsatisfying, to say the least, Bette books have been written about Vietnam, the American Revolution, the Renaissance Pope and the Trojan Horse. Better things have been said about human folly. In her book's intro-ductory essay, Tuchman cites "a perceptivcomment by Ralph Waldo Emerson." apparently once warned, "In analyzing histor do not be too profound, for often the cause are quite superficial." The problem is that sh has taken his advice too literally. Not only ha she confined herself to the shallower weli springs of history, she has committed the fur ther sin of treating them superficially.

Christopher Lehmann-Haupt is on the staff The New York Times.

BBC Plans Soap Opera

United Press Internation

LONDON - The British Broadcastin Corporation will launch "Londo Royal," a soap opera about the adventures of family-run hotel in London's West End me elled on the Goring Hotel near Victoria St tion, on its World Service next month. The will be three 15-minute episodes a week

BRIDGE

By Alan Truscott

MOST users of the nega-tive double consider that a double of one diamond, as shown in the diagram, promise both major suits. Whether this must be 4-4 or could be 4-5, 5-4 or 5-5 is matter of partnership agreement, in the deal shown North had heart fit was quickly located. 404

The cue-bid of three diamonds 7165 suggested a slam, which was 🙎 🗓 18 reached after South cue-bid in spades. The slam was a reasonable proposition, with every high card pulling its weight, but was

South won the diamond lead with the ace and ruffed a diamond lead the two chib winners in the closed hand.

Other Markets March 22

ning with the king when West ducked, and ruffed another diamond.

The club jack now left West on lead in the following position after winning with the

♦ K 8 6 3 ♥ K Q 10 4 ♦ A 72 ♥ A 9

ruff and sluff. This wor sometimes be a good move, I did not disturb the declar He ruffed in his hand 2 cashed the heart ace. Then crossed to the spade king, drtrumps and claimed his sla The club queen took care the remaining spade loser

In practice West tried: other diamond lead, giving the dummy. 4 Q 8 7 not easy to reach.

Playing double-dummy, the slam is easy to make: South sim use of his clubs. If West had returned a trump, for example, the declarer would have taken the nine and the ace before ruffing a club.

Then he would have drawn the last four tricks with top spades and four t

Britain's Talbot Appoints Chief Executive

Talbot UK, the British subsid-iary of Pengeot of France, has named Geolfrey Whalen chief executive officer and has reported its first profit in a decade. Previously assistant managing director for manufacturing, personnel and in-dustrial relations, Mr. Whalen succeeds George Turnbull.

Mr. Turnbull's five-year contract as managing director and chairman expires in April From Talbot he will move to inchcape, the interna-tional trading and vehicle-distribution group, where he has been named managing director.

Jean Boillot, vice president of Aztomobiles Peugeot, the parent company, has been appointed non-executive chairman of Talbot UK, beginning next month.

Talbot made an after-tax profit last year of £3.1 million ($2.1 million) in contrast to a £54.7-million loss in 1982. The company was last profitable in 1973, when it earned £3.75 million.

Mr. Whalen's appointment is een by industry analysts as a vote of confidence by Peugeot in British

The company was profitable last ear largely because of stronger denand from Iran for Talbot car kits. These car kits are modeled on the kd Hillman Hunter, a four-door oxy saloon car with a trunk, and vere sold in Iran as the Peykan, the country's best-selling car.

Talbot provided the "guts" of he car — the engine, transmissions he car — the engine, transmissions tired. Previously, Mr. Rauschen-nd suspension — while the Irani-plat was the carrier's systems direcas made the rest, including the tor for field operations.

Security Pacific Names Smìth Vice Chairman

Security Pacific Corp., with assets of more than $40 billion, has elected Robert Smith vice chairman and member of the office of the chief executive. He succeeds Frank Cahouet, who resigned to become chairman and chief executive officer of Crocker National Bank, 57-percent owned by Britain's Midland Bank PLC

Kleiner Perkins is one of the three largest venture firms in the United States. In addition to helping the development of U.S. companies, the partnership has assisted in the development of about 85 foreign

Scandinavian Bank Ltd., which is based in Britain, has appointed Helge Wennike in London as a member of top management re-sponsible for all Danish-related business worldwide. Mr. Wennike is currently managing director of Copenhagen's Jyske Bank, the fifth-largest Danish bank.

— By LYNNE CURRY

In related moves at Security Pacific, William Ford was elected vice chairman; John Kooken, an executive vice presi-dent, was also elected chief financial officer, and David Lovejoy, Security Pacific's treasurer, was also elected an executive vice president.

body panels, wheels, battery, trun and glass.

Last year Talbot sold 87,840 kits to Iran, nearly twice as many as it sold in 1982, and shipped £25 million of spare parts to the country. The total value of kits and parts exported to Iran was about £125

Pan American World Airways has named A.L. Rauschenplat, 51 to head the airline's Latin American operations. Mr. Rauschenplat succeeds Patrick J. Oliver, who re-

RESIDENTIAL PROPERTIES: ON THE FRENCH RIVIERA

Le dernier carré... dans le "Carré d'Or" de Monte-Carlo in the "Carré d'Or" of Monte-Carlo. At the Park Palace, only a few apartments are still available.

Facing the sea, in the gardens which extend from the Casino, the Park Palace is expecting you and you are invited to visit its sumptuous apartments its private interior swimming pool, its sophisticated security system and the luxury boutiques of its shopping gallery "Les Allées Lumières".

The Park Palace, a new way of life and the joy of living in Monte-Carlo.

> Information and sales: LEGADEL S.A.

25, avenue de la Costa - Monte-Carlo Tel.: (93) 50.92.86 - Telex: Legven 479276 мс and at Real Estate Agencies in the Principality of Monaco.

Nork completion guaranteed by: Banque de Placements et de Crédit (Monaco) (of the Groupe de la Société de Banque Suisse) 🐇 cusuranty through the: Banque Centrale Mondo

Instrumentarium Pushing Into Diagnostic Gear

By Junis Kaza International Herald Tribune

Kleiner, Perkins, Caufield & Byers, a California-based venture HELSINKI — Oy Instrumentarium AB was founded in 1900 by capital company, has appointed E. the Finnish Association of Medical Floyd Kvamme as a general part-ner. He will be based in the Palo Doctors as an importer of surgical equipment. Domestic sales and dis-Alto office. Mr. Kvamme was fortribution of about 10,000 medical merly executive vice president, products are still a major part of its market and sales, at Apple Computer. Mr. Kvamme is to be in-volted in financing new Silicon business, but it is the company's push into high-technology diagnosvolved in financing new Silicon Valley tenures, including electron-ic parts, personal computers and tic instruments that has attracted the attention of investors.

U.S. analysts are impressed with the Finnish company's products in the new field of nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR) imaging technology. NMR works by exciting atoms in the body by strong mag-netic fields. Energy emissions from the atoms are gathered and formed into images, which allow viewing of soft tissues and liquid accumulations invisible to X-rays.

NMR equipment designed to obtain high-resolution images operates with such powerful magnetic fields that the equipment must be specially insulated within hospitals and climics learness territing offers. and clinics. Instrumentarium offers lower-resolution equipment that does not require extensive insulasimple as possible, so it is not just for people who are highly qualified [image] interpreters.

Mr. Kavervuo said Instrumentarium's NMR equipment could find a market in many hospitals and some larger medical practices as a screening tool for patients, who could then be sent to special centers for examination by the more expensive high-resolution methods. The company expects approval to distribute its NMR ment in the United States. Joe Pikul, an analyst at Amhold

& Bleichroeder Inc., a New York brokerage, calls Instrumentarium probable "sleeper stock coming out

"You can get a very fast screet—it costs to purchase ultrasound sysing for emergency rooms," Matti tems, a competing form of technology the company's 38-year-ogy. He emphasizes that NMS of old president, explains. "This can be quite a good tool for a surgeon, internal bleeting and other fluid actions in the body or damage to soft tissues.

> While analysis are impressed with Instrumentarium's NMR products, some are not sure that the company's shares are favorably priced. "I like the NMR." says Gerry Nordberg, a partner in Rein-heimer Nordberg Inc., a New York brokerage specializing in Scandina-vian securines, "My problem is you have two fairly mundaine divisions. A large proportion of the sales and carnings are in eyeglasses and com-Instrumentarium's 1983 sales "a great slot" for investment and a million), up 13 percent from 1982, probable "sleeper stock coming out while net income after taxes, but of the present bear market." But he before appropriations, rose 20 per-cautioned that a leading New York cent to 60 million markkas. While a hospital had recently vetoed the divisional breakdown of 1983 sales purchase of a sophisticated and ex- was not available, in 1982, sales of the United States.

Kavetvuo savs. were 760 million markkaa ($150 Instrumentatium's shares, having

Instrumentarium's Datex division develops and makes monitoring equipment for anesthesiologists, including devices suited to new methods introduced in Scandinavia that are still seeking acceptance in other medical communities. "The operating room is a small market area, but this is an area where Scandinavian anesthesiologists are world leaders, where the U.S. market comes, almost always, behind the European market," Mr.

Mr. Kavetvno says he may consider listing shares of the medium-sized Finnish company in London be used to acquire a U.S. medicalor even Stockholm someday. He can take his time picking the secand third foreign markets for tion would be to gain mark cleared the hurdle of an over-thecounter listing in New York in late yet to fir summer of 1983 as the first Finnish he said. company ever to list its shares in a hion

. . . 1.

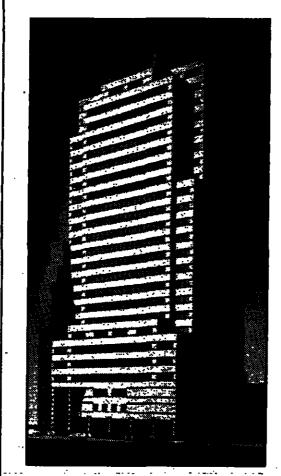

at regard to the

Matti Kavetyuo

supplies company.
One reason for a foreign acquisiresources, Mr. Kavetvuo explanad But he said Instrumentarium has yet to find an attractive candidate.

"During the last three years, the prices of medical companies have been so high, that if you invest in pensive NMR system, illustrating optical goods, mostly eyeglasses tarium's issue of L2million Ameritation, and to that kind of acquisition, and begin and contact lenses in Finland, and sales of hospital catering equipment is priced near the high end of what

INTERNATIONAL REAL ESTATE

Own. THE MOST Prestigious BUSINESS LOCATIONIN THE WORLD

ELMONICO PLAZA represents an unprecedented opportunity To purchase one or more floors of a new luxury office building in New York City. Complete by January of 1985, DELMONICO PLAZA will be surrounded by the General Motors, IBM, AT&T and Trump Tower buildings in Manhattan's fashionable Plaza District. Investors may wish to purchase for occupancy or leasing. Prices at completion are guaranteed. Further information is available through the following representatives—but hurry, there are only 24 floors and already 7 are

55 EAST 59 STREET, NEW YORK, NY

WEST GERMANY:
CARL C. FRANZEN
HAMBURG TEL: 33-50-41 TELEX: 162661

Sabetti S.R.A.
MILANO
TEL: 77-55 TELEX: 315696

OVERSEAS CONSULTANTS:

BARCELONA TEL: 209-29-99 UNITED KINGDOM & FAR EAST: Goddard & Smith

LONDON

TEL: 930-7321 TELEX: 8955411

CANDINAVIA: HIPOLITO GONZALES JOSE ALVAREZ Per Rønne as MADRID TEL: 267-67-81 OSLO TEL:46-32-00 TELEX: 74177 FRANCE: Goddard & Smith. Richardière

Talhar & Wong Pte Ltd PARIS TEL: 265.47.13 TELEX: 640301 SINGAPORE TEL:913-522 TELEX: RS22258

International Property Counselors, New York Tel: (212) 980-0800 . Telex: 668771

All sales are subject to the offering plan filed with the State of New York.

CHATEAU SAINTE-ANNE-

A UNIQUE INVESTMENT IN A PROTECTED WORLD

In a park of 2.5 hectares with fountains, ponds, typical French gardens, swimming pool and club house, tennis court, and on the site of the old chateau, stands the residence. Its tripod architecture allows for maximum sunlight and space in all apartments and on all terraces. It was built with frist-class materials. Sales office on the premises:

30-34, avenue de Fabron. 06000 NICE. Tel. : (93) 86.45.86

Return coupon to: SERIMO 9, rue de la Paix, PARIS. Tel.: 16(1)26L5L73 Without any obligation on my part, I would like to receive, free of charge, your documentation on the Residence Prestige Chateau Sainte-Anne. _First name

Address:

_Tel.:. I am interested in : Studio \square - 2 R, \square - 3 R, \square - 4 R, \square - 5 R- \square

CANNES

PROVINCIAL CHATEAU

4,950,000 F.F. Large chaice of other villas, apa

57 LA CROISETTE 06400 CANNES TEL.; (93) 38.30.40 TELEX; 461.425 F

PENTHOUSE INTERNATIONAL Your real estate agent in Can If you can afford it...
We've got it!

UPMARKET NVESTMENT OPTION MONACO'S

WURE SHORE artments for sale, generating

% per year for three years. LEASE PAYMENTS GUARANTEED

Tel.: UK 0696 60191 (Trust Attorney for sellers)

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE'S NEXT FEATURE:

RESIDENTIAL PROPERTIES

on the FRENCH RIVIERA, PROVENCE REGION LANGUEDOC-ROUSSILLON & CORSICA

WILL BE PUBILISHED ON friday, June 8

Portsmouth, New Hampshire ELEGANT HISTORIC MANSION RESIDENCES

dominium residences for a formanae few. These grand houses are rare des of early American colonial architecture—a unique, once in a life-time opportunity for those who seek to maintain a gracious life style. These several magnificent residences with beautifully preserved surroundings, adjacent to Commission nce of authentically restored nal interiors (dains from 1730)

· gracious living areas with a minimum • outlook over private park and mater resident condomi landscaped grounds. uith, less than an hour from Boston, is the center of the seacoast area's lively community life, includ-

area's lively community life, includ-ing: Theater-by-the-Sea; concerns, gourmet restaurants; sports; tennis; golf; fishing: beaches. And remember, New Hampsbire is virtually tax-free. This is an exceptional opportunity to combine living with the beauty of the past with the amenities of today.

Three Custom House Court, PO Box 4493 Portsmouth, New Hampshire, 03801 603-436-1546

Historic Restorations, Property Management, Development

TORONTO -- CANADA CONDOMINIUM INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

- 4 Years Guaranteed Return From Can. $40,500 Down
- No expenses to be paid by purchaser Varied, attractive purchase plans
 Up to 101/2% guaranteed return over a four year period Option to purchase with a 40%, 5-year
- self-amortizing mortgage, increasing return on invested capital, to 12% Price range from Can. $81,000 to Can. $127,000 Apartment sizes from 1,198 sq.ft. (111 m²) to 2,010 sq.ft. (187 m²)
- 2, 3, 4 bedrooms, multi-level In addition, purchaser benefits from the following:
- Constant appreciation in value Desirable location, fully rented
- Modern conveniences and recreation facilities Shopping and transportation in close proximity Complete management facilities

WINZEN REAL ESTATE LIMITED THE WINZEN GROUP: Attn. Marketing Manager 67 Yonge Street, Suite 700 A Leading Develops Sales, Property Manage-ment and Marketing Tel.: (416) 863-0071 - Telex 06524301 Organization

INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY IN SWITZERLAND

BLUCHE MONTANA CRANS ONE OF THE MOST FAMOUS SKIRESORTS

IN SWITZERLAND 3 Cholets Available Immediately
4 Cholets Available in Fall '84
With Exclusive Authorization to Sell to Foreign Buyers
Top Quality Construction*
IN 1987 MONTANA WILL HOLD THE

ALPINE SKI WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS ALTIVE SN WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS
Skiing year-round on the Glocier
(The U.S. Sky team trains from Autumn through Winter)
In Winten Skiing, ice skoting, curling, horseback riding In Summer. Golfing & skiing, fishing tennis, swimming & horseback riding.

$300,000 GILBERT SCHARL in du Cambra CN 1000 Pully-Lancaurie Sy Phone 41-21-288218 or 41-21-282217

North Carolina

Excellent modern 174,000 sq. ft. one-story building on 22 acres. 40% Ā/C.

MODERN MANUFACTURING PLANT CENTRAL VIBGINIA

Excellent labor market, easy acress to Internates, RR siding, Well over 120,000 sq.f., plant attached to over 8,000 sq.ft, office area. Plant covered with overhead cranes with 20° clearance. Suitable for manufacturing with up to 50 acres. D. Kendali

Star Route, Box 64 A Mine Run, Virginia 22568 - USA

REAL ESTATE ACQUISITION AND INVESTMENTS

Œ CRAIG GERMAIN COMPANY

Specializing in Dallas and North Texas, U.S.A. P.O. Box 6/0769 Dallas, Texas 75261-0769 (214) 258-8860

JARDINES DE LAS GOLONDRINAS MARBELLA

Apartments and villas at Marbella's finest beach. Superbly located in mature sub-tropical gardens

The apartments and villas Spacious rooms with wide balconies, sea and garden views. Modern, rationally designed bathrooms. Custom-built French oak kitchen units equipped to American standards Independently controlled air-conditioning.

The gardens

Over 25 acres of mature sub-tropical gardens shaded by trees, overflowing with plants. Complete with a stream which tumbles down through the lakes, jacuzzis and swimming areas. Traditional courtyards with fountains at the centre.

The amenities

The finest sandy beach in the area. The 5-star Don Carlos Hotel: Swimming pools, windsurfing, water ski-ing and other water sports. Eleven tennis courts-four of them floodlit. Horse-riding centre. Preferential green lees at two of Marbella's finest golf courses.

The management An affiliated property management company operates a comprehensive range of services, principally: 24-hour security protection, building maintenance and rentals. Prices for apartments from $80,000 with excellent mortgage facilities.

Pull documentation is available on request from any of the following offices:

Jardines de las Golondrinas, 32 St. James's Street, London SWIA 1HD. Tel. 01-839 5727. Jardines de las Golondrinas, Carretera Cadiz Km 198 500 Marbella, Spain. Tel. (52) 83 11 66/83 12 38 Telex 77 694 jago es mobilières Interna 17a boulevard Royal (Forum Royal), 2449 Luxembourg.

Hong Kong

Tel. (352) 47 01 71/72 Telex 3127 deco. Montpelier International Properties, 15-F Duddell Street. Central Hong Kong. Tel. 5-23 18 23 Telex 74 783 imex-hx.

Your legacy: A 40-acre ranch and a wayof life

As big as all outdoors, Forbes Magazinells now of-fering substantial land for skiers, hunters, naturalists and lovers of America's magnificent Old West. For the pleasure of you and your family today, these ranch estates range in size from 40 to 74 acres. They are adjacent to the Forber Trinchera Ranch in southern Colorado, and will be an important legacy in the future of four level ones. Prices start at $25,000, with down payment as low as 1% and monthly payments of $250, including interest at 9%. For details and color brochure write or phone:

P. McCaldin/Forbes Europe Inc. P.O. Box 86C London SW 11 3UT, England

FOR SALE ltheus/Axo Glylada ares

1,024 sq.m. plot for sale. Can be used for umercial purposes. Please contact:

Mrs. Palaiologou Parrasiou 10 Street.

AG. Panteleimon

rnon-104 40 Athens, Gro

Tel.: Athens: 8235929.

INTERNATIONAL REAL ESTATE

appears every Friday

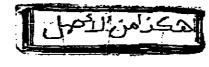

To place on advertisement contact

01-223-9066

•

our office in your country (listed in Classified Section) or:

181 Ave. Charles-de-Gaulle 92521 Neuilly Cedex, ce. Tel.: 747.12.65. Telex: 613595.

ance Puts fficial Seal n Fashion

isterial Lunches of Week's Shows By Hebe Dorsey

onal Herald Tribuns RIS - Like the two tricolor floating above the "Journées et à Porter" sign in the Tuiler-iarden, French fashion has been more official.

two successive days this two government ministers nselves out to hopize ners and the fashion press. On lay, the minister of the interiaston Defferre, and his wife, nde Charles-Roux, an author has won the Goncourt prize, hosts for an eight-person at the ministry. Among the swere Yves Saint Laurent and ntner, Pierre Bergé, and Robordez, president of the Union ale des Arts Decoratifs. In a hydrangea setting, the lunch spent talking about the cosmuseum that will open next hove the Musée des Arts Déifs on the Rue de Rivoli. s. Charles-Roux is in charge first exhibition, "La Mode et Amants" (Fashion and Her rs), which will be a selection of h clothes from the Renaisto 1940, set off by texts by French authors. The "bombe e" dessert bore a D for Def--a couture touch that came surprise to everybody, includ-

int Laurent was there presumbecause the second exhibition, luled for March 1986, will be a spective of his designs.

re, Jack Lang, was host at a rson huncheon party at his area huncheon party at his area huncheon party at his area above the Palais Royal with the cite, in the line as. Among the guests were Laurent and Berge and 10 designers, a blend of old and g foreign and Parisian, such rès and Kenzo, Ungaro and ke. Notably missing were Car-Givenchy and Dior's Bohan as as Lagerfeld, who designs the el collection in addition to his for the first time this season. ked about the choice of guests, ique Lang said: "Yes, I know bit unfair and my busband s. But we didn't have any gh space in the salon and we > l of this was very nice — up to int. But, after all, fashion is t making clothes, a point perfectly by Thierry Mugler Claude Montana, who dei the honor because they had

e first big day of the ready-tocollections was Thursday, red at the end of the show.

Comme des Garçons presented this number in layered gray and black jersey at the Paris ready-to-wear showings which has become Japanese day. The question in everybody's mind was, "Do the Japanese have any-where to go?" After the culture where to go?" After the culture shock they produced last season, and with the waves still being felt all over the world, the answer remains: "If beauty is in the eye of the beholder, it will take a lot of the beholder, it will take a lot of looking before ordinary people can Truth is that the Japanese have almost come full circle and they run the risk of walking through the same tracks. The asymmetrical draping, the strange layerings, the weirdo shoes and the equally weirdo make-up (with red ears and no lipstick) were all there, and so so strong as last season, despite the theatrics and head-splitting music. However, two things have happened this season: Color has caught up with the Japanese and so has the female body. For the first time, and although the Japanese ed to have everybody at the designers still show a lot of black, gray and navy, there was a brightening of the palette. Rei Kawa-kubo, who designs the brand Comme des Garçons, did it with warm and subtle earth shades; her fabrics are reportedly colored in rice fields with natural dyes. Yohji amamoto went further with acid lemon and orange and even frankly

As for the figure, one had the feeling that somewhere under all those layers there was a woman's body. Some of the clothes, notably

The Japanese still have no sense of humor, which makes all the difference between them and the London scene that they have abundantly copied. But they still win hands down with beautiful fabrics and a sense of volume and proportion that comes through forcefully.

The best part of a cleaner-cut Comme des Garçons was the bewas the archaic feeling of the ginning especially the uneven, lay-clothes — but the impact was not ered togas, which mixed chrysanthemum prints with paper-thin, solid-colored satins. Junko Koshino hid very normal and understandable clothes under theatrical shapes that floated over the nurway iike wild, black birds. By far the strongest hand was Yohji Yamamoto's in his showing of the best coats and jackets in town, plus equally powerful knits. Buyers are now used to reading these clothes, which seem to appeal to the world's youth, who will not dress like the Establishment. Kal Ruttenstein, of Bloomingdale's, for one, had the right approach. "We buy it in small doses," he said. "Tshirts here, skirts and coats there."

Sikh Radical Warns New Delhi of Punjab Revolt

. Washington Post Service NEW DELHI - The leader of the radical wing of the movement for greater Sikh antonomy in the northwest state of Punjab warned Thursday that a new offensive by the Indian government against Sikh militancy would assure a renewal of violence in the state.

The Sikh leader, Jarnail Singh Bhindranwale, said that the government's decision to register a case of sedition against Harchand Singh Longowal, the Akali Party president and head of a moderate Sikh faction, was forcing Sikhs to adopt a "path of revolt." He added that a government ban on the All-India Sikh Students' Federation had inflamed passions against the government of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi.

Mr. Bhindranwale's remarks, in a statement in the Sikh Golden Temple shrine in Amritsar, underscored the increasing unity be-tween the two leaders at a time when the government appears in-tent on dividing the two factions.

The crackdown on the student's federation and the legal moves against Mr. Longowal are viewed by Sikh activists here as indications of a new government strategy to deal with the Punjab crisis. The aim, the activists maintain, is to nudge Mr. Longowal away from the center of the protest movement and to isolate Mr. Bhindranwale, possibly forcing him into action that would justify the use of securi-ty forces inside the Golden Temple complex, which is heavily guarded Increasingly, events have slipped beyond the control of Mr. Longowal, who is considered to favor nonviolence, and into the in a unified stand a hands of Sikh fundamentalist extremists led by Mr. Bhindranwale.

Harchand Singh Longowal ...gets support of radicals

The two movements had acted separately during most of the 19-month-long Sikh agitation for political power in Puniab. Then Mr. Longowal's mainstream Akali Party shifted its protest from rural parts of the state to Amritsar to ioin Mr. Bhindranwale's militants in a unified stand against Mrs.

5 Cuban Refugees Up in the Air, Seeking Someplace to Call Home

LONDON - British immigration officials searched Thursday for a country willing to accept five Cuban refugees who have spent much of the last three weeks on jumbo jets crossing the Caribbean and Atlantic.

The five have spent eight consecutive days and covered 20,000 miles (32,000 kilometers) jetting back and forth between London and Kingston, Jamaica, on British Airways, which has spent more than $13,500 to feed and fly them.

The five, a married couple and three men, left Cuba, wanting to settle in Florida. Frustrated by delays in getting U.S. entry permits, they flew on March I from Jamaica to Nassau, the Bahamas.

The Bahamians would not accept them because they had no passports and after 12 days sent the five to Jamaica, beginning their saga aboard British Airways jumbo jets. They have been refused entry by the Bahamas, three times by Jamaica, and by Bermuda and Britain

They were finally placed Wednesday in the custody of British immigration officials at Heathrow Airport while the Home Office and British Airways sought help from the United Nations or the British High Commission in Jamaica. In the meantime, they were housed at the Harmondsworth Detention Center near Heathrow.

federation, which calls for secession, has come under the influence of Mr. Bhindranwale. Amrik Singh, the federation's president, is a close associate of Mr. Bhindranwale, and the students' most militant leaders have been living in the sanctuary of the temple complex and functioning there as a pressure group of hardliners.

Since the arrest of about 100 student activists since the federation was banned on Monday by government decree, many of its leaders have gone underground. Launched 35 years ago under Akali sponsorship and with a secular character, the students' federation is now acciple, and political measures that cused by the government of operatinclude increased autonomy but ing guerrilla training camps. The guerrillas, New Delhi claims, have not independence. It also seeks the merger of Punjabi-speaking areas contributed to a wave of murder of states contiguous to Punjab and more than 80 persons dead since mid-February. About 165 have been killed since March 1983, accjoint capital of Punjab and Haryana states, to Punjabi jurisdiction. cording to the government.

The sedition case against Mr. Longowal is based on the publication of a pamphlet he had circulated among heads of government who attended the Commonwealth summit conference in New Delhi in November, in which he accused the Indian government of torture and repression of Sikh youth and with attempting to erode the Sikh cul-mre. In his appeal, Mr. Longowal asked the delegates to pressure Mrs. Gandhi's government for justice for Sikhs.

However, faced with the prospect of offending religious sensibilities by sending its forces into the temple complex, and even possibly triggering rebellion by moderate Skhs throughout Punjab, the government appears unpertain ernment appears uncertain over how to press its case against Mr. Longowal.

In a conciliatory tone, Home Affairs Minister P.C. Sethi said in Parliament on Wedneday that no arrest warrant had been issued against Mr. Longowal and that the filing of an initial sedition case, called a first information report, was "purely a technical matter and nothing was being done."

Government spokesmen have offered to refer the political and since expressed a desire to defuse economic demands to tribunals, the crisis by reopening negotiations but the Akali Party insists they are with the Akali Party, an unlikely not negotiable. occurrence if the case against Mr. Longowal is pressed.

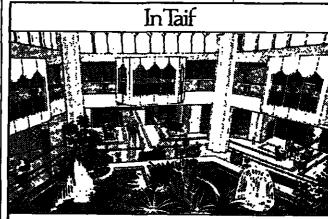

the transfer of Chandigarh, the

Also at issue is an Akali demand

The impasse has left Mrs. Gandhi in a difficult position in the face However, the dilemma the govof parliamentary elections, which ernment faces is how to deal with must be held before January. the demands put forward by Mr. Yielding to the Sikh demands Bhindranwale's extremist wing, which are not part of the Akah would cost her substantial Hindu support in Punjab, where Sikhs Party's original charter of 45 dehold only a 52-percent majority, as well as in the neighboring states of Haryana, Himachal Pradesh and mands. Mr. Bhindranwale is insisting on recognition of Sikhs as a nation and a separate law for Sikhs. Rajasthan, which are key voting The Akali Party has confined itself blocs for Mrs. Gandhi's Congress-I to religious demands, most of Party in the Hindi-speaking Ganwhich have been conceded in prin-

Hamburg Fire Kills Woman The Associated Press

HAMBURG - One w died and five were injured in four fires that broke out Thursday in Hamburg's St. Pauli red-light disfor a larger share of river waters trict, the police said. A 30-year-old that flow through Punjab into other man was arrested on suspicion of states. The central government has having set the fires, the police said.

THE ADVANTAGE IS INTER-CONTINENTAL MASSARRAH INTER CONTINENTAL HOTEL

Hawiyah Street, Saudi Arabia, P.O. Box 827, Telev: 450055 For reservations call your nearest Inter-Continental sales office

Daily News in English with highlights from the International Herald Tribune

Morning from 8:45 to 9:45 a.m. Evening from 10:00 p.m. to 2:00 a.m. RADIO KLOV 92.8 FM, Paris' English-language station.

G.M.T. 17.00

CARTOON TIME SKY CHANNEL MUSIC BOX FANTASY ISLAND 18.05 18.55 CHARLIE'S ANGELS

VEGAS STRAWBERRY ICE

21.35 21.55 CHARLE CHAPLIN SKY CHANNEL MUSIC BOX

BROADCASTING TO CABLE COMPANIES IN EUROPE & THE UK VIA SATELLITE CONTACT SATELLITE TELEVISION FOR FURTHER INFORMATION TELEPHONE LONDON (01) 439 0491 TELEX: 266943

When was the last time you had a choice of sleeping arrangements?

Only Philippine Airlines offers you a choice of sleeping arrangements when you fly First lass on board our all-747 services to Asia.

We were the first airline to offer 14 full length Skybeds in our private Cloud Nine edroom. Skybeds that are certified for landing and takeoff, and assure an uninterrupted rest. Now, you have an additional choice of sleeping arrangements. New luxurious Siesta Seat the cliners on the main deck for those who prefer to move around between snoozes.

As the first Asian airline to fly to Europe, we know how to provide you with the total comfort you expect when flying First Class to Asia. Now with an exclusive choice of sleeping arrangements.

Next time you fly First Class to Asia, book your preferred flying and sleeping arrangements with Philippine Airlines' all-747 services from Amsterdam, Frankfurt, London, Paris, Rome or Zurich. There has never been a better choice.

Philippine Airlines New First Class

Maria Steel 2 No. 1  AND THE REAL PROPERTY. Bu it $#$,7 --The Homes or

Barre Bire

黄 簡明後 5

AND BLANCE

圆铁电验论.

* **

SEALON ...

Miller In Miller Start La Miller La

E MALE STATE

in Libraria.

Marille 14.

the Marine

A Crist. 13pr.

THE WAY

* 4

Marie Services

rejusaren

Turiste proje

Mart in the

MARRE

FID 1 44

de training

The second

事体 "八八"

A * . 1 2 T

grand the 行しています。

-trapical sergen-

Nicaragua to Name U.S. Envoy

Reagan Aides Say Guerrilla Heroine Is Unsuitable for Post

New York Times Service MANAGUA - The Nicaraguan government plans to nominate a Sandinist guerrilla heroine, Nora Astorga, as ambassador to

Some Reagan administration officials said, however, that they hoped to prevent Miss Astorga's nomination from being accepted by Washington. They said her activities during the Sandinist-led revolution made her unsuitable for Miss Astorga, 39, rose to national fame six years ago after a high-ranking Nicaraguan National Guard officer was found murdered in her bedroom. Since the Sandinist victory in 1979, she has held several important government posts.

The man she said she helped murder, General Reynaldo Perez Vega, was the second-ranking officer in the National Guard under President Anastasio Somoza. U.S. intelligence officials said that General Pěrez had been a Central Intelligence Agency "asset" in Nicara-gua and that they had considered him a colleague.

Speaking in Managua on Tuesday, Miss Astorga, now deputy for-eign minister, said she expected her Some Sandinists have complained said, however, that the CIA, the vigor.

Defense Intelligence Agency and the National Security Council had the nomination. State Department opinion on the matter was said to Under established diplomatic practice, the Nicaragnans would send a formal note to the United States asking for "agreement" that Miss Astorga be the next ambassador. The withholding of agreement is very rare and is usually not publicized. The State Department declined comment Wednesday.

Western diplomats in Managua said a U.S. refusal to accept Miss Astorga because of an act she committed during the revolution would further increase hostility between Astorga called the killing of Gener-Washington and Managua.

This month, the Reagan administration said it would nominate Harry E. Bergold as U.S. ambassador to Nicaragua, replacing Anthony C.E. Quainton. The selection of Mr. Bergold was quickly accepted

Sources close to the Nicaraguan government said Miss Astorga had been selected because she has ably advocated the Sandinist cause in countless interviews and speeches, nomination to be accepted by privately that their ambassadors in Washington within four weeks. Washington have not denounced Reagan administration officials the U.S. government with enough sador to the United States, Antonio already expressed concern about Jarquin, has been in the post about a year. Miss Astorga described the change as routine.

Miss Astorga attended Roman Catholic schools in Nicaragua and also lived briefly in Italy and the United States. She entered law school in Managua and made her first contacts with the Sandinists there in 1969.

After the killing of General Pérez, on March 8, 1978, Miss Astorga disappeared.

Days later, she sent a picture of herself in guerrilla fatigues to the newspaper La Prensa, which published it on the front page. With it was a communique in which Miss al Perez an act of "revolutionary justice" and urged all Nicaraguans to participate actively in the process of popular insurrection' against the Somoza regime.

Speaking in 1980, Miss Astorga, said the decision to participate in the murder was "very painful" for her, especially since it meant she would have to leave her children for as long as the war continued.

Soviet Aid Promised The Soviet ambassador to Nicaragua said Wednesday night the Soviet Union would help mobilize "other world forces" to defend the nation from U.S. aggression, Ren-ters reported from Managua.

Daniel Ortega Saavedra giving a speech in Mexico City, before cutting short his visit to return to Nicaragua.

hit a mine in Nicaragua's Puerto Democratic Force. The United Sandino harbor, 40 miles (65 kilo- States rejected the protest. meters) southwest of Managua, on Tuesday. Five crewmen were injured and the ship, which was hauling 250,000 barrels of crude, was heavily damaged. The mine was laid by CIAbacked rebels of the Nicaraguan Democratic Force, Nicaragua said. The group has acknowledged plac-ing mines at Puerto Sandino. The Soviet foreign minister. Andrei A. Gromyko, formally protested the incident to the United A Soviet oil tanker, the Lugansk. States, which backs the Nicaragnan

Mr. Ortega said requests for mine-sweeping equipment are "well under way," but declined to say which countries had been con-

Daniel Ortega Saavedra, the created by a single generation but has much deeper roots in the past," an East Berlin intellectual said. leader of Nicaragua's junta, said Wednesday that Nicaragua had Young people cannot grow up without history but need a feeling asked for international help "to get the necessary equipment that will permit us to clear our ports of this of history to develop a national consciousness, he added. type of terrorist explosive," United Press International reported. throughout the center of East Ber-famous avenue. It was brought back in 1980 after being kept out of sight for four decades outside Berseems to be interpreted in Havana as a blow to revolution in the West-It was Erich Honecker, the present Communist Party leader and nment, Cuban officials say, but also because the Grenadian revolution turned bloody from its Cuban officials frequently use ful or military. This is so not only because U.S. troops occupied the island and installed a favorable

officials have expressed preference the term "Pol Pot faction" when for a negotiated solution in private referring to Grenada's deputy because they favor a new Salvador- prime minister, Bernard Coard, an leadership including civilians and his hard-line allies who over-Maurice Bishop in October, precipput back recently, are standing in a shaded little park called Bebel Square, named after August Bebel, 19th-century socialist. Nearby, still on Unter den Linden, the stat--ne of Baron Karl vom und zum

To Bolster Its Historical Legitimacy Stein, a civilian reformer and sym-bol of progress, is back. His monu-the Great, Scharmhorst, Gness ment carries a dedication by "the and the other Prussian gene

By Henry Tanner

BERLIN - East Germany's

Communist leaders are reviving

Prussian history in an effort to give their 35-year-old state a solid historical underpinning and to cultivate an East German national feel-

Frederick the Great, the Prussian generals who fought Napo-

19th century and, more recently, on their pedestals, or at least in the-newspapers and school books.

Martin Luther was honored last year on the 500th anniversary of his-

It was not always so. After World War II and the partition of Germany, the official impulse of the new state was to make a complete break with the past. "Today, ve know that our state was not

The revival of history is evident

A famous 19th-century monument of Frederick the Great, riding high on his horse and surrounded by his officers, is back in its hon-modest "Frederick II."

Frederick Wilhelm III.

A few steps away, each on his pedestal, are Gerhard von Scham-porst and August Neidhardt von eral Ludwig Yorck von Warten-burg, who formed a common front with the Russians and turned on expense, partly with funds provid-ed by West German Protestants. have pleased any Prossian And on a bridge across the River Soree, the 19th-century allegorical figures placed there by Karl Friedrich Schinkel, Prussia's foremost loon, the political reformers and chitect and urbanist have been neoclassical architects of the early with back recently.

Schinkel, who was responsible for most of the Berlin public boildfor most of the Berlin public boilding breeches, are virtually their ings of his time, is mentioned freast those of the prewar Ger quently and with admiration. A lavishly illustrated book on him can be bought in the lobby of the bricht, Mr. Honecker's pred Palace Hofel, which Swedish archisor, wanted his army to look tec's have built with great care be- cally different from its tween the cathedral and other historic landmarks.

The latest adventure in reviving bistory is a biography of Bismarck by Gerd Engelberg, a historian, which is to be jublished soon.

Until now, Rismarck, the chancellor of Imperial Germany from 1871 to 1890, was seen in official East Germany as an overbearing reactionary Prussian Junker, remembered mostly for having mned the Socialist Party. Now he is described as a nation builder and political thinker, even though perhaps on the wrong side of the barn-cades, and it is said that he showed considerable intelligence in the bandling of his relations with Rus-ored place on the esplanade of Unter den Linden, the city's most West German historians believe that the revival of history fulfills an urgent political and psychological need of the East Germans. One said: "They know that this state was not created by the working class, contrary to their initial propaganda. They have the problem chief of state, who first referred to Frederick as "the great" again. Many others still prefer the more that people want to leave and they want to give them something solid to hang on to. They have the proximity of West Germany, and the fact that their people are watching Western television every day.

Gneisenau, two Prussian Army commanders who fought against "Their state is 35 years old. Their Napoleon. In the same row is Genpolicy has always been to maintain it as a separate German state; they want to delineate it clearly from West Germany as well as their Napoleon in 1813 without waiting Eastern neighbors. So they need for orders from his hesitant king; history, German history, on their own home ground."

Some West German intellectuals Next to him is Gebhard Leberecht von Blücher, the Prossian field fear that the East Germans are laymarshal who played a decisive role in Napoleon's final defeat at Waing the groundwork for a claim that they, and not the Federal Republic, are the legitimate heirs of German history. West German historians also are wrestling with the problem of German history and new books are frequent.

Not all the reminders of history in East Berlin are new. At the Alte Wache, the Old Guardhouse, right systems and naval warfare.

grateful fatherland."

The Berlin Cathedral, across the guard every half hour to he avenue, is being restored at great commands and with a grin it expense, partly with funds around.

They are guarding the old m ment to the unknown soli which is now the monument to victims of fascism and militar The soldiers' insignia and (gray uniforms, with boots and Wehrmacht. Only the helmer different. It is said that Walte forms recall the American m as well as from the Soviet A whose ways he might have in Old buildings in provincial as well as in Berlin are now! restored in approximately original shapes and colors, unlike the huge impersonal tures that were put up durin. first 20 years after the war, landmarks that could have saved were torn down just to g of history.

U.K. to Investig Loss of Docume In a Phône Boo

New York Times Service LONDON - The Minist Defense has said that there be an internal inquiry into I document listing U.S. and P personnel working on a clas radar project was left in a phone booth at Heathrow Air

"The document itself isn't ; fied," a ministry spokesman "but it relates to an exercise; most certainly is." He said possible that "somebody in in the project inadvertently behind after making a call. found the three typewritten in the booth and took the ment to The Times of which informed the govern

The document carried the ing "Cold Witness" and its names, telephone numbers : dresses of 23 officers and officials attached to milit search offices and laborat Britain and in the United The Times said some of the corresponded with those list Pentagon telephone directe workers on radar, early w

Cuba, Reading a Warning in Grenada Invasion, Alters Tone Ricardo Alarcón, said that Reagan tion," Mr. Alarcón said, also point- ourselves" and "do everything pos-By Edward Cody administration officials "have used ing at U.S. military activity in Hon-sible politically and diplomatically, make every effort" to prevent dithe invasion as an image which, Cuban officials declare that they favor negotiated solutions to the HAVANA - The Cuban government, jolted by a defeat in Grenada that darkened the Cuban revolution's 25th anniversary, appears eager to project a foreign policy of cautious efforts to avoid wider conflict in Central America.

The search for a moderate image, although not an end to traditional support for Latin American revolutionaries, is, in part, the natural result of middle age. President Fidel Castro is 56. His revolution, which passed the quarter-century mark Jan. 1, has evolved markedly from its early years, when Latin America seemed ripe for armed up-

But the cautious note also seems to have intensified since U.S. forces invaded Grenada on Oct. 25, Mr. warning that President Ronald Reagan is capable of moving officials in Havana reason.

politically, helps toward an intervention elsewhere." "What happened in Grenada was a sort of stimulus," he said. Against this background, Cuban officials have redoubled preparations for attack against Cuba. Mr. Castro's entire government recently took a week off for a refresher in military training. The Cuban Army marked International Women's Day on March 8 by commissioning its first all-women anti-aircraft reg-

Most Cuban fears, however, cenanalysis, the Salvadoran presidential elections Sunday will have little effect on the country's civil war, and the guerrillas have enough strength to defeat the U.S.-backed Castro's aides say they believe the Salvadoran Army. The prospect of operation was insignificant mili-such a foreign policy reversal only tarily but highly significant as a months before U.S. elections could push Mr. Reagan to take new steps,

Dow Jones Averages

NYSE Diaries

provoke an immediate U.S. reaction." said Vice President Carlos Rafael Rodriguez.

He said that although Cuba believes the guerrillas can win, "we consider the most opportune for El likely to emerge from negotiations, threw and killed Prime Minister Salvador and for Latin America, rather than the guerrilla military ter on El Salvador. In the Cuban, for the general context, is first to chiefs likely to predominate in a itating the U.S. invasion. begin with the principle that the guerrillas can win, and second, through negotiations, to avoid what might occur" if they do.

Mr. Alarcon carefully avoided any indication that Cuba might aries in the 1960s, advice Mr. Casconfront the United States militari-tro rejected then. Mr. Rodriguez, ly through increased help to Nica-reminded of the dispute with Mosragua or to Salvadoran guerrilla rect U.S. intervention or to defeat ern Hemisphere in any case, peacethe policy Mr. Reagan is carrying Salvadoran conflict, even in preference to an outright military victory "But we cannot change the direcby the leftist guerrilla forces tion of his policies," Mr. Alarcon ked by Cuba and Nicaragua. said. "There is no way. We don't "A military victory by the guer- have any vote in the United rillas now in El Salvador would. States."

NYSE Index

Diplomatic sources said Cuban military victory.

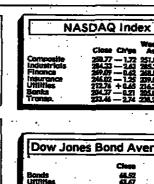

Ironically, Cuban talk of a negotiated solution rather than armed revolution in El Salvador recalls Soviet advice to Cuban revolutioncow two decades ago, insisted that naturally the importance of Grena-his caution for El Salvador did not da was more symbolic than real in ainst other countries as well. "It is a logic that only leads to "What can we do?" he said, then necessarily apply to other Lain practice, given the size of the island Cuba's deputy foreign minister, more and more direct interven-added that Cubans could "prepare" American countries or other times. and its geographical position."

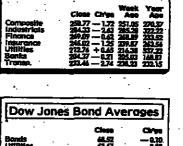

The Cuban ambassador to Grenada at the time, Julian Torres Rizo, has fallen into disfavor because he failed to detect the coming

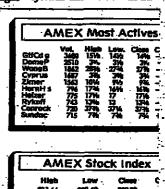

"Naturally, Grenada is a defeat," said Mr. Rodriguez. "But 7721 1894 1897 7476 4597 6496 7337 38 3796 6955 5876 58 6334 5776 574

18% 65% 37% 58% 57%

NYSE Most Actives

Dow Off 14.97 After Rally Fails

United Press International
NEW YORK — Prices on the New York

Stock Exchange took their worst loss in three weeks Thursday amid investor concerns about the U.S. budget deficit, interest rates and American Telephone & Telegraph Co.'s threat to cut its dividend.

Analysts said two portfolio managers executed selling programs early in the day, which depressed prices in blue-chip issues from the outset. But trading was not heavy, indicating that most institutions remained on the sidelines. The Dow Jones industrial average, which shed 4.92 Wednesday, attempted a rally at midday but closed down 14.97 to 1,155.88, its worst loss since it fell 22.82 Feb. 28.

Declines topped advances 11 to 4. Volume was 87.3 million shares, compared with 87.2 million Wednesday.

"The volume was not that overpowering and that shows there wasn't a selling panic like we had a few weeks ago," said Dudley Eppel of Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette.

AT&T was the most active NYSE-listed is sue, off % to 15%. AT&T warned that it might cut its dividend if the Federal Communications Commission did not shift some of the burden of "access" charges from the company to consumers and AT&T competitors.

Gulf Oil, which agreed to a $13.4-billion merger with Standard Oil of California, was second on the list, unchanged at 75%. Socal lost % to 33%. Superior Oil, which has a $5.7-billion merger agreement with Mobil, was fourth, off % to 41. Mobil lost % to 30%.

Sun Co., a 5%-point winner the previous two sessions on takeover rumors, tacked on 3% to 53%.

	12 Month Yigh Low Stock	DIN. YIL PE	Sis. 100s High Low	Clase Quat. Chige
	3646- 26Vz BrigSt 47%- 34Vz BristMs	1,360 4.6 30 1,60 3.6 15	1856 451/2 447/4	29% 44指— 和
nđ	25% 19% BrttPt 11% 5% Brock	1,54e 5.6 10 .70 1.7 35	344 27% 27% 160 6 5%	4 + 4
wċ	191/2 141/4 Brokwy 34 271/4 BkyUG	122 8759 300 94 7	23 1514 14% 43 3116 3114	15% + % 314 + %
of	2314 2014 BKUG pf 34 3014 BKUG pf	247 112	1 22 22 3 3274 3274	22 - K
~	2914 19 BrokFn	.16 7 13	SEA PRINCE BOOK	214- 16
is-	20% 14% BwnSh 37% 27% BwnGps	20 1.1 1.26 4.3 7	80 18 17% 98 29% 29%	17% 29%
tht	47% 32% BrwnF 32% 12% Brnwks	36 27 L	410 3/1/2 37/2 382 25% 24%	33% — % 244 — 4
	60 43 BrushW 19% 13 BucyEr	20 24 E 28 17 17 24 27	382 25% 24% 16 53% 53% 134 16% 16%	53¼ — ¼
of	2314 1412 Bundy	20 34 13	12 22 22	22
	43 26% Burting	216 23 7	9 16% 16% 468 28% 27%	28 - 16
	54% 35% Brinth s 7% 5% Brinopi	.55 E17 ⁸	913 444 431/4	44-11
on i	271/2 1994 BriN pt 50 4794 BriN pf	212 103 1.16e 23	1 29% 20% 882 49% 49%	20% 49%
725	2612 1476 Burndy 5744 4346 Borret	JA 53 16	53 1614 1596	15% — 14
ost	24% 14% Buttrin 14% 7% Buttes	240 54 11 1	1536 49 4894 5 1514 1534 30 114 114	15% — 14
00	THE PROPERTY OF	 	30 1192 1196	1116-14
1/2	37% 27% CBI Is	1.400 45 12	84 2214 31	314-114
·		236 41 17	521 65% 68%	%二节
wo I	511/2 38% CIGNA		100 414 414	14 - W
to	13% . 4% CLC	225 10.0	21 27/2 27/4	27% + 持
J	2712 18% CNAFA	1,20g11.9 E	104 271/2 2675 30 1014 1014	27/4 + 1/6
I	4276 3396 CPC int 211/2 1496 CP NH s	230 59 13 138 85 7	282 374 374 175 15 1494	37%
ı	271/2 19 CSX s		25 20% 24%	23% — 1/2 2444
	25% 6% C3 Inc		833 174 12	12 - 4

2006 2000 Control of the control of

DN. YM. PE 1915 High Low Good Crigor Colors of the 1915 High 2015 High 2015

.40 2.8 12 86 19% 19 19% + % .400 1.4 10 154 37% 36% 20% 20% 5 52 4.5 17 50 20% 20% 20% 20% 20% 3

Herald Tribune

Market Hand

Western Property

artist da

The second second and there is a Mer. Pruse mat perhance : War the same

Marian Lipings

and with the train

Mary Ash.

神医神术, (1) A STATE OF THE STA

affente iber ... partial to the second

Martin Land

Marie Language

Pistolar BOTH S. . . market in a second All the Street Print Page

模点, 機能関係 かんべつ Hand State Co.

mind und frange eine Gene

g. Ad Lateral

and the state of er and a second Mr Save the Part 10 April 1

医瞳线 一张的人。

And the green of

Bank San Palar

ن - ن∹ت الحالا

Andread and it is a second

ALC: 1

Agric Spice . eta: 44 e de la companya de l

練りついてい

ALE .

Mar Lypes

MAY Sir.

France Celebrates a Forgotten Sculptor, a Buried Life

by Joseph Fitchett

ARIS - Forty-one years after her death in an insane asylum, a sculptor is being rediscovered in France as a feminist heroine, with her story inspiring books, a play, a proposed movie and the first major retrospective exhibition of her art.

At the turn of the century, Camille Claudel was the foremost female sculptor in France and the most-important woman in the lives of the sculptor Auguste Rodin, her lover, and the writer Paul Claudel, her younger brother. Then in 1913, when she was 49 years old, her family had her committed to an asylum. The papers were signed by either her mother or her brother, a rising writer and diplomat who became France's ambassador in Washington and gained acclaim as a playwright and religious poet. At her family's insistence, Camille was kept institutionalized for 30

Now her memory has been revived. Most of her extant works - 70 sculptures plus drawings and etchings - have been assembled at the Rodin Museum in Paris for a major show (until June 11) that is attracting overflow crowds. "We've never seen anything like it," a museum aide says. "We have to turn people away on weekends. They come to see her work, but they really come because of what happened to her."

The show has also rekindled controversy about the magnitude of Rodin's artistic debt to her and about how he and her family treated her. A play and a biography about her, "Une Femme" by Anne Delbee, portray Camille as a feminist before her time, a victim both of Rodin, who, in Delbee's version, exploited her and then feared her, and of her family, which was scandalized by her. In rebuttal, the Claudel family's behavior is defended in a forthcoming collective biography by Paul Claudel's granddaughter, Rose-Marie Paris, and several psychiatrists and literary critics.

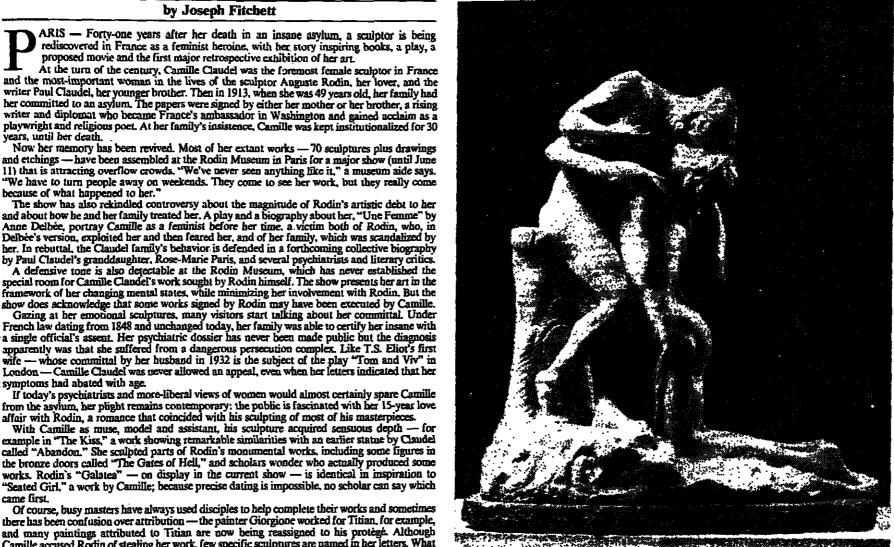

A defensive tone is also detectable at the Rodin Museum, which has never established the special room for Camille Claudel's work sought by Rodin himself. The show presents her art in the framework of her changing mental states, while minimizing her involvement with Rodin. But the show does acknowledge that some works signed by Rodin may have been executed by Camille. Gazing at her emononal sculptures, many visitors start talking about her committal. Under French law dating from 1848 and unchanged today, her family was able to certify her insane with a single official's assent. Her psychiatric dossier has never been made public but the diagnosis apparently was that she suffered from a dangerous persecution complex. Like T.S. Eliot's first wife - whose committal by her husband in 1932 is the subject of the play "Tom and Viv" in symptoms had abated with age. If today's psychiatrists and more-liberal views of women would almost certainly spare Camille from the asylum, her plight remains contemporary: the public is fascinated with her 15-year love affair with Rodin, a romance that coincided with his sculpting of most of his masterpieces.

With Camille as muse, model and assistant, his sculpture acquired sensuous depth - for example in "The Kiss," a work showing remarkable similarities with an earlier statue by Claudel called "Abandon." She sculpted parts of Rodin's monumental works, including some figures in , the bronze doors called "The Gates of Hell," and scholars wonder who actually produced some works. Rodin's "Galatea" — on display in the current show — is identical in inspiration to "Seated Girl," a work by Camille; because precise dating is impossible, no scholar can say which

Of course, busy masters have always used disciples to help complete their works and sometimes there has been confusion over attribution - the painter Giorgione worked for Titian, for example, and many paintings attributed to Titian are now being reassigned to his protegé. Although Camille accused Rodin of stealing her work, few specific sculptures are named in her letters. What is certain is that the quality of Rodin's sculpture declined after she and he separated.

Camille's own work revolves around her relationship with Rodin. At first similar to Rodin's Continued on page 8

"Abandon," by Claudel.

What Does Bach's Shoe Size or Love Life Tell Us About His B-Minor Mass?

by Donal Henahan

EW YORK — Let us suppose, just for the sake of supposing. that tomorrow a large cache of previously unknown letters of J.S. Bach were to come to light, discovered by workmen excavating for an apartment building in Leipzig.

Suppose, however improbably, that most of the letters were of a highly personal, confessional nature and only marginally concerned with music. Might musical scholars, nevertheless, be expected to show some interest in examining these papers? Silly question. They would, of course transple one another in the rush to be first, and justifiably so. The musicological community's curiosity would be especially stimulated because almost all the surviving prose of Bach is businesslike stuff: arguments with clerical superiors, eulogies of potential patrons, plans for reforming the practice of church music, and the like. Hardly any scholar writes about Bach without expressing some regret that so many details of his life have been buried by time. They assume, evidently, that knowing these details would help them in some way to understand more about Bach's music. And yet there has always been a wing of the musicology profession that insists on the essential irrelevance of biography. Its extreme champions contend that the incidents of a composer's life cannot be shown to influence his music in any significant way, and that the proper study of musicologists can only be the composition, not the compos

I hope this does not distort too much the position taken by Eric Werner, a musicologist (and biographer of Mendelssohn) who wrote to rebuke me recently for suggesting that Mahler's life and his music were so intertwined that neither could be considered without the other. I said I thought it likely that "the character of his works, with their febrile manner and drastic emotional swings, was largely determined by his St. Sebastian temperament and unstable mental state."

Werner rose against this heresy. If I believed that, he wrote, how could I explain "the Olympian joyfulness of Mozart's 'Cos Fan Tutte,' written at a time of total financial ruin, general lack of acknowledgement, and the break just before his father's death?"

Well, in the first place, I am a little surprised that Werner would select "Cosi Fan Tutte" to illustrate his point. Of all Mozart operas, this might be the one most closely tied to his personal experience.

It does, of course, have its moments of "Olympian joyfulness," but it also is a reminder that Mozart had arrived at a painful point in his married life. He could sympathize with a da Ponte libretto that not only accepted but embraced the moral frailty of men and women. We know is letters that Mozart worn reputation, and possibly her fidelity. And there is reason to suspect that Constanze (wonderful name) had reason to worry about a husband who. as he grew older, certainly took to gambling and running around with questionable companions.

Knowing even a few such details of the composer's life, we are in a position to listen differently to "Cosi" than we otherwise might. We hear a strain of regret in the music, a vein of rueful cynicism running just beneath the happily bubbling surface. "Cosi" is only superficially a charming tale. It is a confession of lost innocence. And so, as any responsible coach or teacher will tell you, a singer who has studied Mozart's life as carefully as his notes has a better chance of getting to the heart of the music than one who treats the score as an abstract

Do I belabor the obvious? Perhaps, But Werner's position is one held by many musicologists who like to look on their profession as a branch of science comparable to mathematics or physics. In fact, in defending its purity, they take an ideological, almost theological, view of the bject.

"Musicology," Werner goes on, "does not deal with Beethoven's paramours, nor Handel's bouts with sniftles, nor with the sexual potency of Bach, who sired 20 children... Musicology deals with the history, the substance, the structures of an art which sometimes, but by no means always, reflects the psychic situation of the creative artist. It is by no means bound to intrude into his innermost and intimate privacy.

"The Kiss," by Rodin.

But, of course, musicology as it is actually practiced by most of Werner's professional colleagues does deal with all those things. It is only Werner's austere brand of musicology that does not.

You have only to look into any respected journal to see the details of composers' lives examined from every possible angle. The question of Beethoven's "paramours," for instance, has been a staple of Beethoven scholarship for more than a century. Handel's health problems cifically, his blindness late in life — have hardly gone undocumented. Granted, the sexual potency of Bach has not been discussed much in musicological journals, but I suppose that is because his total issue is just about the only issue of Bach scholarship that has never been in dispute.

The point is, pace Werner, that it is ridiculous to attempt to exclude everything from musicology that one particular musicologist is not interested in. Denis Stevens, who takes a more ecumenical view in his "Musicology: A Practical Guide," illustrates again and again how the study of a composer's life can add to comprehension of his music.

Discussing Monteverdi's letters, he says that "it will be noticed at once that the flow of words not infrequently bears comparison with the best of his music. In many of the longer letters, there can be sensed the same white heat as from a creative crucible whose fusion of improvisation and formal discipline brought into being a taut masterpiece such as the 'Combattimento' or the chaconne 'Zefiro Torno.' "

And, Stevens goes on, "Apart from giving us a clear picture of the composer's personality, as it developed over the last 42 years of his life, the letters reveal sharply focused details of his professional career, in addition to colorful vignettes of some of the musicians and courtiers he knew and with whom he collaborated."

But why in the world would anyone want to know all those details about Monteverdi's life if they had no bearing on the music he created? Who would care to plow through Ernest Newman's multivolumed life of Wagner, or Cosima's interminable diaries, if not to learn more about the music? Why would we go back again and again to the voluminous Strauss-Hofmannsthal correspondence?

In some way, any reasonable person would agree, an artist's life and his art interlock and need to be considered as a whole phenomenon. Stevens quotes with approval the introduction to Edward Lockspeiser's "Music and Painting," which makes the point that present-day musical history "is largely based on the idea of technical analysis. This is not seems to be overshadowed."

Stevens points out that "it is incomparably easier to write plausible analysis than to give the impression that musical criticism should belong to the sphere of humane letters." Similarly, it is easier and safer to restrict research in musical history to the accumulation of documents than to venture out into the dangerous waters of historiography.

But venture we must and venture we will. To some extent, the paucity of personal detail that has come down to us about composers of the comparatively distant past such as Bach has contributed to the idea that their music was composed by abstractions, not human beings. The "pure" musicologist, understandably, often tends to specialize in periods where biographical detail is scarce or nonexistent. Nothing obtrudes to disturb the peaceful gathering of factual shards and fossils. That is a useful and responsible occupation, good for what it is good for. But there are other ways to approach the history of music. If you want to understand the music of Mahler, for one, you will get only so far by looking into the scores. At some point you will have to look into his life, and perhaps your own as well.

© 1984 The New York Times

'It's Caused Trouble,' Burgess Says Cheerily About '99 Best Books'

by Alan Levy

J IENNA — Anthony Burgess has created the year's first literary stir with a paperback quickie of a list called "Ninety-Nine Novels," grandiosely subtitled The Best in English Since 1939" and modestly subtitled "A Personal

Why 99? Why the arbitrary period beginning with Henry Green's "Party Going" (1939) and ending with Norman Mailer's "Ancient Evenings" (1983)? Why such writers as Len Deighton ("Bomber"), Ian Fleming ("Goldfinger") and Erica Jong ("How to Save Your Own Life")? Both Paul Theroux ("The Mosquito Coast") and his brother Alexander ("Darconville's Cat") in the same year (1981)? Saul Bellow for "The Victim" and "Humboldt's Gift," but not "Herzog" or "Henderson the Rain King"? And why so many American authors anyway?

In Vienna for a weekend to promote the German translation of his novel "Earthly Powers" and to give an hourlong reading in English at Shakespeare & Co., Burgess comes to lunch bristling with ready answers. Having just cut his nose shaving with a "contoured razor de-signed to do everything but give you a shave," he orders soup and strudel and asks to see his interviewer's copy of "Ninety-Nine Novels,"

"I haven't received one myself yet. I saw it at Shakespeare last night and kept peeking at the copies I signed, but didn't dare ask for one of my own. Such is my devotion to the German language and my very good translator [Wolfgang Kregel that I came here instead of going over to London to promote the '99 Best Books.' Anyway, it seems to have promoted itself without me, don't you think?

The confessional continues: "It's a silly, frivolous book. The idea was to get it written in two weeks and published in two months. I had most of the 99 books on my shelves. If not, I had already written brief articles about them, mostly for The Observer, that I could dig up in files, so it wasn't too big a

Having "with right modesty excluded myself from my list." Burgess explains away the arbi-trary number 99: "The reader can decide on his own 100th. He may even choose one of my own

"Ninety-Nine Novels" (London: Allison & Busby: New York: Summit Books) was a reaction, "an answer, if you will, to the official list brought out by the British Book Marketing Board, which chose the 13 best books since the war. They had a kind of committee of I thought, not very well-qualified persons." Burgess - a pub intellectual who has been depicted as "eating and drinking the way he writes; with indiscriminate pleasure" — lights a cigar before expounding on culture-by-com-

"And their choices were absolutely ridiculous! But what annoyed me was this damned British parochialism that shoves in someone like Elizabeth Taylor - not the famous actress, but the comparatively unknown writer because Elizabeth Jane Howard likes her, and they leave out books like Ralph Ellison's 'Invisible Man' and Mailer's 'The Naked and the Dead' and Thomas Pynchon. Even the committee had to agree that some major books are coming from America. But what's damnable is that taxpayers' money is going into the promo-tion of books like 'The Catcher in the Rye' or 'Herzog,' which don't need the British taxpayer, I think they and 'Lolita' were the only three American books.

(The Ellison and Mailer novels are on Burgess's list, as are Pynchon's "Gravity's Rainbow" and J.D. Salinger's "Catcher in the Rye." In "Ninety-Nine Novels." Vladimir Nabokov is represented by "Pale Fire" and "The Defense," but not by "Lolita.")

The official British list, Burgess insists, was "so bloody stupid that I said: 'RRRight! Let's take a long look at this and do it a little more seriously." He cast his vision back farther than the committee did: "To 1939, because you can't leave out a book like 'Finnegans Wake,' which was published that year."

Summing up his feelings about his book, the 67-year-old Burgess says: "I'm glad to hear it's caused trouble in London. I hoped it would."

Among those it has upset is Graham Greene, who "turned up in London for the lunch they gave for the 13 best novels," Burgess says. "I was invited, too, but didn't turn up. Graham mentioned my book and said that Burgess is an avid reader, but totally indiscriminating

His disagreement with Greene, both Burgess and his wife remark at different times, dates from when Burgess "did an interview with him for The Observer some years ago and later he said: Burgess put words into my mouth that I had to look up in the dictionary." Burgess savors Greene's sally and concludes: "Clever, but not worthy of a friend."

Anthony Burgess.

Other complaints about "Ninety-Nine Novels" were in a higher key, says Burgess. "They came from British reviewers for my trying to take a bigger stance. I've always admired the American novel and probably given it more space than most British critics would like. And I brought in American novels that no one in Britain knows: not just Alexander Theroux's 'Darconville's Cat,' which is mad, erudite, word-drunk. Rabelaisian, Joycean, Sternean, but Walker Percy ("The Last Gentleman") and

Continued on page 9

Burgess's Choice, 1939-83

1939 Party Going Henry Green, After Mony a ner Dies the Swan Aldous Husley. Finness Woke James Joyce A! Swim-Two-Birds Flant O'-

1940 The Power and the Glory Graham Greene. For Whom the Bell Talls Ernest Bemingway S-trangers and Brothers [to 1970] C. P. Snow. 1941 The Aerodrume Rex Warner.

1944 The Home's Mouth Joyce Cary. The Repor's 1945 Brideshead Revisited Evelyn Waugh.

1946 Ture Grean Merryn Peake 1947 The Victim Saul Bellow. Under the Volcano 1948 The Heart of the Matter Graham Greene The Naked and the Dead Norman Mailer. No Highway Nevil Strate. 1949 The Heat of the Day Elizabeth Bowen. Apr and Essence Aldous Huxley Nunction Eighty-four George Greell. The Body William Sanson.

1950 Scenes from Provincial Life William Cooper The Disenchanted Budd Schulberg 1951 A Dance to the Music of Time (to 1975) Anthony Powell. The Catcher in the Rise J. D. Selanger A Curomicle of Ancient Sunlight [to 1963] Henry Williamson. The Came Mutiny Herman

1952 Invisible Man Raiph Ellison, The Old Man and the Sep Erness Horningway. Wise Blood Flan-nery O'Conner. Sward of House [to 1961] Evelvn

1953 The Long Goodbye Raymond Chandler. The Groves of Acodeme Mary McCarthy. 1954 Lucky Jim Kingsley Amis.

1957 Room at the Top John Brune. The Alexandrag Quarter [10 1960] Lawrence Durrell. The London Novels [10 1960] Colin Macinness. The Assistant

1958 The Bell Iris Murdoch. Saturday Night and Sunday Morning Alan Stilling. The Once and Fu-ture King T. H. White. 1959 The Mansion William Faulkner, Goldfinger

1960 Focusi Justice L. P. Harriey. The Bulkon Trilogy [10 1965] Ohvia Manning. 1961 The Mighty and Their Fell Ivy Compton

Burnett Catch-22 Joseph Heller. The Fox in the Athr Richard Husbes, Riders in the Chariot Patrick White. The Old Men of the Zoo Angus Wilson. 1962 Another Country James Baldwin. An Error of Judgement Pamela Hansford Johnson. Island ous Huxley. The Golden Notebook Daris Less-

1963 the Girls of Siender Means Muriel Spark. 1964 The Spire William Golding. Reartland Wilson Harris. A Single Man Christopher Isberwood. The Defense Vladimir Nabokov, Late Call Angus

1965 The Lockwood Concern John O'Hara. Cocksure Mordecai Richler. The Monde

Anti-Death Lengue Emgsley Amis. Giles Gott-Boy John Barth. The Late Bourgeois World Nadine Gor-dimer. The Last Gentleman Walker Percy. 1967 The Vendor of Sweets R. K. Narayan 1968 The Image Men J.B. Priestley.Pavane 1969 The French Lieutenant's Woman John

1970 Bomber Len Deighton 1973 Sweet Dreams Michael Frayn. Gravity's 1975 Humboldt's Gift Sant Bellow. The History

Fowles. Portney's Complain: Philip Roth.

1976 The Doctor's Wife Brian Moore Falstoff 1977 How To Save Your Own Life Erica Jong. Eurewell Companyons James Plunkett. Staying On

1978 The Coup John Updike. 1979 The Unlimited Dream Company J. G. Bal-lard. Duber's Lives Bernard Malamud. A Bend in the River V. S. Naipani. Sophie's Choice William 1980 Life in the West Brian Aldiss. Riddley

Walker Russell Hoban. How For Can You Go? David Lodge. A Confederacy of Dunces John Ken-nedy Toole. 1981 Lanark Alasdan Geny. Darconville's Cat Alexander Theroux. The Mosquito Coast Paul Theroux. Creation Gore Vidal.

1982 The Rebel Angels Robertson Davies. 1983 Ancient Evenings Norman Mailer

The Greening of Ronald Reagan

by Daniela Iacono

ALLYPOREEN, Ireland — Ballyporeen is a one-street farming village like hundreds of others in Ireland, but the Town of Small Potatoes, as it is known in Gaelic, has one thing going for it - President Ronald Reagan.

Ballyporeen's 350 inhabitants still make telephone calls on crank-up phones. Cows amble along the road munching grass and the smell of manure hangs heavy over the state-gray row of houses. Its total security force is two policemen.

But Reagan is certain to shake the village into the 20th century during his trip to Ireland June 2-4, when he is widely expected to stop at Ballyporeen, 30 miles (48 kilometers) northeast of Cork, the spot closest to his great-grandfather's birthplace.

Whether he intends to woo the Irish-American vote, as critics contend, or is anxious for a first-hand look at his roots, as supporters say, Reagan is by far the most exciting thing that has ever happened to the southern Irish village.

"Words couldn't put it together how we feel," says a farmer, Liam

"Even if the president stays five minutes, it's a fact that he'll have come to Ballyporeen," continues Roche over a pint of Guinness in one of the village's six pubs — the Ronald Reagan Lounge.

John O'Farrell, its owner, says he changed the name of his pub in 1980 after Debrett's Peerage, the British genealogists, traced Reagan's roots back to Doolis, now an uninhabited swamp about three miles west of Ballyporeen.

The news stunned the village, O'Farrell says.

"It really changed everybody's outlook, gave them a sense of pride and achievement, that his great-grandfather came from our humble village," O'Farrell explains.

Debrett's found that Reagan's great-grandfather, Michael Reagan —

the name is also spelled Regan and O'Regan in the village register —was baptized in the Ballyporeen Roman Catholic church on Sept. 3, 1829.

Michael married Catherine Mulcahy in London in 1852 and then emigrated, with his two brothers, to Illinois after Ireland's five-year potato famine, which ended in 1851 after almost a million Irishmen had died of starvation.

"Michael and Catherine were just two of the million people who left Ireland at that time," says the Rev. Eanna Condon, the parish priest, who keeps the village records. Father Condon says the Reagan ancestral home "was certainly made of mud, with a hole in the roof for a chimney and a peat fire in the middle of the room. The land is just boggy swampland O'Farrell, however, is selling soil from the Reagan land for 50 pence (43 cents) for a tiny packet. His wife, Mary, goes out to collect more earth when supplies run out.

In a new gift shop over his Ronald Reagan Lounge he also stocks Reagan T-shirts, a wooden Reagan family crest for 40 Irish pounds, a Reagan silk batik for 45 pounds and pictures of Reagan on horseback as a Hollywood actor. A nearby grocery store sells Reagan bumper stickers saying, "I've been to Ballyporeen, have you?"
O'Farrell, who hangs an autographed picture of Reagan over his open fireplace, has not the slightest doubt that the president will visit his pub. 'I'm as certain he will open the doors and order a drink as I am certain of anything in this life," O'Farrell says.

Reagan's Ballyporeen roots already have made the misty village a port of call for vacationing Americans.
"We planned it on our vacation," says Pat Russell, from Long Island over a pint in the Ronald Reagan.

"We're big Reagan supporters and we're planning to send him a picture of Ballyporeen," says Ron Vallar, a social studies teacher from Queens, New York. "I doubt he'll see it, but we'll send it to him

Officials estimate that 20,000 to 50,000 Irishmen will come to Ballyporcen to catch a glimpse of Reagan. The Irish government is building a landing pad on the green outskirts to accommodate any presidential helicopter.

"It's going to be a real zoo when he comes," Russell fears. "I'm not sure a lot of the people here are aware of the sheer monstrosity of the thing," says Father Condon.

Residents are confident that an automatic telephone dialing system will be installed by the time the president arrives. But not many other alterations have occurred.

"It can't change Ballyporeen," says Con Donovan, a local councilman and grocery store owner. "This is a country town and it'll remain one."

INTERNATIONAL DATEBOOK

VIENNA, Bösendorfer Hall (tel: 65.66.51). To April 2: International Piano Masphony Orchestra, ORF Choir, Lothar Zagrosek conductor (Bruckner, Mar-•Museum Moderner Kunst (tel: EXHIBITION — To March 31: "Helmut Schober: Interlude."

Staatsoper (tel: 53240).

OPERA — March 24, 27, 30: "Rigo-letto (Verdi). •Theater an der Wien (tel: 57.96.32).

MUSICAL — March 24-31: "Cats." eVolksoper (tel: 53240). BALLET — March 25 and 29: "Gi-selle" (Adam).

BELGIUM

BRUSSELS, Opéra National (tel: 218.12.11). OPERA — March 25, 27, 30: "Der Fliegende Holländer" (Wagner).

Palais des Beaux-Arts (tel: 512.50.451 CONCERT — March 31: National Opera Symphony Orchestra, Ray-mond Spasowski piano, John Pritch-ard conductor (Glinka, Rachmaninoff, Tchaikovsky).

Parc des Expositions (tel: 427.42.50).

EXHIBITION — To April 1: International tourism and leisure show. GHENT, Koninklijke Opera (tel: 25.24.25). OPERA — March 25 and 31: "Die Entführung aus dem Serail" (Mozart).

DENMARK

COPENHAGEN, Mermaid Theater (tel: 11.43.03). THEATER—From March 28: "Dubliners" (based on James Joyce's texts).

Odd-Fellow Palacet (tel: 11.27.22). CONCERT — March 25: Copenhagen Chamber Trio, Chamber Group of the Royal Orchestra (Tarp, Poulenc).

Radio House (tel: 10.16.28).
CONCERTS — March 29 and 30: Radio Symphony Orchestra, Jill Gomez soloist, Frank Shipway conductor (Wasner Williams).

soldist, Frank Shipway conductor (Wagner, Williams).
March 31 — Radio Light Orchestra, Sverre Bruland conductor (Nyhus).
Tivoli Hall (tel: 15.10.12).
Royal Danish Ballet — March 27:
"Don Quixote" (Minkus).

ENGLAND

LONDON, Barbican Centre (tel: Barbican Art Gallery — To April 1: New Spirit

Barbican Hall — March 25 and 26: Charles Aznavour.
March 30: London Symphony Orchesura, Norman del Marconductor (Mendelssohn, Schubert, Beethoven, Mozart). Barbican Theatre — March 24: "Cyrano de Bergerac" (Rostand). British Museum (tel:636.15.55).

 EXHIBITION — To May 17: "Treasures from Korea."

•Coliseum (tel: 240.52.58). English National Opera — March 24, 27, 29: "Gloriana" (Britten).

National Theatre (tel: 928 22.52). Cottesloe Theatre — March 24-27:
"Strider: The Story of a Horse" (Rozovsky/Tolstoy). March 28-31: "Glengarry Glen Ross" (Mamet). Lyttelton Theatre — To March 31: Master Harold and the Boys" (Fugard).

Olivier Theatre — March 26-28:
"Saint Joan" (Shaw). •Royal Academy of Arts (tel:734.90.52).

EXHIBITION --- March 24-May 27: The Orientalists: Delacroix to Mausse.

Royal Opera House (tel: 240.10.66).
Royal Ballet — March 24: "Rhapsody" (Rachmaninoff) "Enigma Variations" (Elgar) "Les Noces" (Stravinden)

•Tate Gallery (tel: 821.13.13). EXHIBITIONS—March 28-May 13: "Cedric Morris (1889-1982). To April 29: "The Kessler Bequest." Victoria and Albert Museum (tel:

589.63.71). EXHIBITIONS - To April 26: "Patricia Meyerowitz: A Retrospective."
To May 20: "Bill Brandt: Literary Brit-

•Wigmore Hall (tel: 935.21.41). CONCERTS - March 24: Nash Ensemble, Thomas Allen baritone (Debussy, Poulenc). March 25: Kodály String Quartet (Mozart, Brahms).

PARIS, Carré Silvia Monfort (tel: •Centre Georges Pompidou (tel; EXHIBITION - To May 21: "Bon-nard."

•Galerie Etienne Causans (tel: EXHIBITION — To April 21: "Miguel Condé: Gouaches."

•Le Petit Journal (tel: 326.28.59). JAZZ - March 29: Watergate Six +

One. • Musée du Grand Palais (tel: 261.54.10). EXHIBITIONS—March 24-June 25: The Treasure of Saint-Marc from Venice."

To June 11: "Masterpieces of American Painting 1760-1910."

Musée du Louvre (tel: 260.39.26).

EXHIBITON — To April 2: "New Additions to Department of Painting 1980-1982." Musee du Petit Palais (tel: 265.12.73).

EXHIBITION — To May 6: "William Bouguereau 1825-1905."

Musée Rodin (tel: 705.01.34).

EXHIBITION — To June 11: "Camille Claude!"

35%

of resident continental Europeans listed in the International Who's Who are regular readers of the International Herald Tribune.

A recent survey shows that resident continental Europeans listed in the International Who's Who trust newspapers - two to one - over magazines, radio or television. Moreover, 35% of them read the International Herald Tribune... that's more than read any other publication in the English language.

Important people trust the Trib.

 New Morning (tel: 523.51.41).
 BLUES — March 26: Lonnie Brooks.
 JAZZ — March 27: Roland Hanna, Ron Carter, Tony Williams.

Opera (tel: 742.57.50).

BALLET—March 24, 28, 29: "Marco Spada" (Masilier/Auber).

Opalais des Congrès (tel: 758.22.22). BALLET — To April 1: Maurice Be-jart's 20th-Century Ballet.

Salle Gavean (tel: 563.20.30).

Ensemble Orchestral de Paris —

March 28: Jean-Pierre Wallez conductor (Stravinsky, Bon, Haydn).

Salle Pleyel (tel: 563.88.73). Walter reyet (tel: 303.6873).
Orchestrede Paris — March 28 and 29:
Myung-Whun Chung piano and conductor (Vivaldi, Beethoven, Dvorák).

Théâtre des Champs-Elysées (tel:

723.36.27).
OPERA — March 24: "Le Medium" (Menotti), "Trouble in Tahiti" (Bernstein). "Le Sourire de l'Autre" (Nikiprowetki), Andrew Meltzer and David Robertson conductors.

Théatre Musical de Paris (tel:

CONCERT - March 25: Moscow Symphony Orchestra, Evgueni Svtlan-ov/Balery Klimov violin (Tchaikovsky, Balakirov). OPERA — March 24: "Le Coq d'Or" (Rimsky-Korsakov) Gabriel Chmura

GERMANY

BERLIN, Deutsche Oper Berlin (tel: 34381).

OPERA — March 31: "Tosca" (Puccinı).

•Philharmonie (tel: 26.92.51).

Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra — March 24: Dmitry Sitkovetsky soloist, mann. Brahms). March 30 and 31: Krystian Zimerman soloist, Christoph Eschenbach conductor (Beethoven, Bartôk).

OSLO, National Opera (tel: 42.77.24).

BALLET — March 29-31: "Hamlet" (Shostakovich) Per Ake Andersson

533.66.70). ductor (Beethoven, Bartok).
CONCERT — March 31: Crete FRANKFURT, Alte Oper Frankfurt (tel: 13400). OPERA — March 24: "Boris Godu-ROCK — Grandmaster Flash and the nov" (Mussorgsky) Heinz Fricke con-Eurious Five. Café Theater (tel: 63.64.64).
THEATER — To March 31: "1984" (Orwell) English-speaking theater.
Oper Frankfurt (tel: 256.25.29).

OPERA — March 24: "Il Turco in Ita-lia" (Rossini) Volkmar Olbrich con-ductor.

LISBON, Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation (tel: 73.51.31). CONCERT — March 29: The Tallis STUTTGART, Staatstheater (tel:

203.22.20). OPERA — March 24: "Echnaton" (Glass) Dennis Russell Davies con-ductor.

HONG KONG

HONG KONG, City Hall (tel: 526.47.54). CONCERTS — March 29: Verdehr March 31: Kronos Quartet.
RECITAL — March 25: Leonard
Rennario piano.

The Landmark (tel: 567.11.11).
Chinese Cultural Show — March 25: Tukienese Glove Puppets.

The Ocean Terminal (tel: 567.11.11).
Chinese Cultural Show — March 30:
Chinese Folk Songs and Dances.

MILAN, Teatro alla Scala (tel: 80.91.26).
BALLET — March 30: "Romeo and Juliet" (Prokofiev) Michel Sasson con-

WEEKEND

RETRO gala nights Sendors to Thursdays, 9 p.m. 3 am DISCO special 79, Champs-Elysées, Paris. Tel.: 723.68.75.

HEALTH CLINICS

PRIVATE HOSPITAL Dr. GALL Fresh calls treatment. Sound on the method of Dr. Nichous. A famous treatment for preventing different old use syntams.

Private Hospital Dr. Gali, Klesterstrasse 179 D-6732 Edenkoben, W. Germa

OPERA — March 25: "Idomeneo" (Mozart) Gianandrea Gavazzeni con-ROME, Teatro Olimpico (tel: 39.33.04).
CONCERT — March 28: Trio of Milan (Haydn, Mendelssohn, Ravel).

TOKYO, Gotoh Museum (tel: 703.06.61). EXHIBITION — To April 1: "Japanese Swords."

•Kani Hoken Hall (tel: 234.59.11).

CONCERT — March 25: Japan Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra (Bizet, Tchaikovsky, Rachmaninoff, Ravel). ●NHK Hall (tel: 465.17.80). CONCERT - March 24: NHK Symphony Orchestra, Lovro von Matacic conductor (Beethoven, Brahms).

NETHERLANDS

AMSTERDAM, Concertgebourw (tel: 71.98.71). CONCERTS — March 24 and 27: Amsterdam Philharmonic Orchestra, Jan Krenz conductor (Mozart, Sibe lius, R. Strauss). March 30: "Cescilia Consort" James o'l heatre de Paris (tel: 280.09.30). March 30: "Ceacilia Consort" James CONCERT — March 26: Ravi Shan-Galway flute (Mahaut, Telemann, W.

F. Bon, Vivaldi). Rijksmuseum (tel: 63.21.21).

EXHIBITION — To May 27: "Hiroshige and the Utagawa School." ROTTERDAM. De Doelen (tel:

14.29.11).
Rotterdam Philharmonic Orchestra— March 29 and 30: James Conlon conductor (Schubert).

NORWAY

OSLO, National Opera (tel: conductor.

PORTUGAL

Scholars (Tavener, Rachmaninoff, Stravinsky, Bortniansky). RECITAL—March 28: Cornelia Kallisch contralto, Siglind Bruhn piano (Mahler, Mussorgsky, Berlioz, Dvo-

SCOTLAND

EDINBURGH, National Gallery (tel: 556.89.21). EXHIBITIONS—To April 29: "Brit ish Art 1900-1939."
To April 29: "Rembrandt to Seurat." Queens Hall (tel: 228.11.55).
 CONCERTS — March 30: New Music Group of Scotland, Kathleen Livingstone soprano, Edward Harper mgsone soprano, Edward France conductor (Copland, Sweeney, McGuire). March 31: Scottish Chamber Orches-tra, Yelim Bronfman piano, Roberto Abbado conductor (Cherubini, Bec-thoven, Prokofiev).

STOCKHOLM, Berwald Hall (tel:

784, 18.00). Fo March 25: Holiday on Ice. oncert Hall (tel: 20.83.00). CONCERTS — March 28 and 29: Stockholm Philharmonic Orchestra, Shlomo Mintz violin, James Loughran conductor (Mozart, Tchaikovsky). conductor (Mozart, Tedankovsky).

•Royal Opera (tel: 22.17.40).

OPERA — March 24, 26, 28, 30:

"Macbeth" (Verdi).

March 29: "Tosca" (Puccini).

SWITZERLAND

GENEVA, Halle Sud (tel: 28.46.20).
EXHIBITIONS — To March 31:
"François Lacour: Photographs."
To March 31: "Three Artists from Lyou: Jean-Philippe Aubanel, Stephane Bracounier, Kacem Noua." AUSANNE, Théâtre Municipal (tel: 22.64.33). OPERA --- March 30 and 31: "Le Doc-teur Miracle" (Bizet) René Falquet

UNITED STATES

NEW YORK, Kennedy Galleries (tel: 541.96.00). EXHIBITION — To March 31: "Reem Watercolors by Leonard Baskin."

●Morgan Library (tel: 685.06.10).

EXHIBITION — To April 29: "Renaissance Painting in Manuscripts: Treasures from the British Library."

What's Doing in Shanghai

by Christopher S. Wren

HANGHAI — The noise and bustle of the 12 million inhabitants of Shanghai. China's industrial and commercial center, can jolt visitors, and anyone searching for Oriental screnity will not find it here. The city's origins as a fishing village vanished under concrete long ago, and Shang-hai dow suffers virtually every contemporary urban ailment, including water and air pollu-

But beyond the grimy facades of once-cle-gant buildings lining the Bund, the promenade along the Huangpo River, throbs China's most ascinating and romantic city.

The honking, bell-clanging din intimidates some visitors into viewing the metropolis from behind the glass of an air-conditioned bus. But if you are curious and willing to flow with the crowds, the rewards of this deceptively West-ern-looking city can make Shanghai the high point of a trip to China.

When the Western colonial powers divided Shanghai into concessions in the latter part of the 19th century, they left intact the walled old town where many artisans and traders lived. Even after the wall was torn down in the early 20th century, Westerners were warned against venturing into this quarter without a bodyguard. Today the worst that can happen is to get lost.

Some package tours omit old Shanghai because tour buses get stuck in the narrow, winding streets. But through your hotel you can arrange a taxi to take you there for the yen equivalent of a couple of dollars and wait for you for about a dollar an hour more.

From the parking lot of the Shanghai Old Town Restaurant, walk a minute or so down Fuyon Road and turn right into areades housing 100 small specialty shops.

At glassed-in food stalls, you can watch cooks prepare snacks like fat-steamed dumplings (baozi) stuffed with meat or vegetables, and you may sample them by queneing up with other customers. As you wander past people in faded denim, schoolchildren in red pioneer scarves and soldiers on furlough, you will emerge at a small square pond at the center of which an ornate five-sided teahouse, called a waveinting, stands on wooden stilts. Cross over to the teahouse on a bridge that zigzags to keep out evil spirits. (Any sensible soul knows that such spirits can only travel in a straight line.) The teahouse is a good spot to rest and have a cup of Dragon Well tea, costing about 8 cents. As you enter, buy a chit for tea, coffee or cocoa at the cashier's booth. The first floor is open from 5:30 to 11:30 A.M. and from I to 4 P.M. (For reasons best known to the management, the teahouse closes for lunch.) The second floor, which affords a better view, is open from 7:30 to 10:30 A.M. and from noon to 4 P.M.

As you cross to the other side of the lake, you can have your picture taken by a young photographer. Bystanders probably won't mind if Fuyou or Renmin Roads for about 20 minutes. Notice that, because the interiors of the way are cramped, domestic chores spill out onto the street. Housewives flush out nightsoil buckets or scrub kitchen utensils. Itinerant barbers give haircuts, and men congregate around carts to play cards or give advice. It's one of the best shows in town.

On the north and east sides of the Old Town-pond is the Yuyuan or Happiness Garden, covering five acres and dating from the 16th century. It employs the classical elements of water, trees, rocks and waterside pavilions and has an artificial hill of limestone with a small cave. It also has at least 30 halls; pavilions and towers. Yuyuan was the headq of an unsuccessful peasant rebellion in 1853. Today it is favored by honeymooners. It closes for hunch, so arrive before 11:30 A.M.

f you sail a dozen miles to Wusong where the Huangpu converges with the Yangtze, you will see another side of Shanghai: a major port clogged with sleek steamers, rusty freighters, warships, barges and sailing junks. The round trip takes four hours and costs $6 on the upper deck, where foreigners are encouraged to ride. Tickets are sold at the wharf on the Bund just north of the Peace Hotel.

hanghai cuisine offers excellent seafood, I though the preparation can be only. The Old Town Restaurant at 242 Fuyou Road specializes in steamed crab, carp and stewed turtle. The Yangzhou Restaurant at 308 East Nanjing also features Shanghai-style cooking but includes dishes from neighboring Jiangsu and Zhejiang provinces.

For spicy Sichuan cuisine, try the Sichuan Restaurant at 457 East Nanjing Road or the Luyangcun at 763 East Nanjing road. Milder Cantonese food is served at the Xinya restaurant at 719 East Nanjing Road and the Meixin at 314 South Shanxi Road. Chinese patrons can dine well for less than $5 a person, but foreign visitors are usually charged a higher, fixed price of $10 to $15 a person, which covers a set dinner. Though Shanghai boasts more than 600 restaurants, the best are invariably crowded, so a reservation is essential. Bear in mind that few Chinese restaurants stay open after 7:30 P.M.

If you prefer to order a la carte, go to the eighth-floor dining room of the Peace Hotel. The service can be slow and surly, but from a window table you can pass the time watching ships on the river. Some Western expatriates favor the dining rooms of the Park Hotel, across from the People's Park, where a specialty is shrimp sauteed in egg whites.

Shanghai is the only Chinese city with a tradition of Western cuisine. The Hong Fangzi, or Red House, at 37 South Shanxi Road was called Chez Louis in the old days. Young men take their dates there to show off with a knife and fork. The restaurant is known for its baked you ask them to join you. Four photographs clams ($2.50) and vanilla souffle ($3). Quasicost $1.40. They will be mailed to you if you pay a little extra for postage.

If you have dismissed your taxi, you can get back to familiar territory by walking east along to live classical string music or old Western pop songs. Most entrees cost about .

53. indifferent steads about $6. For a flaming finale, order omelette Vesuvius ($3), a type of baked Alaska set ablaze with a sorghum liquor called montai.

> Visitors to Shanghai usually have no choice as to where they stay. The China International Travel Service allocates rooms, of which there has a been a chronic shortage. But several hotels are worth requesting because they are

The Peace Hotel, known as the Cathay before the Communist takeover in 1949, offers the best location, overlooking the Bund and the Huangon River. The rooms are old, the carpets worn, the bathrooms remniscent of a neglected rent-controlled apartment. Worse, the management has sealed off the grand staircase, preventing a fast exit in case of fire. Yet its reputation as China's finest hotel of prewar days lingers. A room for two is about $40 a

The Jinjiang Hotel, a complex of buildings in a garden of the old French Concession, also retains some of its former elegance in its panelled walls, parquet floors and leaded windows. Rooms for two range from $21 to $30 a night.

The Shanghai Hotel, a 30-story high-rise, was opened last fall. Its location, near the Shanghai Exhibition Hall, is less central, but rooms are tidy and the young staff tries hard to please. A room for two costs $30.

Like other Chinese cities, Shanghai has the usual Friendship Store selling mementos and other goods for hard-currency certificates. It is worth visiting the store at 33 East Zhong-shan Road to look at wares not available in other cities, including locally made silk cloth and hand-carved wooden figures, such as a boxwood chess set. The store has an annex filled with brush paintings and calligraphy on silk scrolls and another devoted to antiques.

One of the best selections of antiques in all of China, however, can be found in the antiones and curios store at 218-226 Guangdong Road. Prices are high, especially for furniture and porcelain, but everything bears a red wax seal, which is necessary for export. The store is accustomed to shipping purchases abroad.

East Nanging Road is Shanghai's busiest shopping thoroughfare. Follow it west from the Bund to the No. 1 Department Store at 830 East Nanjing Road, which offers the widest selection of Chinese-made consumer-goods, ranging from bicycles to shoelaces. Some good buys are blue cotton sweatsuits and white Tshirts emblazoned with Chinese characters representing "Shanghai," corduroy shoes and slippers, canvas tote bags, workers' jackets and caps, local textiles and toys. The store handles 150,000 customers a day. Most of them are as fascinating as the merchandise.

© 1984 The New York Times

A Forgotten Sculptor Continued from page 7

powerful, elemental figures, her sculptures gradually evolved toward personal feeling. If erotic passion is extolled as their affair starts, painful loss marks their process of separation. Finally, her sculpture embodies childlike faith in the future as she retreats into solitude. When they met in 1884, Camille was 19, Rodin 43. She was a beautiful, headstrong and talented girl who had grown up in a freethinking provincial family from the Champagne region. Rodin, a controversial figure on the verge of international recognition, was livi with an older woman and former model, Rose Beuret. Also from Champagne, she was a homemaker, a former seamstress, not an aspiring artist, and stood by him during nearly two decades of struggle.

For Rodin, Camille was apparently the one person capable of sharing both his art and his lusty temperament ("the god Pan," Isadora Duncan called him when, as an old man, he sketched dance movements and courted dancers.) For Camille, Rodin was the ideal provider: an atelier, models, money for marble, entree to Paris society, which was the sole source of commissions for statues. A century ago, none of these assets was available to a woman without social position or a fortune.

The pair rented a tree-shaded old house, the Folie Neubourg, on the southern outskirts of Paris, which had been a hideaway a half-century earlier for George Sand and Alfred de Musset, Camille's work was quickly accepted for major art exhibitions and - despite her lifelong aversion to social occasions - she and Rodin became a well-known couple in Parisian artistic circles. Waiting for Rodin to leave Rose Bearet and marry her, Camille hid warming not rotten to teave knee beater and many hea, camine me the affair from her parents. Her father, a civil servant, was a stern man with a strong temper but a soft spot for his favorite child, Camille. Her mother, described in contemporary reports as emotionally cold, resent-ed Camille's self-confidence. Nor was it any easier with her siblings. Her younger sister, Louise, worried that Camille's unconventional ways would compromise her own social ambitions. Between the two sisters in age was Paul, who let Camille introduce him to literary circles in Paris. But the bond they had enjoyed as children frayed as Camille devoted In 1893, Camille and Rodin spent the summer in the Loire valley, near Sache, the village where Honore de Balzac did much of his writing.

Ostensibly, Rodin was doing research for the statue of Balzac that was one of his greatest works. In fact, there was widespread speculation that

Camille was using the provincial retreat to recuperate from a miscar-Around this time she began to realize that Rodin would never leave Rose Beuret and marry ber. (He married Beuret, who years before had borne him a son, in 1917, four years after Camille was interned and only a few months before Bearet and then Rodin died.) Camille's letters from 1895 contain lewd caricatures expressing her disgust at Rodin's ties to Back in Paris, Camille had a short but intense relationship with the composer Claude Debussy, whom she met at a poetry reading in the home of Stephane Mallarme. For the rest of his life, Debussy kept "The Waltz," her erotic statue of a swirling couple, on his writing table.

Gradually, Camille prepared to break with Rodin. Romantic disappointment was only part of her decision; she resented being kept in Rodin's artistic shadow, referred to as his disciple instead of his equal. Paul Claudel apparently urged his sister, who had dominated his childhood, to leave Rodin. His disapproval of their relationship is usually explained as having stemmed from his puritanism (he had recently undergone a mystical experience in Notre Dame Cathedral and recently undergone as a mystical experience in Notre Dame Cathedral and recently undergone as a state of rebellion against his atheistic father and from thinking sister). Today it is easy to megulate that father and free-thinking sister). Today it is easy to speculate that another motive may have been Claudel's jealousy about Rodin's ability to captivate his adored sister. In 1895, Camille left Rodin, devoting herself to her sculpture. Her most-moving work from this period depicts a nude girl with her hands raised in supplication. "My sister, kneeling and naked, losing her soul, her genius, her reason, her beauty, her life, her very name," Paul Claude. wrote. In a final variation of the figure completed years later and called "Destiny," Camille shows the young woman on her knees pleading with a large male figure carrying an aging female on his back.

On her own, Camille kept a few influential admirers among Paris's critics and collectors, but without Rodin's support, her situation became difficult. Art galleries, still a rarity in this period, dealt only in paintings; sculptors had to rely on patronage for their expensive work. Living alone, Camille was "a mistit in a society where a woman was supposed to be either a wife and mother, or nun, or whore," writes a contributor to Rose-Marie Paris's book.

While Rodin's success spread across Europe and to the United States Camille, withdrawn before, became aimost reclusive. Convinced that Rodin was stealing and selling her ideas, Camille was increasingly unstable. Psychiatrists, writing in the Paris biography, speculate that Camille's feelings of persecution reflected her belief that Rodin had stolen her best years.

She became an eccentric, burying herself in her atelier on the Quai de Bourbon on the Ile Saint-Louis. Convinced Rodin was spying on her work, she began regularly to destroy her sculptures as soon as she completed them. Photographs show her lithe body thickening, and contemporary accounts describe her vivacity turning to hysteria.

In March 1913, he father died, and a week later she was arrested and a marched at an arrested are contemporary accounts.

In March 1913, her lather died, and a week later she was arrested and interned at an asylum outside Paris. Two months later she was transferred to an asylum at Montdevergues, near Avignon in the south. Never, for the rest of her life, was she allowed out.

As the years passed, Camille seldom blamed her family for her plight. Instead she accused Rodin, charging him with manipulating her family to keep her interned because, she said, Rodin feared she would eclipse his reputation after his death if she were free to work.

Rodin did almost nothing to help her twice procured was did a life.

Rodin did almost nothing to help her, twice anonymously sending her 3500 francs, a derisory gift coming from a man who was earning 30,000 francs for a bronze bust. Fearful of being poisoned by Rodin, Camille 1. refused to eat any food except eggs and potatoes in their skins, which In any case, only her family, and not Rodin, could get her released. Despite a stream of lucid, moving letters about the torments of her confinement, Camille was never moved to an asylum nearer home, evidently because of her mother's objections. The family rejected doctors recommendations that Camille be allowed to return to live quietly in Villeneuve, the village in Champagne where she grew up. Paul Claudel occasionally visited his sister, but never moved to free her. Now an acclaimed writer and Catholic militant, he never publicly admitted any guilt about his behavior toward his sister. Although he wrote tenderly in articles about her work, his plays reflect darker themes related to Camille: An early fascination with taboo love gave way to the belief that some people must be destroyed so that others may succeed. Camille never again touched modeling clay or sketched a figure. In 1943, she died. When, 12 years later, a branch of the Claudel family asked permission to move her body to a family mansoleum, the French anthorities replied that all trace of it had been lost.

. . . . March 1 10. 1222 Carlo Service EE 32. g. Contract of 12 A 1

-5 :--42 mg 2000 £3:: . Same later

 $2\sigma_{\mathcal{O}_{\mathcal{O}_{\mathcal{O}_{\mathcal{O}_{\mathcal{O}_{\mathcal{O}_{\mathcal{O}}}}}}}$

h Harry Marrian

200 The rates

.. 16. ...

Peace in the Heart of Paris

by Frank J. Prial

ARIS - It is an oasis in the center of Paris, a haven frequented by cats, birds and a few pensionnaires — a few yards from the roar of traffic in the Rue de Rivoli. It is the garden of the Palais Royal, hidden away in the center of one of the great 17th-century and 18th-century buildings in the city. The splash of the fountains and the occasional clink of a glass at one of the two small outdoor restaurants is the only noise. It is more like a cloister than a park in the middle of a city.

The garden of the Palais Royal is peaceful because, even though it faces the Louvre and is not far from the frantic Place de l'Opèra, it is set aside from the life of the city. It's peaceful, too, because the Palais Royal is not easy to enter. The Palais faces the Louvre, but to get to the garden one goes through an arcade separating the Comedie Française and the Conseil d'Etat, through the inner courtyard of the Conseil, called the Cour d'Honneur, and finally into the garden itself.

Looking through the arcades from the street gives no hint of the handsome park within. At the north end, the entrance through the Galerie de Beaujolais is almost as obscure. The gallery opens into the tiny Rue de Beaujolais, which is more a walkway than a street and which is itself hidden away behind old buildings facing the busy Rue des Petits

Champs.

There are small entrances through the Rue de Montpensier on the west side of the garden, and the Rue de Valois on the east, but these streets lead nowhere but around the Palais and are not much frequented, even on busy work days.

The Palais Royal started as the Palais Cardinal. Richelieu bought the property in 1624 and, eight years later, built a lunge palace on it. After his death in 1642, the Palais Cardinal passed to the king, Louis XIII, who died shortly thereafter. His widow, Anne of Austria, disliking the Louvre, then the royal palace, took her son, Louis XIV, and moved across the road to the less-grandiose Palais Cardinal. It has been known as the Palais Royal since, even though the family moved back to the Louvre just 10 years later.

The Palais Royal passed to Louis's brother, Philippe de France, and, in 1780, to Philippe d'Orléans. Perpetually short of money, Philippe d'Orléans conceived the idea of a real-estate development surrounding three sides of the gardens of the Palais Royal with apartments on the upper floors, over covered galleries lined with shops. His architect was Victor Louis, who had done the opera house in Bordeaux. The galleries, like the three streets outside the extended Palais, were named after the dependencies of Philippe's sons: Valois, Montpensier and Beaujolais. Between 1786 and 1790, a theater was built on the southwest corner of the Palais. Today it is the site of the Comedie Française. The new galleries were an instant success. Ton Paris came, as one writer said, like ants to sugar," to shop, to dine and to gamble. For a long time near the end of the 18th century most of the garden was - occupied by a circus. There were a wax museum, small theaters featuring magic acts and contortionists, a "Café Mécanique," gambling rooms — mostly roulette — and, in the apartments above, brothels. The cafés were filled with actors, theatrical agents, writers, publishers, journalists and politicians. In 1804, according to the Paris historian John Russell, the Paris city directory listed 17 billiard parlors, 11 loan sharks and 18 gaming houses in the Palais Royal. In 1820, Franklin Didier, a Baltimore physician then living in France, described the Palais Royal to a friend at home: "In one building," he wrote, "can be found a gun shop on the ground floor, a restaurant on the second, a gaming room on the third, a prostitute on the fourth and a priest on the lifth."

Oliver Wendell Holmes, who studied medicine in Paris in the 1830s, later wrote of that epoch: "What Paris was to France, the Palais Royal

In 1838, gambling was banned and the Palais Royal went into decline. Much of it was burned during the Commune, then restored between 1872 and 1876. At the turn of the century it was the center of the jewelry business in Paris but most of the companies left, first for the Avenue de l'Opéra and, more recently for the Rue de la Paix and the Place

For many years, the Palais Royal slept quietly, its shops empty, the garden gone to seed, the great fountain dry and filled with trash. Just before World War II, two of its best-known residents, Jean Cocteau and Colette, joined others in forming the Association of the Friends of the Garden of the Palais Royal. Under the group's auspices, the magnificent garden has, but by bit, been restored. There is still much work to do, but rees have been planted and the fountains play in the long Paris twilight.

The shops in the Palais Royal areades are as unusual as the Palais itself. There is the firm of Guillaumot, specialists in heraldry and engraving, which has been in the Valois gallery since 1784. At L'Oriental on the same side of the garden, custom-made pipes have been a specialty for more than 100 years. On the other side of the garden in the Montpensier gallery, Bacqueville, Marie Stuart and the Duc de Chartres are specialists in medals and decorations. Their customers are medal holders who come for new rosettes for their lapels as well as collectors who spend thousands of francs for old military decorations.

Anne Joliet deals only in music boxes in her small shop in the Beaujolais gallery. The boxes range in price from 40 to 12,000 francs ($$ to $1,500) and offer selections from Bach, Mozart, Charles Trenet or the Beatles. La Boutique du Palais Royal offers original games and hand-made toys, new models of ancient games and even handmade bird cages.

The best-known tenant of the Beaujolais gallery is Le Grand Véfour. which has been a restaurant in one form or another since 1785. (Just before last Christmas, a bomb exploded outside one of the restaurant's windows, injuring eight patrons and shattering some of the elegant painted mirrors that date from the days of the Palais Cardinal.)

For 30 years, Le Grand Véfour was in the elite company of three-star estaurants in the Michelin Guide — until last year, when it dropped back to two. Earlier this year Raymond Oliver sold the restaurant to the Taittinger champagne family, which says it will restore and preserve its 8th-century elegance.

There are two smaller restaurants in the Palais Royal: La Gaudriole. which specializes in the cooking of the southwest of France, and Muscade, more of a salon de the, which serves light meals at lunch and in the evening. La Gaudriole has a menu at 110 frances plus wine and service, and Muscade has an 80-franc menu. Le Grand Véfour, three stars or two, will cost at least 400 francs a person.

Because it is in the northern areade of the Beaujolais gallery and opens on the street, Le Grand Velour can stay open as late as it wishes. The two other restaurants must close earlier. Each night, at around 10:30 P.M. in summer and about 9 P.M. in winter, the watchmen close the garden, leaving it to the enjoyment of only the fortunate few who have apartments in the magnificent buildings in this enclave of Paris.

7 1984 The New York Times

Continued from page 7

The Best of Burgess

More fury was vented by his critics on the name of Erica Jong. "But why, why, why?" Surgess asks, pounding the table thetorically. I think she's a good writer, She's a poet. She's ertainly no fool." As for a couple of his British selections: Len Deighton was only 10 when the war proke out and was never in the Royal Air orce, but Bomber is a remarkable tour de orce because he's written such an incredibly etailed and interesting novel that he not only onvinces you he was right there in the midst of , but puts you up there, too.

"Yes, it's all data processing, but I don't hink you can ignore such a thing — any more han you can ignore Ian Fleming, who raised he standard of the spy story with a heightened ournalistic style. That's why I put a James Rond book in.

"What caused the greatest howls of rage is hat I put Herman Wouk in. But The Caine Mutiny is one of the best in the lot. I even idmired his last two books, Winds of War and War and Remembrance, because of the escarch. They're a bit artificially organized and the hero has to be in too many places, but Youk's evocation of prewar Berlin, for in-tance, is first-rate. Novelists in England won't lo this kind of homework. Besides, Wouk is me novelist I reread with pleasure. His Youngblood Hawke is the best novel about a lovelist written in this century.

Authory Burgess's life story has the makings of 99 novels in itself. A Briton who lives in foneco, a musician of some eminence and considerable erudition, be saw his literary ca-geer flower after a death sentence in the late 950s. After a decade of impoverished schooleaching in Banbury, Malaya and Borneo, he collapsed in a classroom and was flown back to ingland, where doctors diagnosed a brain tu-

John Kennedy Toole ('A Confederacy of mor and gave him less than a year to live — which he found "rather exhilarating... I decided to write as many books as I could so there would be something for my widow."

The five novels he produced in that one year in London - "The Doctor is Sick," "One Hand Clapping, "The Worm and the Ring," "The Wanting Seed," and "Inside Mr. Enderby" — include some of his best writing. This led to republication of the "Malayan Trilogy," which he wrote while teaching in the

Although "Earthly Powers" (1980) is "what many regard as his masterpiece," according to the Dictionary of Literary Biography, his best-known novel is "A Clockwork Orange" (1962), thanks to the film Stanley Kubrick made from it. Written in Burgess's fusion of Russian with British teen-age underworld slang. "Orange" begins with 15-year-old Alex and three friends slugging an old man, tearing up his books and stripping him of money and clothes — or, rather, Alex and his three droops tolchock an old yeck, razzez his books, pull off his outer all the control of t platties and take a malenky bit of cutter. The U.S. publisher omitted the last chapter. in which Alex wearies of the violence that is his way of life (suddenly, in Vienna, Burgess impersonates an American gangster snarling: We Americans are tougher than you Brits. We want that last chapter eliminated") and it was this version that Kubrick worked from.

The most shocking scene in "A Clockwork Orange," an assault on a writer and his wife, reflects the tragedy of Burgess's first marriage. During World War II, when he was a soldier stationed on Gibraltar, his Welsh wife, Llewella, was working long hours in London at the Ministry of War Transport. Leaving work one midnight, she was, in Burgess's words, "set upon by four American GIs who took her purse and tried to take her wedding ring off. She screamed and they started hitting her. She was pregnant at the time and lost the child and suffered for the rest of her life." Llewella Burgess, who died in 1968, never became a

"It's no good being bitter." Burgess says now. "You can go on all your life being bitter. One tends to be bitter about the American Army, but anybody could have done it. Most of all, I was resentful that I was stuck on Gibraltar and could not get home to her and that she was a victim of the war. "And I felt that I should have had a child born in 1945; by God, he'd be middle-aged by now! Anyhow, the only way to get rid of my feelings about this misfortune was to write a book in which it happens all over again." Shortly after his wife's death, Burgess married Liliana Macellari, who translates Pyn-chon, Lawrence Durrell and, of course, Burgess into Italian. She bore him a son, Andrea, from whom Burgess caught "middle-aged chicken pox, which rendered me sterile. The experience, though, was quite interesting. It had peculiar mental effects. It did something to the synap-ses of the brain and the cerebral responses, so I would be reading Ezra Pound and getting from his poems a peculiar sensuous impact — a smell! And I was getting tactile, instead of aural, effects from music: Debussy made my body feel as if it was being touched all over

Staring into his beer schooner, Burgess ex-presses his only regret about "Ninety-Nine Novels" — the one that got away.

"I know there'll be others, but right now there's a British woman writer called A.S. Byatt. She's a sister of Margaret Drabble; I didn't put Margaret Drabble in, either. I started to read Mrs. Byatt's books and I thought, 'My God! This is writing!' and I was rather upset that I didn't put in a book called The Virgin in the Garden, which I thought was a

Italian, With a German Accent

by Henry Kamm

OLZANO, Italy -- Few countries, in Europe or elsewhere, have been so well provided by history, nature and art with places that draw the traveler for their beauty and interest as Italy, and few have been so amply visited through the ages. To suggest that Italy still has towns or villages, or even nooks or crannies, that hold out pleasure to the visitor but have not yet been "discovered" by the traveling public in the age of the jet plane may seem to invite disbelief.

And yet there is an entire province of Italy that is studded with beauties made by nature and man where foreign languages are rarely heard. In this province dramatic Alpine mountains alternate with meadows full of wild flowers and berries; vineyards give way to or-chards; medieval castles on the heights lord it over villages of gabled houses that cluster around steepled churches; age-old paths lead through deep forests until they reach rustic inns that dispense the excellent wines of the region and platters of home-smoked meats and bread fresh from the oven, all served with a smile and for a song.

The province is South Tyrol, surrounded by the Dolomite Alps, which the Italians, who have owned it only since 1919, call Alto Adige. The languages foreign to South Tyrol that are so rarely heard include Italian, because the language of its people has remained resolutely and legally German. Not only they, but also most of the visitors who go to South Tyrol, are German-speaking.

Since the days of the Hapsburgs, who ruled all Tyrol from 1363 until their Götterdämmerung in World War L German poets have sung the praises of the sunny slopes of the Tyrolean Alps, and travelers from all the German lands have come to savor their beauties, which are sunnier and sweeter than those facing north-

But, strangely, the rest of the world has been taking its Alpine holidays everywhere except South Tyrol. What the province's well-established and handsomely equipped tourist indus-try regrets is, indeed, a blessing for the traveler: South Tyrol suffers from only one category of packaged tourists. The many other national groups, including one's own, that spoil the illusion of having got away from it all are elsewhere, and one's illusion is safe.

It is safe even in South Tyrol's capital, Bozen to the Germans and, through its long history, Bolzano to the Italians. Both names are official. (You will rise in most people's rating if you use the German name, because it tells them that you are aware of the special character of their part of Italy.) If one leaves out - as I strongly advise — the new part of the city west of the Talvera River, an ugly product of Fascism complete with a sculptural representation of Mussolini on the wall of the tax office, the city gives great pleasure by its handsome architectural harmony and setting, which tempt and reward strolling.

Are there many towns of population surpassing 100,000 that include vineyards within their confines and four or five medieval castles? And how many towns have the charms of containing a Dantestrasse as well as a Via Goethe? (All street names are bilingual.) Moreover, three funiculars take visitors straight from the city into the Alps in a matter of

One of the main downtown streets, Lanbenasse (Via dei Portici), is a street of medieval arcades under which, in houses dating mainly from the 16th and 17th centuries that replaced earlier wooden buildings, modern shops display a variety of wares that attest to the continuing prosperity of this mercantile town. A walk up Laubengasse leads to the richly and colorfully stocked fruit and vegetable market on the Piazza delle Erbe. The frescoed and decorated facades, the gabled roofs, the 18thcentury Neptune fountain, the many stands loaded with the reddest and greenest produce of the surrounding farmlands and the bargaining that accompanies the transactions make of the Piazza delle Erbe a pleasant paradox, a place of hustle and bustle where time seems to have stood still for centuries.

Unlike the rest of Italy, which considers outside terraces on which to sip a drink and watch the rest of the world go by a luxury limited to a few expensive places, this city maintains the agreeable Germanic custom of coffeehouses. Many of the sights can thus be enjoyed in sedentary tranquility.

Before you sit down for a cappuccino or Campari, or better yet a glass of this year's wine, two streets in the center of town in addition to Laubengasse deserve attention. They are Silbergasse and Bindnergasse: Silbergasse because of the particularly well-preserved state of its harmonious 16th-century to 18th-century facades; Bindnergasse not only for its handsome houses but also for the fact that so many of them are Gasthauser --- restaurants, wine cellars and hotels - as rich in tradition as they are in food and drink. Many display ancient forged-iron shop signs at the

A couple of minutes' walk from Bindnergasse, turning down either Streitergasse or Vintlerstrasse, is the Franciscan church. In its Holy Virgin's Chapel is a magnificently carved polychrome altar of the year 1500 touchingly depicting the Nativity.

Two of the city's many churches are worth a visit for the beauty of their remaining frescoes of the school of Giotto, which had considerable influence in the Bozen of the 14th century. They are the cathedral and the Dominican church. Of more recent interest is the city hall, a fine example of Hapsburg Jugendstil, a deco-rative style of the early part of this century. Pleasant as strolls through the old city are, they can be matched by some equally easy walks leading a bit out of the compact town's confines, most of them starting at the upper terminals of the three funiculars. One walk, in particular, ought to be on every itinerary. It begins where Laubengasse, or rather its exten-sion, Via Museo, reaches the Talvera River. At that point starts the Wassermauer, or Passeggiata Lungo Talvera, a large embankment intended to prevent flooding. It has been turned into a verdant promenade along the river, and the stroller who takes it walks through vineyards and past castles, all the while surrounded by views of the Alps. The first stop, reached in a few minutes, is Maretsch Castle, dating from the 13th century. Still in the heart of the city but set amid vinevards, the restored castle now serves as the city's convention center. Its frescoed rooms can be visited Monday through Friday, and its restaurant, closed Sunday, is a good place for a quiet meal in a princely setting. The fare might include Schlutzkrapfen, fist-size ravioli filled with spinach and smothered in melted butter and grated parmesan cheese, or Spinatspatzen, spinach-filled gnocchi in a sance made of cream, ham and cheese. The main course might well be a goulash or a bollito misto, an Italian assortment of boiled beef, chicken, tongue or other meats. Even if one has a carafe of local wine, 16,000 lire (about $10) a person ought to cover the bill.

The next castle, Klebenstein or San Antonio, stands picturesquely at the end of the prome-nade, past the San Antonio bridge. It is a family property and not open to visitors. Keep going toward the castle, which towers on the rock ahead, even if the going gets a bit steep. Runkelstein (Roncolo) Castle is worth it, and the steep part takes only about five minutes.

Runkelstein dates from 1237 and is beautifully preserved. It is so typical a medieval castle that one can be forgiven for believing that Walt Disney designed it. After a long history of changing from one princely family to another, it was given by Emperor Franz Joseph to Bozen as a gift. The glory of Runkelstein is its frescoes, a marvelous compendium of scenes from medieval feudal and court life that continues from wing to wing, from hall to hall, and that may be visited only with a guide from 10 A.M. to noon and from 3 to 6 P.M. Tuesday to Saturday. The restaurant is a good place for a cold lunch. A piatto misto, consisting of the Tyrolean Speck — a smoked delicacy midway be-tween bacon and ham — with salami and cheeses, costs tittle more than about 5,000 lire.

An additional dividend for having climbed the road to Runkelstein is the view. The surrounding mountaintops and slopes are almost crowded with castles, towers and other fortified structures defying the world outside, and deep below, the Talvera River courses through

Of the many pleasant excursions for which Bolzano serves as the center - and the variety is so great that only personal inclination, the weather and recommendations of local people and the helpful tourist office can dictate a choice - a brief tour into the wine-growing region southwest of town has been popular through the centuries. Imagine great expanses of vineyards sloping down from hills over which tower the Alps. Picture in this majestic setting dabs of forests, sparkles of lakes and brooks and a profusion of castles and villages, each built around a slim-spired church.

A pleasant drive of less than an hour through Eppan (Appiano) and Kaltern (Caldaro) brings one to Tramin (Termeno), a village from which the Traminer and Gewürtztraminer wines, white and flowerly in bouquet, take their names. There are many places to stop, even on so short a jaunt, and the trip can be extended at one's leisure: the vines and the slopes, the streams and the Alps remain just as I stopped at the Wine and Castle Museum outside Kaltern, housed in Ringbert Castle (open from 2 to 6 P.M.), looked at churches and had a snack of Speck, home-baked bread and a carafe of Gewürtztraminer in Tramin, It was worth perhaps more than the 6,000 lire or so that it cost to sit at a quiet table on the village square being greeted by swarms of chil-dren on their way home from school.

For those who prefer not to rent a car, buses provide frequent service from the municipal bus terminal to any of the places named at fares ranging from less than 1,600 lire to about

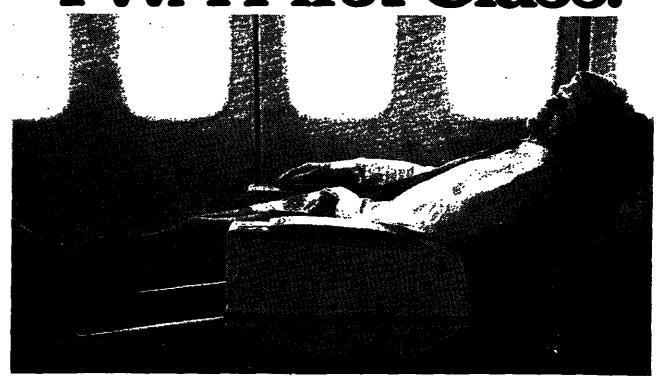

About an hour north of the city by superhighway lies Brixen (Bressanone), one of the few towns anywhere that is not only beautiful for itself and its surroundings but also has a hotel, the Elephant, that I would visit just for the experience.

Besides the Elephant, Brixen offers all the delights of a well-preserved ancient Tyrolean town that has the advantage of being a bishop's. seat. That means an imposing cathedral, with a cloister whose vaults are covered with beautiful naive frescoes of the 14th and 15th centuries, and a stately Renaissance bishop's palace. There are other churches worth looking into. and charming areaded streets. About two miles to the north, there is the interesting complex of Neustift (Novacella) Convent, remarkable for flambovant Bamoue library and the astonishing round, fortified Chapel of St. Michael Trains reach Brixen from Bolzano in about an hour and are preferable to the bus, which offers only highway vistas.

© 1984 The New York Times

TWA First Class.

Lie back and enjoy it.

TWA Royal Ambassador Service in First Class is in a class of its own.

It's dedicated to giving you the most restful, relaxing and luxurious flight across the Atlantic.

We make sure it starts right, with boarding cards and seat reservations before you go to the airport. We make sure you have a comfortable First Class lounge at the airport.

Then we make sure your flight will be perfect. 🗽 Lie back and enjoy our soporific Sleeper-seats. Sit up and appreciate a leisurely meal of superb food and wines, served in the style of a first class restaurant.

Everything about TWA First Class travel is designed to make your flight comfortable and trouble-free.

And, if you're flying to New York, you'll find our free helicopter service ready to take you into Manhattan.

We want you to enjoy every moment.

You're going to like us

Moving Day for Malaysian Elephants

by Hari S. Maniam

UALA LUMPUR, Malaysia — About 70 Malaysian soldiers and game wardens are tackling a big problem — saving 15 elephants trapped on a one-kilometer-wide (.6-mile-wide) island. The operation involves tranquilizer guns, army asault boats, divers and explosives.

The island appeared when the surrounding area was flooded for construction of the Kenyir Dam, a hydroelectric project about 200 cilometers northwest of Kuala Lumpur.

The national park department director, Misliah Mohamed Basir, loubts that catching the elephants will be difficult. Two or three tame dephants will be used as decoys, and the wild elephants will be shot with ranquilizer guns and then chained.

The problem, she says, is getting the elephants across 50 kilometers of looded area — with water 60 meters (nearly 200 feet) deep in places to the nearby National Wildlife Preservation Forest.

This is where the army is helping. Lieutenant Andenan Abdul Rahman, who is leading about 40 soldiers rom the 2nd Engineering Squadron in the rescue mission, says they tave built a 10-meter-by-12-meter raft out of planks and 217 empty oil

Four army assault boats will tow the raft, which will be tested first with tame elephants aboard.

The raft could hold two to three tranquilized elephants at a time, but to avoid risks it has been decided to take them one by one. The journey could last from one to several hours, depending on obstacles, such as underwater logs and vegetation. Army divers have been called to clear away the obstacles with explosives.

Shariff Daim, head of the elephant unit in the game department, says eight wild elephants, including five females, have been tranquilized and captured since the roundup on the island began earlier this month.

Chained by the front legs, but still free to move about the island, these elephants were captured without tame decoys. The decoys may be needed for liercer elephants. Shariff and other elephant experts have deduced from footprint studies that at least 3 herds, totaling 15 elephants, remain free on the island. There is enough food on the island, especially bamboo shoots, to feed the elephants for two months, and sugar cane and bananas are Malaysia's elephants, estimated to mumber 200, are generally a smaller breed than their African counterparts. To prevent their extinction, the hunting of elephants is forbidden here.

estication land of the section of th Over-the-Counter March 22

,如何是是这个人的人,也是不是一个人的,我们也是一个人的,我们也是不是一个人的,我们也是一个人的,我们也是一个人的人的,我们也是一个人的人的人,我们也是一个人的人的人,我们也是一个人的人的人,我们也不是一个人的人的人,我们也是一个人的人的人,我们也没有一个人的人的人,我们也没有一个人的人的人,我们也没有一个人的人,我们也没有一个人的人,我们也没有一个人的人,我们也没有一个人的人,我们也没有一个人的人,我们也没有一个人的人,我们也没有一个人的人,我们也没有一个人的人,我们也没有一个人的人,我们也没有一个人,我们也没有

Name Address:

| 1944 | 1244 | Middle | 124 | 1370 | 13 | 1374 | 138 | 138 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 | 139 international den bestehn der bestehn der

3 | 1 kg | 1 kg

.80 3.5

.12e 1,4 1,16 5.0 .30e .9 .40 2.8

.80 2.5 1.60 10.2

.48 3.4 284 4.4 300 1.4 30 4.3 1.50 4.4

.20 1.5 .97 1.9 .88 4.6 .60 4.4 1.20 2.5 .54 2.6 .15e 1.7 .80 2.8

19 JAL Has Beijing Hotel Pact
Rewers

TOKYO — Japan Air Lines Co. said Thursday its hotel operating and development subsidiary, Japan Air Lines Development Co., has concluded a management-assistance agreement with the 686-room Jing Lun Hotel, being built in Beijing, in a joint venture with Chinese and Canadian interests.

NASDAG National Market Prices

26 1.4 .16e 1.1 24 3.0 .24 1.6 .16e 1.0

18% — %
14% — % 11% — % 12 — %
7% — % 15 + %
5% + % 14% + %
20% + %
38% +1 14% 11% 17% 14% 5% 14% 14% 16% 20%

HBO'S
HCC Harkon
HCC Harkon
Harson
Ha

Qal 4,000 ,4 4,3 1,38 4,2 1,30 8,1 4,50 5,80 1,2 .92 3.9 70 4.2 .14 8 .12 .7 2.806 7.2 .86 3.7 .506 3.7 .34 1.6 .05

$ 1424 1814 1774 18 + 12 81 1814 1774 18 + 12 81 1814 1775 1814 + 16 81 1814 1775 1814 1 1814 78 934 914 914 752 174 1614 1714 — 4 33 174 17 17 — 4 57 364 364 364 4

STOCKS and HOLLYWOOD STARLETS

As contrarians, we mocked the bearishness of the Street. In July 1982, while the DOWS were drooping below 800, we predicted that the "DJI WILL TOUCH 1,000 BEFORE HITTING 750", for we realized that "Sponsors" were absorbing shares at wholesale prices. To ignore Sponsorship is to by-pass one of the primary forces in the market; for stocks, like starlets, are "made" not "born"; both require the doting attention of Power Elitists.

Most analysts do not understand the nuances of Sponsorship; the methods used by Elitists to accumulate or to distribute stock positions.

To concentrate only upon prosaic yardsticks in an effort to fathom equity prices is naive.

In July 1983 a prestigious investment service published a list of 67 romantic stocks to buy or to hold; "sexy" cult stocks, selling at more than 25 times earnings. Our researchers rebuked their report, noting that the shares had bloated measurements; that they appeared to be under distribution, flowing from strong to weak hands. Time has sustained our observation; all but five of the alluring pets have wilted.

In debunking "highflyers" we urged readers to buy Oils, subscribing to the poetic lines that "Value, like Noble Blood, will out." And now?

Many Oils have spudded to two year highs.

Despite corrections, we believe the DOW will catapult above 1500. All markets will not thrive; there are areas of vulnerability, particularly Japanese shares and newly "discovered" Nordic equities. Three weeks ago we suggested the purchase of a N.Y.S.E. "junior" oil around $12, alluding to a possible "leveraged buy-out". In 14 trading sessions, the stock has advanced to $17, with a potential target of $24.

Other winners can be cited, including "special situations" that escalated 500%.

Our current letter focuses upon over-sold "seniors" selling at less than five times earnings, stocks with evidence of Elitists' accumulation.

Our researchers also review two incubating companies that may emulate the success of a NESTLE'S, or DENISON.

For your complimentary copy please write to, or telephone:

CAPITAL

F.P.S. Financial Planning Service by Kalverstraat 112, 1012 PK Amsterdam, The Netherlan

Phone: (020) - 27 51 81 Telex 18536

Control of the contro

ATT BEGINNING

This sile

A STATE OF THE STA

Hill the same

Park Service

Restaurant

and the second fed to a NO THE CO.

an east .

Minte ...

事を意力 しゃっ

新福村本位元元。

Market Service . . . SECTION ...

Figure Service Co. Maria San Maria .

- -

TOTAL TA

X S. -

秦韩山梁 []

SPORTS

With His Mentor Gone, Strawberry Must Bloom on His Own

By Thomas Boswell

Washington Post Service ST. PETERSBURG, Florida — Almost

every spring training brings with it one player with a special aura of possibility. This year, the man with that overburden of potential and the extra weight of pressure upon him is Darryl Strawberry, the slender fight 6, 21-year-old right fielder of the New York Mets who was the National League Mokie of the year last season.

In the recent past, players like Mark Fidrych, Fernando Valenzuela and Cal Ripken Jr. have drawn universal stares before their sophomore seasons because of Most players, even at a young age, seem to have their potential defined by statistics. The old hands muse and say, "Might hit 30 home runs some day" or "Could win 20." A few phenoms, however, defy this swift categorization.

The scouts and general managers mutter their approval of Strawberry's scythelike swing but decline to offer any concrete opinion. They've been burned too

Any baseball freak could build a fairywould be infected with the malaise of a Next, Frey told Strawberry to stop often before in this chancy game of pretale future out of Strawberry's year-end lazy, losing team and that he would adopt swinging so much on pitches early in the limits of conventional baseball vocabulary. One of his teammates, Keith Hernandez, who tied for the National League most valuable player award in 1979, says: "He has unbelievable raw power. He beats [Garry] Templeton as the most amazing rookie I've ever seen." Hernandez adds; swing. I was awed by some of the home runs he hit last season." Strawberry has the euphonious name, some fascinating aspect of their rockie the striking build, the cheerful face, the and Baltimore coach. It turned around years. Now, it's Strawberry who's alone on appealing cockiness and buoyant manner mostly because of Jimmy. He was special

"He reminds me of a young Willie McCovey. He's got that low-ball tater [home run]

New York City. ger also has some solid credentials. Last lackadaisical play, Strawberry became as potent a hitter as the league possessed over the final four months.

dicting greatness. Instead, they retreat behind gratingly cliched yet evocative adjectives like "unlimited" and "awesome."

numbers: 26 homers and 74 runs batted in, in 420 at bats. His slugging percentage of tives like "unlimited" and "awesome."

512 — the highest in the Mets' history — Darryl, but he took it well," Frey said. berry's potential.

Despite all this, Strawberry seems acutely volnerable to second-season failure. And for an odd reason.

Last summer, when Strawberry had a dez. "But Darryl is an intelligent young sour spring, Coach Jim Frey made Strawberry his special project. Now, Frey has "I trie gone to Chicago to manage the Cubs. No one misses him more than Strawberry.

"Basically, he was an uncle to me when things were really going badly," Strawberry says of the former Kansas City manager mostly because of Jimmy. He was special to set minds dreaming, especially the sort to me. He was a straight talker when I one pitch. of minds that manufacture celebrities in needed to hear some of that. He told me New York City.

The much ballyhooed left-handed slugwork harder. He promised me that the more I put into it, the more I'd get out. He season, after batting .161 in his first 24 was always on me to get to the park earlier, games and being benched for a week for to study the pitchers more, to think more. When a man takes that kind of time with you, it gives you confidence." What Frey feared was that Strawberry

Strawberry is already exhausting the was perhaps the best indication of Straw-recently. "I just let him know that talent wasn't enough and that I was going to stay on it because I cared about him."

"I was afraid that Frey might be giving him too much too soon," recalls Hernan-

"I tried to keep my advice to him simple," Hernandez says. "He was so worried about the curveball that he was freezing on fast balls right over the plate. I told him the same thing that Lou Brock told me years ago: 'Why go to the plate looking for your weaknesses? If you like fastballs, then sit on the fastball' "— that is, wait for that

Frey left Strawberry with several years' worth of tips and technique condensed into

First, he got the rookie to stop trying to pull every pitch. "Once he got me hitting the ball the other way, making solid contact on pitches on the outside corner, I felt like no pitcher could get me out," says for certain pitches in certain zones," says Strawberry. "Jimmy would tell me what to look for." Also, Frey taught him how to adjust his stance and to guess pitches be-fore the pitchers made their own adjust-

"Pretty soon," Strawberry says. "it was just little of me out there playing base-

What will this 21-year-old do now that his 50-year-old mentor has moved to Chi-The Mets believe Frey's departure will be immaterial. "Strawberry has shown the mental strength to put up with the strain of a rookie year in the Big Apple," says Her-This will probably be the season in which Strawberry takes his place near the top of his game. Gentlemen like Dale Mur-phy and Cal Ripken, Andre Dawson and Eddie Murray, Robin Yount and Mike Schmidt may have to welcome another

However, if Strawberry founders, no one should say that the sophomore jinx was his undoing.

Instead, just look for the man who

British Clubs Advance in European Cups

LONDON - All six British soc- the midfielder, who was mobbed by mpetitions have advanced to the minals after a remarkable night success. The principal hero in Wednesy night's play was Bryan Rob-i, who scored two goals in Manester United's 3-0 victory at me against Barcelona. Robson d a goal in each half and Frank ipleton also scored as United ped out a 2-0 first-leg deficit and vanced to the semifinals of the ip Winners' Cup.

here was speculation that Roba's performance, watched by auts from several foreign teams, r clubs in the three European cup fans after the match, said, "There is a very good chance I will remain here pext season "

arryl Strawberry limbers up at the Mets' camp in Florida.

Mark McGhee scored three goals as the defending Cup Win-uers' Cup champion, Aberdeen, advanced with a 3-0 victory over Uj-pesti Dozsa of Hungary. The survivor in the Cup Winners' Cup. leg, 2-0, and Aberdeen required extra time Wednesday to pull ahead pool gained a 4-1 away victory minutes into extra time.

ght seal his transfer to an Italian ian team from Turin, also advanced fica after 74 minutes, but Liverpool tory over Haka Valkeakosken of Finland, a repeat of the first-leg score. The French star Michel Pla United, reached a Europes tini was absent from the Juventus lineup with a sore knee.

Porto of Portugal, which elimi-

In the Champions' Cup, Livern aggregate.

Against Benfica of Portugal after winning the first leg, 1-0. Midfield-87th minutes, then completed the er Ronnie Whelan put the English Scottish comeback with a goal four team ahead after nine minutes, and Craig Johnstone added a goal be-Juventus, the star-studded Ital- fore halftime. Nene scored for Ben-

The Scottish champion, Dunder

United, reached a European semifinal for the first time with a victory over Rapid Vienna in the Champions' Cup. United's narrow 1-0 home victory, combined with a 2-1 first-leg loss in Vienna, allowed the Scots to advance on away goals.

The Italian champion, Roma, whose ground will be used for the Champions' Cup final in May, lost 2-1 to Dynamo Berlin in East Berlin but qualified for the semifinals on a 4-2 aggregate.

Dynamo Bucharest also reached the last four, disposing of Dinamo Minsk of the Soviet Union on a 2-1

In the UEFA Cup, Tottenham Hotspur and Nottingham Forest advanced at the expense of two Austrian sides, Austria Vienna and Sterm Graz.

Tottenham Hotspur fought to a 2-2 tie in Vienna for a 4-2 overall advantage. Alan Brazil scored for the English side in the 14th minute. After Herbert Prohaska scored for Austria with a 62d-minute penalty, Osvaldo Ardiles replied for Tottenham in the 82d minute. The final goal was scored by Tibor Nyilasi with two minutes remaining. Nottingham Forest, twice a win ner of the Champions' Cup, needed an extra-time penalty goal by Colin Walsh to get past Sturm Graz with a 1-1 draw in Graz and a 2-1 overal The UEFA titleholder Anderlecht of Belgium, reached the semifinals on a 4-3 aggregate against Spartak Moscow. In the other irtertinal. Hadink Solit of You slavia eliminated Sparta Prague on a 2-1 overall score. The semifinal draw for all three competitions will be made Friday in Geneva. ■ Arrests in Vienna

Twenty-four Tottenham Hotspur fans and nine Austrians were arrested in Vienna after Wednesfrom stores, smeared buses with slogans, beat passers-by with little provocation, smashed windows verpool players celebrate after Ronnie Whelan (5) scored the first goal against Benfica, and wrecked bars, police said.

ing scoring droughts and to stiffen

the defense when opponents were

"A lot of teams are like that, but

With Sampson anchoring both

United Press International Katarina Witt on her way to the world women's singles title.

Witt Wins Gold Medal In World Figure Skating

East Germany, the Olympic champion, delivered a compelling per-formance to win the gold medal in women's singles at the World Figure Skating Championships.

Anna Kondrashova of the Soviet Union finished second, and Elaine Zayak of the United States was Witt, a clear winner in both the compulsories and the short program, completed her sweep of the three disciplines Wednesday night with an enchanting freestyle routine. It included a perfect execution of a difficult double lutz and triple toe loop.

The 18-year-old earned four marks of 5.9 for artistic interpreta-tion and five 5.8s. The world title was the first for the two-time European champion, who placed fourth at last year's world event and was runner-up the year before.

"I came here to win the gold medal because I was the Olympic champion," she said after her victory. "I wanted to win here, too. I was not surprised."

Witt will not get a well-deserved rest for a while. "I'll do the exhibition tour and then have some days off for rest," she said. "For the next year, I'll skate, and I want to win the worlds again."

pion who finished fifth at the the Olympics last month. Olympics, earned marks ranging from 5.3 to 5.7 for technical merit

OTTAWA - Katarina Witt of pointing sixth at the Olympics, pulled up from sixth overall after the short program by placing sec-ond to Witt in the long portion. The 18-year-old American presented an intricately woven routine, bolstered by a triple toe and double loop combination in what was likely her last amateur event.

After her disappointment at Sarajevo, Zayak's medal here provided a measure of redemption. "I wanted to come back as a fighter." she said. "I think I showed everyone that I could do it again."

Kira Ivanova of the Soviet Union, the Olympic bronze medalist, was third entering the long program but dropped to fourth overail after failing to execute a double axel and a triple lutz

The Olympic silver medalist Rosalynn Sumners of the United States, passed up the Ottawa event. ■ 6.0s for Torvill and Dean

Jayne Torvill and Christopher Dean, Britain's Olympic champions, received three perfect marks of 6.0 for their Westminster Waltz as the ice dancing competition began Thursday with the compulsories. The Associated Press reported.

The perfect scores marked the first 6.0s in a compulsory event awarded at the world championships. The couple earned three Kondrashova, the Soviet cham- perfect marks for the same dance at Judges from Hungary, Britain and Switzerland awarded the perieci marks. Five jud es. includin sion. The crowd felt the scores were too high and roundly booed them.

Zayak, who was the 1982 world from the Canadian judge.

'Sack Dance' Is Out as NFL Bans Taunting Opponents United Press International as unrestrained dances, wild flail- rule even though it might inhibit a proposal to use instant replays HONOLULU—National Footing of arms and legs, simulated dice Gastineau, the Jets' all-pro defending immediately, they instructed the day's UEFA Cup match, police ball League owners have banned all games, high-five circles in the end sive end. "I like Mark's enthusiasm, league office to study the proposal said Thursday. The British fans shoplifted goods forms of taunting, including Mark zone, imitations of gunfighters and but it may have gone a little too next season.

Gastineau's "sack dance."

The penalty will be 5 yards. The rule on taunting passed

ESCORTS & GUIDES

ESCORT

SERVICE

USA

Head office in New York 330 W. 56th St., N.Y.C. 10019 USA

212-765-7896

212-765-7754

Facorts gian available locally, nationally and internationally.

MAJOR CREDIT CARDS AND CHECKS ACCEPTED

similar behavior deemed to be con- far," Walton said. trived exhibitionism that has no place in the sport."

On another matter, the NFL will cials monitor replays in a press box

The NFL will have various offi-

ESCORTS & GUIDES VIENNA FTOILE ESCORT SERVICE. Tel: 56 78 55.

SPECIAL VIP ESCORT Service. Tel-(MBNNA) 65 41 58.

VIENNA - EXCLUSIVE Excort Service. Tel: 47-74-61.

PRANGURY & surcurdings Christino's Escort Agency, 0611-364656.

NEW YORK: REMET'S Excort Service, Tel: 212-581-1948.

LONDON GIRL WEST Excert Agency. Tel: 579 7556.

NEW YORK CITY - Mic & Renee Escor. & Guide Service. 212-223-0670

FRANKFURT JENNY ESCORT & travel service. Tel: 0611-557210

study the feasibility of using in- during several games to determine Wednesday with only two dissenting passed place in the sport.

Wednesday with only two dissenting votes. It prohibits "antics such conch, said he was in favor of the stant replays to overrule referees.

Although the owners voted down override a referee's call.

'irginia Begins Post-Sampson Era With Success

By William C. Rhoden New York Times Service

IEW YORK — If this season accomplished anything at the versity of Virginia, it is the retrance that its winning baskettradition under Coach Terry land has not been comprotechaps the quality of life has ped a notch since Ralph Sampthe 7-foot-4 all-America cen-

NBA Standings

EASTERN CONFERENCE

said Holland, whose team was fac- lantic Coast Conference tourna- guard in place of Othell Wilson ing Syracuse on Thursday night in ment to Wake Forest. Atlanta in the NCAA East Regional semifinals.

Holland took over as coach at Virginia in 1974 and has a 212-94 record there. In Sampson's fouryear college career, from the 1979-80 season through 1982-83, the Cavaliers won 112 games — a total unmatched by any college team during those same years.

carances, and the recognition is win fewer than 24 games, was invitnearly as great. Still, the season ed to the NCAA tournament de-This has been a solid season for game to Maryland and then losing ter in place of Kenton Edelin, a spainst an excellent schedule," again in the first round of the At-senior — and Ricky Stokes at were made because of injuries. The Cavaliers finished at 6-8 in But most of the juggling was dethe ACC, tied for fifth place with signed to get the offense going dur-

Georgia Tech. "Our goal at the beginning of the season was to reach the tourna- scoring easily. ment," Holland said. "Now we'll just have to see if we have enough this one is like that perhaps even left now that we're in the tournamore than others," Holland said.

ment." Virginia has made life difficult ends of the court, there was no real graduated last spring. There This season's 19-11 squad, the for opposing teams' scouts. In the first Virginia team in four years to last three months, Holland has and offensive players in. Now we tarances, and the recognition is win fewer than 24 games, was invitused nine different starting lineups. used nine different starting lineups. ed to the NCAA tournament de-spite losing its last regular-season Olden Polynice, a freshman, at cen-purpose lineup as possible."

trying to get as close to an all-Last season, Sampson averaged 19.1 points and 11.7 rebounds per game. He blocked 103 shots and altered countless hundreds more. But as his teammates have discovered, Sampson's value extended beyond statistics.

Tim Mullen learned that he could no longer thrive as a 6-5 small forward with a good jump shot and switched to guard. Edelin, bone early in the year, discovered that playing center in reserve is one thing, playing it regularly is some-thing else. Edelin is now a forward. Despite the loss of Sampson and all the changes, Holland says this season has been easier on him.

"Teams don't prepare for us as 17 30 1 12 23 221 hard as they did before. Holland 29 39 7 69 270 300 said. "We don't see gimmick de27 40 8 42 220 227 fenses anymore. It used to be that 24 42 9 57 222 367 we never know what a team would we never knew what a team would do - Notre Dame would even hold the ball. Now they just play their

Phisbursh 12, Terento 1 Konsos City (ss) 5, Chic nemus v.rv (183) S. Chicogo (ALL Boltimere 4, Konsen City (183) T Sen Froncisco TL, Son Dietro 8 Colifornio 4, Chicogo (NL) 3 Mitheopiote 20, Cleveland 10 Coklond 10, Seattle (183) 4 Seattle (183) 14, Arizono State 2 Boston 5, Detroit 4 Montreal 2, Chimon 1

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED

INTERNATIONAL (Continued from Page 14) ESCORTS & GUIDES ESCORTS & GUIDES ESCORTS & GUIDES

> LONDON ELITE Escort Service TEL: 221 8793 LONDON

> > TOP GIRLS

TEL: 402 0004

LONDON

BELGRAVIA

Estart Service.

Tel: 736 5877.

WELCOME TO CIGA ESCORT SERVICE

Zurich - Geneva

TEL: 01 / 241 00 33 24 HOURS SERVICE

POMPEA

This covered-winning service has been featured as the top & mast exclusive Exact Service by USA & intercontant news medic including radio and TV. Day & Evening Escort Service YAB YUM

ESCORT CENTER AMSTERDAM SEVEN DAYS A WEEK 24 HOURS A DAY 020-47 47 47 ALL CREDIT CARDS ACCEPTED

CHARLY'S ANGELS VIERNATIONAL ESCORT SERVIC FRANKFURT ESCORTS AVAILABLE TO TRAVEL EVERYWHERE IN EUROPE

ESCORT & GUIDE SERVICE AMSTERDAM 06190-4488 020-269753/260649 CAPRICE ESCORT SERVICE

TEL: 212-737 3291 ARISTOCATS Litedon Scort Service 128 Wigmers St., Lower Ground P./ London W.T., Behind Selfindges All major Credit Cords Accepted Tel: 437 47 41 / 17/2 12 noon - midnight

LONDON Portman Escort Agency 67 Chiltern Street, Landon W1 Tek: 486 2724 or 486 1158 LONDON LADY ESCORT SERVICE ng, criternoon & evenin

Tel: 402 8150 LONDON KENSINGTON

LONDON WEST ESCORT SERVICE ONDON HEATHROW & GATWICK TEL: 01-747 3304 HAMBURG

TEL: 040-585039 AMSTERDAM SHE * ESCORT SERVICE Tel: 020/ 222940.

MADRID EVASION ESCORT & GUIDE SERVICE MULTELINGUAL MADRID 261 41 42

MAYFAIR CLUB GUEDE SERVICE from 5 pm ROTTERDAM (0) 10-25 41 55 THE HAGUE (0) 70 - 60 79 96 LONDON PARK LANE

ESCORT AGENCY

TEL: 582 1015

MADRID CRISTAL Escort Service. 24 hour service CREDIT CARDS. TEL: 455 (078)

LA VENTURA NEW YORK CITY 212-888-1666

BARBARELLAS London Escort Service Tel: 586 2870 7 days a week

ZURICH-GENEVA Sophie Estart & Golde Service Fel: 01/202 68 93 - 050/54 25 38 GENEVA EXCLUSIVE Service. Afternoon and Tel: 22 / 21 79 29.

Monique Escort & Guide Servic Tel: 01/361 90 00 SERVICE TEL: 4310132. DUESSELDORF-COLOGNE-BONN Domino Escort Service (2711/383141) ZURICH-GENEVA LONDON ISABEL ESCORT Service. Tel: 229 6541. GINGER'S ESCORT SERVICE TEL: 01 / 361 73 69 LONDON ROSELLA ESCORT Service. Tel: 357 2235. RUDGE ESCORT SERVICE. Tel Lon-don 373 8967. AMANDA - CENTRAL LONDON Es-cort Service. 01 828 8508. MADRID APPLE :ESCOST SERVICE - 24 HOURS Tel: 25034% • 2503494. Credit card BURLINGTON ESCORT AGENCY, London: 806 6417/8 noon - midnight. PRANKFURT - PETRA Escort & Travel Service. Tel. 0611 / 68 24 05 ZURICH FRANKFURT REGINA'S ESCORT Service. (0) 611 / 819811. Nathalie Escort & Guide Service Tel: 01 / 47 50 85 DUESSELDORF ESCORT SERVICE, Tel: 0211 / 790617. DUESSELDORF / COLOGNE Exclusive Escort Service. Tel: 0211-369235. COPENHAGEN ESCORT SERVICE MISS SCANDINAVIA 01-860032 or 01-541706 CREDIT CARDS ACCEPTED MUNECH - MONIKA Private Escort Service, Tel: (089) 311 79 00. MUNICH. WELCOME Escort Service. Tel: 669469 NEW YORK FRANKFURT - ANITA Escort Service. Tel: 0611 / 43 59 14. MAIS OUR ESCORT SERVICE 212-206-7315 FRANKRURT SONIA ESCORT Ser-vice. Tel: 0611-686562 GENEVA JADE DOMINA Escort Service. Tel: 022 / 31 26 73. MARIA SCHINEIDER JACKE LONDON ESCORT SERVICE West End. Tel: 262 6284. ESCORT AGENCY LONDON 402 4000/8 & 402 0282 KAREN ESCORT SERVICE Frankfurt: Tel: 0611 661 662 ROME CLUB EUROPE ESCORT Guide Service.Tel: 06/589 2604-599 1146 [from 4 pm to 10 pm] BRUSSELS. CHANTAL ESCORT. Service: Tel: 520 23 65. HAMBURG CAROLINE Escort Service. Tel: (0) 40 - 652 9130. TONDON - CHEREY GILL POOL Sec PRANICIURT TOP ESCORT Service. Tel: 0611 558826. vice. 51 Beauchamp Piece, Lordon SW3 Tek 01 584 6513/2749 (4-12 pm)

MADRID LOLA

ESCORT SERVICE, 24 HOURS TEL: 245 52 09 CREDIT CARDS

ZURICH

HELENA ESCORT SERVICE, Frankfurt. Tel. (0) 611/463732 GENEVA V.L.P. ESCORT SERVICE + troval / weekend. Tel. 41 20 36. 28 Escort Service, since 1967, 020-222785, 030-944530, 02997-3685. ONDON ESCORT SERVICE. Tel. 937

ONDON ESCORT AGENCY. Tel: 935 5339.

LONDON GENEE ESCORT Service. Tel: 370 7151.

PAGES 18 & 14 FOR MORE CLASSIFIEDS

Wednesday Results

Reculte Wa. New Jersey 95 (Loten

Author W. Herman N2, New Jersey 15 (Lourent -Herman N2, Richerdson 22, Williams 16) Invest 12, Newsten 129 (Vandawesche 32, 1 St. McCrey 12, Lauvelt 17) a Amelin 22, Konsos City 116 (Abdul-ter 22, M. Johnson 31; Theus 34, E. John-20.

1869 182. Albaria 184 (Glockman 18. 1878 182 Noongapie 27, William 20) Teeland 186, New York 18 (C. Robinson 24. 182) Irland 18 welling 109, New York 97 (C. Robinson 24, 5 22. Icing 19, Walkington 18) first 129 Year Diege 125 (Leimbeer 24, 509 25; Colombians 35, Ketsor 24) with 165 Chambian 38, Ketsor 24) with 165 Chambian 38, Ketsor 24) with 165 Chambian 102 (Williams 22, 51hms Native 35, Devils 189)

Transition BASEBALL

BASHBALL

American League
BALTIMORE—Optioned Ken Dixon and Julian Ganzalez, Pitchers, to Rochester of the International League.
MILWAUKEE—Sent Raw Searope, Teddy Higuera and Scott Roberts, Intchers; Joan Costille and Earning Rise, Intelleters; Alike
Paider and Eric Peyton, outfielders; Alike Paider and Eric Peyton, outfielders; and Dowe Huspert, chicher, to their minor-league comp for reassignment.
Network League
NEW YORK—Sent Jeff Bittiger, Wes Gardner and Rich Pickets, eitchers; Herman Winningham, Billy Beans, Terry Blocker and Lea Dykstra, outfielders; and Kevin Mitchell, third basemon, to their minor-league comp

third bosemon, to their minor-leadue comp for consupprison.

$T.LOUIS—Signed Art Hows, infletder, Cut

Kelty Ports, infletder.

FOOTBALL. Mational Football Learne
GREEN BAY—Signed John Pointer, linebocker, and Gary Haves, detensive back, United States Festball League DENVER—Traded Ron Revets, dutilarback, to Chicago for Jee Kimmel, linebacker.

Waived Jamie Glies, nase tackie.

JACKSONVILLE—Cut Rich Hendley, punt-PHILADELPHIA-Troded Jeff Gobriel-300. Hosbacker, to Chicago for undisclosed 1985 and 1986 dreft chalces. PITTSBURGH—Reactivated Arms Law-P11 100UNUTY REQUIRED AFFIRE LOW-rence, running back. Waived Respie Buth, wide receiver. WASHINGTON—Signed McConaid Oden. tight end. Cut Lannie Harris, wide receiver. Placed Mike Thurman, curnerback on in-

HOCKEY Notices T
Netlonal Hockey Leader
NEW JERSEY-Returned Glant Merleader, center, and Gorry Howart left wins, to Availing at the American Hockey Leader,
NEW YORK RANGERS-Recalled John Ventalestrouck, posite, from the Otters of the NHL Standings WALES CONFERENCE

Mrick Division
W L. T Phs. GF GA
46 26 2 94 333 257
44 26 5 93 282 217
39 25 10 88 31s 27
38 27 9 85 280 284
17 50 7 41 222 320
14 52 6 36 289 334 CAMPBELL CONFERENCE Nortis Division Smythe Division

54 17 5 113 430 300

37 28 12 79 284 283

29 35 10 44 224 234

30 39 7 67 290 317

21 43 12 54 282 189 xv-Edmonton

Washington 3, Minnesota 1 (Anderson (3), Gariner (37), Sompson (1), Gauld 2 (19); New York (NL) 9, New York (AL) 4 Pittsburgh 3, Toronto 1 (Rouiston (14), PHIsburgh 3, Toronto 1 (Rouisine 14), Hrymewich (4J, Brickley (18); Anderson (35)) Buffold 4, Montrad 2 (Andrewchuk (35), Ho-net (20), Ruff (13), Peterson (9); Niceland (28), Shuff (14)) Chlospo 4, Wignipep 2 (Luddik (9), 8, Lyraer (32), T. Murray 2 (14), Saverd (35), Lyraek (14); Completel (7), McBoln (12)) Edmonton 5, Hartford 3 (Anderson 4 (32), Curry (51); Karaspaulos (5), Johnson (35), Analone (16);

IN NEW YORK Exhibition Baseball

Laboring on Fantasies

By Russell Baker N EW YORK — Look. I'm not ashamed to admit it. I've spent a lifetime struggling to be like most people, and a lot of the time it's been hard work, but it was worth it because I knew that when other people were asked about me the answer would be, "Oh, he's nothing special — just like most people." You will understand, then, why I was appalled by the recent news in The New York Times that most people have seven or eight sexual fantasies every day.

At the upper end of the scale were people who had 40 per day. No wonder American productivity is approaching zero. Until then I had thought the reason nobody answered the phone in the afternoon was that the whole country was sleeping off its after-lunch hang-

On the day these statistics were published, at least three days had passed since I had had a sexual fantasy, and while the study showed that there were, indeed, some people who had none per day, I was clearly far below the norm.

Naturally, I decided to try moving up to the seven-or-eight-perday average. Never one to flinch from drudgery. I started rising an hour earlier, thinking I could fit in at least two good fantasies before breakfast.

Have you ever tried wallowing in thoughts of carnal excess while scratching an unshaven jaw. vawning and watching a publicitystarved author discuss "parenting" with Bryant Gumbel? After four mornings, all I had to show were black circles around the eyes and one-and-a-half fantasies so uninteresting that I won't bore you with their content.

Discreetly, I consulted friends. When did they find time to do their fantasizing? Most blushed and pretended they hadn't heard me right, but a young man — clearly in the 40-per-day category — said. "Find time? Mas. I can't find time for anything else," Most who dodged the question. ! suspect, were having their fantasies on company time and didn't want to admit they were shortchanging the boss. I began trying this myself.

Results were not bad at first.

By telling the switchboard operator I was in conference and not to be disturbed, I could, while pretending to study a batch of office memorandums, spend an uninter-rupted 30 minutes in a moderately amusing sexual fantasy.

In this way I got my average up to one per day. Obviously, devoting 30 minutes to a single fantasy was inefficient. If I cut each fantasy down to four minutes, I could get in seven and a half per day, exactly like most people. Of course, this tight schedule required an agenda prepared in advance, with seven and a half ideas for fantasies all ready at my finger tips the minute the half-hour be-

I will be frank. I hated the fourminute fantasy. It was too short. There was no room to maneuver in. no space to create complications. In fact, it had all the defects of writing a newspaper column.

Moreover, accustomed to writing newspaper columns. I couldn't force myself to repeat the same fantasy. Whereas people will listen to the same song repeatedly for 40 years and still appland, a columnist who repeats his material will be booed out of the business.

If I had been a songwriter, would have been psychologically capable of having the same fantasy seven and a half times a day seven times a week. As a newspaper columnist. I was constitutionally incapable of the repetition and, so. needed 52% new ideas every week simply to be like most people.

When desperate for new column ideas I call friends, relatives, colleagues, asking, "Do you have a good column idea?" It was only natural, then, that I started phoning friends, relatives and colleagues to ask. "Do you have a good idea for a sexual fantasy?" Though amused at first, these people soon spoke discreetly to loved ones very close to me. They. in turn, urged me to take a vaca-tion. While doing so with a friend wise in psychiatry, I was brought back to reality. "If you were a songwriter," he explained, "having the same fantasy seven and a half times a day would be the norm. As a newspaper columnist, having not a single idea for months at a time makes you perfectly normal. New York Times Service

By Phil McCombs Washington Post Service Crime

WASHINGTON — Stealing and raping are exciting, and criminals commit crimes because they like to, says Stanton E. Samenow, a psychologist who is a strong voice in a growing "psychiatry of responsibility." Samenow is becoming something of a celeb-rity with his new book. "Inside the Criminal Mind." in which he declares firmly: "Criminals cause crime — not bad neighborhoods. inadequate parents, television, schools, drugs, or unemploy-

Freud, the man with an excuse for everything is dead. And criminals, says the author, know the difference between good and evil and prefer evil.

"A gun-toting, uneducated criminal off the streets of southeast Washington, D.C., and a crooked Georgetown business executive . . . regard the world as a chessboard over which they have total control," he writes. "and they perceive people as pawns to be pushed around at will. Trust, love, loyalty, and teamwork are incompatible with their way of life."

If evil is a savage enticement, trying to be good and to live a responsible life can be difficult. But Samenow's 15 years of working in prisons, clinics and halfway houses has convinced him that criminals can be persuaded to confront the reality of their lives, and to choose to lead different.

Once, after he'd outlined his views in a lecture to a group of corrections and mental health workers, a clergyman in the audience came up and said: "This is so old, it's new.'

Samenow, 42, an intense man who seems comfortable in his starched white shirt, blue blazer and striped tie, rocks in a swivel chair in his office in Alexandria, Virginia, arms waving, voice soaring at a high pitch.

It's hard getting people to understand, he says. Criminals are truly different from ordinary, responsible people.

For example, he says, there was newspaper interviewer the other day, and when he told her the typical criminal "expects the vorld to go his way and expects immediate service and all this kind of thing. She said, 'Well, this

Lawbreakers Are Responsible, Not Society,

sounds like the man I was married to.' She said I was making 90 percent of the male population

He shakes his head "It's a matter of degree, and we're talking about a person whose entire way of life is predicated upon the view that the world is there to suit him . .

and when things do not go as he wants, he will take matters into his own hands, caring not who he injures, and running afoul of the law repeatedly. "If somebody had told me all this stuff 124 years ago, I would have said, 'Bunk.' I didn't believe a bit of it. I was totally in the deterministic mold, the Freudian perspective. Now I am just 180 degrees the other way, and I've had to be convinced of it.... Who wants to believe this? It's a very grim picture, a very chilling

The typical criminal, he says, commits hundreds of crimes, his mental life a rich dreamscape of depredations. While anyone may fantasize about crime, the crimi nal can't pass a store without thinking of robbing it; and he frequently follows through, often drinking or taking narcotics to overcome inhibitions and shut out fear and remorse. Manipulative and arrogant, he never thinks will be caught. He sees responsible people as dullards.

With a criminal, says Samenow, the last thing you want to do is build self-esteem. He's already got plenty. "People have taken psychoanalysis and applied it to explaining criminal behavior. Freud never worked with criminals, and Freud never really purported to explain criminal behavior," he says.

Criminals love the Freudian approach, Samenow adds. They learn to fool the psychiatrists [by playing the psychiatric game of mouthing insights. By taking the position that the criminal is a victim, society has provided him with excuses [and] supported his contention that he is not to

The idea of criminals as victims has been widely held since the late 19th century. Now, at a time when there is little public sympathy for criminals and voices are raised in favor of tougher sentencing, the experts seem to offer little hope for reforming criminals.

Maintains U. S. Psychologist Stanton Samenow

Psychologist Samenow: "A very chilling picture."

Samenow says he knows how. A native Washingtonian, Samenow, Yale '63, worked with the late Dr. Samuel Yochelson to publish "The Criminal Personality" in 1976-77. Based on research in the wards for the criminally insane at St. Elizabeths Hospital, the two-volume work has come to be regarded as a classic.

Samenow had gone to work for Yochelson at St. Elizabeths in 1970 when he was fresh out of graduate school with his degree in clinical psychology. Yochelson, a classical Freudian, had begun his work at the hospital by probing the psyches of the inmates judged by the legal system to be criminally insane - to discover what forces had shaped them. The theory was that exposing these forces would effect a cure.

But gradually Yochelson and view the inmates not as sick, but as brilliant manipulators of the legal and psychiatric systems. The criminals, as Yochelson and Samenow came to call them, didn't reform under classical therapy. They did, however, learn. "Dr. Yochelson treated rapists his young protégé realized it wasn't working. They came to using psychoanalytic concepts and techniques," recalls Saric insight" of the 100 hard-core but nouviolent criminals he has treated have gone straight. Measuring recidivism is an imperfect art, but Samenow says this is a good success

Samenow's cases often come from local probation offices, so he begins work with criminals when they may be dissatisfied with life the law and want to change.

the second control of the second control of

Under the Yochelson-Samenow theory, the therapist "begins with holding the criminal completely accountable for his offenses." Samenow writes. Rather than listening to problems, the therapist describes typical criminal thought patterns and suggests that the criminal thinks this way, too.

The armed robber "was told that none of his hard-luck stories were relevant," writes Samenow of one case. "The circumstances of his life were of no concern. He was not a victim. At the heart of this program is the premise that man can choose between good and evil . . . There would be nothing in the program to make [him] 'feel better' about himself.

Rather, in order to change he would have to grow intensely fed up with himself."

Gradually, the therapist teach es the criminal how to "deter" criminal thinking — how, for example, to quickly think of something else when he sees a woman and rape flashes through his mind. "In short," writes Samenow, "the change process calls for criminals to acquire moral val-ues that have enabled civilizations to survive.

All this is time-consuming - a year or more of weekly or even daily sessions is not unusual and therefore enormously costly. Samenow thinks this may be one reason that no programs in the Washington area have formally adopted his techniques.

Not everyone is enthusiastic. "I don't necessarily buy it all," says Norman Carlson, head of the federal prison system, for which Samenow has done consulting. "But menow, "and what he found was, I personally think Stan has some good ideas. . . . Instead of putting a guy on a couch and talking about his Oedipal conflicts and all that, he tries to confront them with the reality of their behavior, and I think for many immates that's where it's at."

"This is a tough approach to crime," Samenow writes, tough because some criminals will have to be locked up for a long time. It is tough because it stipulates that far more is necessary to effect significant and lasting change than current theories or practice SUEEESL."

REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE

ISRAEL

JINE WEEK TIME SHARE Mondorin Hotel on the Beach Herziliya. D. Cook, 6632 Large St., Philodelphio, PA 19149 or 215-342-7393.

UDICEMBOURG AREA. 60 sq.m. du-plex, 5th floor no elevator. Exception-of view on Senate gorders, Facing South, very sunny, Saturday 2-5 pm, 40 rue de Vaugirard or tel 222 48 22.

50 MINUTES SOUTH WEST PARIS (Autoroute Chartres), 5 Hectares birch trees, river, pand. 600 sq.m. villa, luxunous fittings. Well worth the price. Owner: (3) 476 10 46.

RASE HIGH CLASS VILLA: 15 mins from Champs-Elysees Paris West, resi-dential. 5 bedroams, 2 baths, 2-car garage, Garden Quet, view, private road. F2,500,000. Call 732 33 62.

SUPERS HOUSE, NEUELY. Nine rooms, large garden, curbuildings, garage + maid's room. F9,000,000. Daressay 624 93 33.

PORTUGAL

SPAIN

HOTELS

GREAT BRITAIN

DRISCOUL HOUSE, 200 single rooms, parted board, £30 p.w. 172 New Kent Road, London SE1, 01 703 4175.

INTERNATIONAL

N.Y.C., HOTEL BARGAIN

THIS AD + $21,00 per person, double accupancy, entitles you to real value in New York. Next tree by CB-NTEY. PARAMOUNT HOTEL, 25 West 46th Street, N.Y.C. 10034, convenient Tractices, excepting, 650 rooms with both, TV, our conditioning. Singles $38, Baserver now. This is a sleeper in every sense.

Tel. 21/21 764-5500.

Tales: 425-918 CPH.

HOTEL ACCOMMODATION: competitive rates - London - Assistancem - New York - Washington - Orlando - Philodelphia - Los Angelei, Wate Sans Ebeid, 14, East 28th Street, New York 10016 USA.

PEOPLE

Yoko Ono Breaks Earth For 'Strawberry Fields'

Yoko Ono, accompanied by John Lennov's two sons, Sean and Julian, pushed a gold shovel into the rain-soaked earth in Central Red in New York Wednesday to Park in New York Wednesday to break ground for Strawberry break ground for Strawberry Fields, a tear-shaped patch of land in honor of Lennon that will feain honor of Lennon that will feain the 25,000 strawberry plants. Lennon was shot to death on Dec. 81980, by Mark David Chapman. The 25-acre Strawberry Fields, named for one of the Beatles' biggest hits should be completed by this time next year. Ono. 51, is donating 51 million for landscaping and other work, and for wokeep. work, and for upkeep.

Barbara Streisand, was named commander of arts and letter.
Wednesday night at a champagne areception hosted by Jack Lang. the French culture minister. The ceremony ended a week of public apnearances in Paris for the promotion of "Yentl," the film Streisanc directed, produced and played the leading role. The film depicts the story of a young girl who disguise herself as a boy in order to study the Jewish Torah. James Herriot, perhaps the world's most famous veterinarian, Wednesday. received the first individual aware from the British Tourist Authority in London. Herriot, author of bestselling books about his life as a Yorkshire vet, received the awar in his proper name, Alfred Wight "He has entertained millions an has done much to bring a greate awareness of Yorkshire throughou the world, the BTA said. Herrio has stopped writing but still practices as a vet, and says these days his visitors number "60 to 80 too. ists upwards, every day. As the dogs and cats flow out, the touris flow in. I never dreamed for a rement when I began telling people about Yorkshire that they come to see it." . . The Los Arr geles Urban League honored jaz vocalist Ella Fitzgerald, who be came the first woman ever to re ceive the group's annual Whitner M. Young Jr. Award. Fitzgerald who has won 11 Grammy aware water during her more than 40-year sing career, was bonored for he outstanding contributions towars the improvement of racial equations. The award is named for Wheney M. Young Jr., the former United the League executive director will died in a boating accident in 197

Place Your Classified Ad Quickly and Easily

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE By Phone: Call your local IHT representative with your text. You will be informed of the cost immediately, and since preparament is made your ad will appear within 43 hours.

Cost The pasic rate is $9.10 per line per day + local taxes. There are 25 letters, signs and spaces in the first line and 36 in the following lines.
Minimum space is 2 mess. No abbreviations accepted
Credit Cards: American Express, Dines's Club, Eurocard, Moster

HEAD OFFICE

Po

EUROPE 00

ISRAEL Tel Aviv: 03-455 559 FAR EAST PULL 101 - April Hong Kong: 5-42090c. Singapore: 222-2725. Tokyo: 504-1925.

Athens: 3o1 8397 3o0-2421 Brussels: 343-1899. rankfurt: (0611) 72-67-55. Lausanne: 29-53-94, Lisbon: 67-27-93-66-25-44. London: (01) 836-4502 Modrid: 455-2891/455-3306 Milan: (02) 7531445.

nes Contact Frankfurt.

UNITED STATES

New York: (212) 752-3890. OTHERS Capelown: 616-020.

MOVING

ANNOUNCEMENTS SUBSCRIBE INTERNATIONAL

HERALD TRIBUNE

AND SAVE. As a new : Ascriber to the International Herald Tribuni international Herald Tribure, you can save up to 42% if the newsstand price, dependi on your country of residence

IHT Subscriptions Department, 181, Average Charles-de-Gaulle. 92200 Neutly-sur-Seine, France. by tel: Paris 747-12-65 ext. 305 IN ASIA AND PACIFIC contact our local distributor or:

International Herald Tribute 1005 Tal Sang Commercial Build 24-34 Hermesty Road HONG KONG Tel: HK 5-286726

INVESTIGATIONS / SECURITY SE vices provided. National-international assignments. I.S. Corp. Tils. 219919 Tal: 9237420 Greece.

ALLIED VAN LINES INTERNATIONAL FREE ESTIMATES THE CAREFUL MOVER

PARIS Desbordes Intern (01) 343 23 64
FRANKFURT Services, I.M.S.
(0611) 250066
DUESSELDORF/ RATINGEN (02102) 45023 MUNICH J.M.S. [089] 142244

Americans Int'l Moving (01) 953 3636 SSEI C. LONDON BRUSSELS: Ziegler S.A (02) 425 66 14 GENEVA IEVA Grouer S.A (022) 32 64 40 SPAIN F.GR Stauffe

(01) 2757348 USA Allied Van Lines Int'l Corp (0101) 312-681-8100

ALPHA - TRANSIT - Fbg. St. Honore - PARIS. Tel: 266 90 75. Sea and air moving - Baggage to all countries. CONTINEX BAGGAGE & MOVING to 152 ones North America - arr/sec Call Charles 281 18 81 Paris, Cars too

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS in BAGGAGE See/ Air Freight, remove on TRANSCAR, Paris (1) 500 03 C4.

THE OBSERVER WITH COLOUR MAGAZINE TOYOURHOME EARLY SUNDAY MORNING

Call your local Courrier Export office:

BELGIUM & LUXEMBURG THE NETHERLANDS 013-560240 DENMARK SWEDEN 08-7441407 or 02.483062 FRANCE & MONACO SWITZERLAND 021-719607 GERMANY

0611-571096 PAY ONLY THE NEWSSTAND PRICE.

INTERDEAN WHO EISE FOR YOUR NEXT INTERNATIONAL MOVE

MSTERDAM: athens: Barcelona: CADIZ: FRANKFURT: GENEVA:
LONDON:
MADRID:
MANCHESTER:
MUNICH: NAPLES:
PARIS:
ROME:
VIENNA:
ZURICH: REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE

PAS DE LA CASA ionely.
3 rooms, 66 sq.m., F278,490
2 rooms, 43 sq.m., F196,950
3 rooms, 46 sq.m., F29,000
2 rooms, 53 sq.m., F220,010
2 rooms, 73 sq.m., F220,010

11 - 3 rooms, 47 sq.m...F228,100 12 - 1 room, 25 sq.m...F134,470 20 m, from the slapes, keys delivered Oct. 84 1°2 - 1 from, 35 sq.m....F149,960 1°3 - 1 from, 28 sq.m....F146,360 2°1 - 2 frooms, 70 sq.m....F222,850 4°1 - 3 frooms, 85 sq.m....F280,870

PAS DE LA CASA.
Your oportment on the slopes in one of the best ski resorts in the Pyranees. Excallent terms on blueprints or upon complation. NO TARES, Directly from promotier. Management, sectional retimos socie of businesses. Cholets in Andorn
1.3 Viola. Information: Immobilistic
1200, J. Parisse, 12 rus Bearn, Pcs de k
Casa, Andorna. Tels (078) 55044. BELGIUM

BRUSSELS (UCCLE). Luxury peni-house, fiving space 227 xcm, plus 3 terroces. Bequatrul view, summyside all day exposure. Huge living room with fireplaces. 3 hedrooms, 2 bettivooms plus independent shower. Enapped arthers, two porking places. Cellor. Price. 8F11,000,000 equivolent + /-USS200,000. Writip or cells Art New roce, 24 rue de l'Industrie, 1040 Brus-sels. Tel. 02/513 89-55. KEERBERGEN Inec: Brussels & Ant-werp). Magnificent estate for sale, 70 KERRERGEN I hear Brussels & Am-werpl. Magnincern estate for sole, 70 acres. Beouthal home with supering gorden. Built in 1980. Immediates condition, in residential area. Lovely surroundings. Furnished. 6 bedrooms. 5 bothrooms. Study and Rivary. 2 large reception ropers with bars. 2 large reception ropers with bars. 2 large reception. Tell. Brussels. 02: 247-28,55 - Immo Lorger.

BEAUTIFUL SMALL CHATEAU, per-fect condition, park including late, tenns, old mess, and surface 8 ocres, near speedway Ostend-Brussels. Price CANADA

SOUTHSEN ALBERTA RANCH
14,930 pare ranch, 10,000 head feedlar, over six males river frontage, ample woler 3 hear units, 8612 carest deeded, 6320 pares deeded private lease; 500 ourse culmonted with 1000 pares estabsished diffolia; 1200 growal revenue; surface rental revenue, 3 awned gas wells, Substantial improvements, gaing cancern, Approaced CordS.85 million Grayel part can be 304 separately, Cal cern. Appraised Cdr$3.85 million Cravel pit can be sold separately. Call Jim at (403) 898-2260 or Realty World Wilcox at (403) 362-5537.

INTERNA REAL ESTATE FOR SALE REAL ESTATE FOR SALE CANADA FRENCH PROVINCES 10% ACRES developed lots near Mon-treal at US$0.80 / sq.ft, ready for treal at US$0.80 / sq.ft, recoy for housing development. Owner will take flot in Singapore in part exchange. Write P.O. Bax 1285, Maxwell Road, Singapore 9025 (ref. 8072). CARIBBEAN

88 ACRE PRIVATE ISLAND in the Caribbean, two beaches, good terrain, Minutes from Little Diz Bay Re-sort, BVI. Cantact: George C. Parrott, P.O. Box 263, St. Thomas, USV Tel: 809-774-1135, $2,500,000.

ARUBA-MAGNIFICENT VILLA ON looking ocean. Private vocal treat for discriminating $550,000. Tel: 212-753-9267. FRENCH PROVINCES MCLIGINS: Most prestigious property with warmth comfort & exquisite detailing, large reception, library, drang roam, master's suite, 4 bedrooms, staff quarters, launday etc. 2 cares land. Make offer to International Section, SSI, 47 La Crossene, 06400 Carnes, Tel. (73) 38 19 19.

Huge and 630 white estate with the ter. 6 Jan from 20 CAMADOUR comforts. For sale, F25 milson, 6 plete dosser 8 phatos available. O.G.I.T. 798-50 14.

UNIQUE IN PORT GRIMAUD LARGE AND BEAUTIFUL HOUSE

Hall, living room, dining room, apening on garden, jetty, port, garden jocuzz. 3 bedrooms, 4 baths, dressing, solanium Nitchen, servants, hall with drining area, independent maids room, Garage, nautical workroom, storage space. Lucurious filtings, finishings and intend

GETTROY B.P. 49 FB3990 Saint Tropez

COL DE VIOLETRANCHE: Magnificent 3 room againment, purocame veew, terrece, part pool, Borgan, F850,000 Agence Bood 87, 63,08310 Beauleu-sur-Mer. Tel-20,91 00 36

Monaco. (53) 50 69 21.

SATTERVION BUSINESSMEN: Publish your business message in the ATTERNION BUSINESSMEN: Fuolish your our our message in the distance of the properties of the properties of the properties of a million readers by bridgide, most of whom are in business and industry, will read it. Just telex usif Paris 613595) before 90 A.m., ensuring that we can telex you back, and pour manage will appear within 48 hours. The rate is U.S. $9.10 or local contraling per line. You must include complete and verifiable billing address.

BUSINESS
OPPORTUSINES 18% IN US$ UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED FOR 4 YEARS BROCHURS TO INCLUDES WITH PHONE NUMBERS ONLY purguine also available in various

CONTAINERS LTD Combelley GU15 38Y Englan Tel: 0276-682011 (24 hours Tales: 858997 LANCON G

WE HAVE PREPARED a lot describing how to Sury a cru- Mercedes, Porsche, RMW - all large sowings - and how, if you are so inclined, to go into business and realize 20-40% on your money in 4-6 weeks. It includes a print-out of prizes, how and where to convent for legal US entry, the name of import brokers to cased with poper-work, suggestions on how to sell quickly 8. For cash, also the best airterns, 8, places to stroy while in Germany, Toka achievantage of the great strength the dollar now has in Europe. Send US$15, no cash, to Realizem Corp., Yo U. Bouch, Bearcservics, Ismaningth- 102, 2000 Muruch 80, W. Germany, Please add US$2 for stripping and handling, allow 2 weeks for delivery. ME HAVE PREPARED a lot describing OMPANIES FORMED of over the world by ort? business consultants, Western Europe, USA, Hong Kong, Penama, etc., whether you are currently conductions ort? business ochines or one contemplating doing so in the future, we can form the company most appropriate for you. Proper care token to ensure confidentiality, Write for details to Konge Consultants Burson, 263 Forsour selector, 2524 AP DELFT/The Nerharlands

BUSINESS SERVICES Confidence in regonstances professionally conducted for you with load compo-nies, government bades, lawyers, or-countains, banks and others. Namines services can be arranged for privacy. Also moving and telephone arrawering shares.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE FRENCH PROVINCES COTE D'AZUR NEAR CANNES NEAR CANNES

One of the Mast Beautiful properies available for renting furrashed for a period of several months.
Reasonable price can be negotiated with a good tenant. Large reception rooms, five main bedrooms, etc. Suffquarters. Charming garden, complete privacy. Also possible to buy. Ref. 1546.
April.

JOHN TAYLOR S.A. 55 ks Crossette 06400 CANNES Tel: (73) 38 00 66. Telex: 470921 F.

CASTELLARAS LE VIEUX
Ansericon owned & equipped villo, Lorge solon with finegloce, terroco. Deing room-lichen, firegloce, terroce. 2 double, 1-2 single bedrooms, 3 boths, levatory, loundry etc. Complete house and garden services, guarded. Magnificent view. Agents abstrain, (93) 75-24-51. MARVELLOUS MONACO CONDO

MINIUM comprising Hotal, office block, caremos, shopping centre, health centre, swamsung pools. Which complex £100,000,000 or each entry separately. Ecomplex Hotal £25 milion, Office Block £19 milion. Office Block £19 milion. 28 Headstone Lone, Harrow. [01] 863 2094 or 11 Ave de Grande Bretagne, Managan. £31 50 67 31 50 67 20 40 67 10 67 31 50 67 20 67 10 67 20 67 10 67 20 67 10 67 20 67 10 67 20 67 10 67 20 67 10 67 20 67

BUSINESS SERVICES BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE

ostuan Commercial Print Pro onvention Trade Shows Pres onvention-Trade Shows-Press Parts Spead Events-Image Makers-PR's Social Hosts-Hostesses-Entertainers

YOUR BUSINESS ADDRESS in Amount dam. Most receiving/forwarding ser-vice. PBC, NZ Kolk 33, 1012 PV A dam TAX SERVICES US FEDERAL TAX Advices, & Retur prepared by UK Consultants. To (07073) 71231 (from Landon, 96) OFFICE SERVICES Your Office in German

SERVICE.

Exponses Avion Francis and Business
Exponses Avion Francis and Business
Consultants. GPO Box W2015, Perth,
Western Australia 6001. Tel. (619, 341
6555 Telex. AA97381 qualing PE121.

ABU DHABS: P.O. Box 277. Tel. 824400
1elex. 22643 UTS EM.

CLASSIFIED REAL ESTATE FOR SALE FRENCH PROVINCES SOUTH WEST FRANCE
Vest and beautiful property.
Character: 6 Inn from ROCAMADO
Very great complete throughout, sale P25 millions. Complete dosser tos on demand. O.G.L.T., Tel: 788 50 14.

CAP FERRAT: Magnificent property, pancreatic view, 10 rooms, 5 bolts, 350 sq.m. living space, 1,500 sq.m. gooden with heated large switzming pool F7,500,000. Agence Boys R.P. (F3) 01 00 36

CAP FERRAT: Exceptional small Pro-vencel villa, lovely sea view 160 sq.m. iving space, 50 sq.m. terrace, 1,200 sq.m. flor garden, P.500,000. Agence Bovis R.P. 63 - 06310 Beomises-sur-Mer, Tel: [73] 01 00 36 TOURAINE 1 km Chenonosoup, 19th century property on 1 he tand crosses by river, beautiful setting, close to village, all conforts. 12 main rooms Ment condition, F1,500,000. Tel (47) 25 88 63. Levron, Francoel 37150 Blers

AVIGNON. BEAUTIFUL 50 SQ.M. studio, + 10 sq.m. balcony, kitchen + bathwoom, i minute away irom the Palas des Papes. F400,000. Calt. Paris 274 41 53 before 10 cm or after 8 pm. NEAR MONACO. Very rore, magnificent old water mill, perfect coodson, B rooms, garden with swimming pool F2,000,000. Agence Bovis 8.P. 63 06310 Beautient-sut Mer. (93) 01 00 36

ILE D'YEU (YENDÉE), Immediate sal of land, building permission, sea view Tel: 229 7T 43. ST TROPEZ. Beach villa, 4 roor unique. Tel: Belgium 91-836 660. GREAT BRITAIN LONDON HAMPSTEAD SUPERB loc-ury interior designed apartment in a modern block in exclusive position - 3 bedroores, 2 bedrooms, double re-ception, fully equapped latches, 2 bed-cones, ponorums: views, fernis coors. E232, ESOD. Tel: 01-435 6089

ELSZ, 1500. Tel: 01-435 6089

UNKURY MEWS HOUSE IN private mavs off Belgrove Sq. SWI. 2 double bedrooms, 2 boths, fitted kitchen, large reception, 25 fr x 15 ft, garage, contents available, 52% year lease, $165,000. Tel: 01-834 5757 or 0773 853271. PROPERTY SEARCH SERVICES. OF fers a confidential service to private & corporate clients withing to acquire freshold, leasehold or rental property Whitten details on request. Tel: 05295-516 Great Britain.

MOLYVOS-(LESBOS)-GREECE, over 6 cores, near sea in beautiful louristic location. For commercial or private east. Write. Dr. Hibbs. 7302 Durbin Terr., Bethesda, Md 20817, USA:

LOW COST FLIGHTS

SPAIN

RONDA (MALAGA): VELIA in the
"Cudod", the oldest port of Rondo, declared a national manuscert. Constructed in 1969-70 in Andalucion style on 19th century site of lighest de la Autora occarding to plate of W.H.
Shellman of Princatan University of Shellman of Princatan University on years of Belas Arts. 650 sun.
Ining space. 2 suites of bedroom, study and both. 2 other large bednows and boths. 3 other large bednows and boths. 3 other large bedperiod of the both bed period of the both bedperiod of the both bedperiod of the both bed period of the both bed
pe HOLIDAYS and TRAVEL

NEW YORK ONE WAY $175, Round trip $275, L.A. $294, Paris 225 92 90. GORE HOTEL, LONDON, a great fo-vorite with the discriminating traveler. 10 minutes West End. All rooms with color TV, bathroom, radio, direct dial telephone. Singles from £33. Twins from £36. Telephone 01 584 6601, Talez 25624 prefor Gore, 189 Gueen's Gote, London SW7. HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL SED AND BREAKPAST IN NEW YORK CITY $35 single, $45 double, Free Brochure, New World Bed and Breakfan, Ltd. 150 Fifth Avenue #711 New York, N.Y. USA 10011 Telephone: 212-675-5600 CHARTER A YACHT IN GREECE, Direct from owner of lorgest fleet. American management, Euglien orwers, govt, bonded. Volet Yachts, Abri Themistokkeous 22C, Fronze, Abri 21-2000, USA offices, Firs Road, Ambler, PA 19002, Tel. 215 641 1424.

For more Houday & Travel Ads Please Turn To Page 8W In the Werkend Section HELLAS YACHTING, York Charte Academics 28, Athens 10671, Green HOTELS

FRANCE ARIS - Plaza Mirebeau NN, 1 Ave. E. Zola, 1-2-3 room flats, bot kitchen, frage. Tel: 577 72 00, GERMANY TOTEL ALBANY in Wiesboden, near Frankfurt. $25 single, $40 double Breakfast, WC shower (06171)521051

he then had rapists with psychiat-Yochelson and Samenow developed a method for changing criminals into responsible citizens, and Samenow has been using it in his private practice since he left St. Elizabeths in 1978. During that time, he says, a third

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE REAL ESTATE FOR SALE SPAIN SWITZERLAND THEREGING ABOUT RETIRENG in Spaint Splandid idea, if you are heading for Marbella - Costa del Soll Contact us we buy, sell, rent, construct, villas and opertments, beach sale, in the mountains and on the gold. We are nother serve to have got what you are looking for, and if not we'll produce it for you'll PROMOTE, Apartado 118, MARBELLA, Spain, The 77610 OTUR E "The REST Property People."

TEE OF FROM YOUR FRONT - or letchen door? In Guadalmina golf, Marbella, we have for rent and sale villes, incomparably rice flots, town-and penthouse with acasa view, nice surresponding, and international resistance. dents cround, happing living the easy Geodolanino-woy-of-frie. Info: PRO-MOTUR, Aportado 118, MARBELLA Spain. The 7/610 OTUR E "The BEST Property People."

HOUSE TOTALLY PURNISHED in villa Carles, Menorca. Small garden.
Carles, Menorca. Small garden.
Ground floor-2 bedroams, bailtroam, toilet, 1st floor large living/dring room & balcory with superb wew of harbour, fully fitted latchen, toilet & westbasin. Stairs to roal/catio. TelUK Denham (1895) $32697. Offers $33,000 - $35,000. Car for sale availoble if required.

THIVERVAL 30 KMS WEST PARIS 1974 house on 15,000 sq.rs. land. 4 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, near schools 8 shops. F1,300,000. Tel ($1056.30.66. NEULLY: Most luxurious security building, 1 bedroom, focing Bois Boulogne, private palso & garage 747 46 17 IBIZA - BALEARES Denner sells direct beautiful XV tentury palace. Large terraes with senoramic views overlooking the say and part. Price US$535,000. Herald Tribune, Box 268 Pedro Teixeira 8, Madrid 20. PRES CHAMPS-ELYSEEs: Coque pied-5-terre (2 chambres). Bel immeu-bla. Soleil. P290,000. Tel: 256 06 93.

UNIQUE, BEAUTIFUE old town house in Rondo, Southern Spoin, with dro-matic views over the famous Top', 45 minutes from Mobelol, two hun-dred and lifty thousand ponds $250,000, Contact: Consting y Ser-vicios de la Propresided S.A., Avda. Jose Antonio N.7.1C Morbello, Spoin. Teleze 77711.

PURILIGAL

IISBON (RESTELO). Linarious villa, residential area, 10 mire from center of city, Direct occess eirport, 1st quality construction total area 3800 sqm., 3 floors, 414 sq.m. per floor. Gorage, gyennasium, Barry, large living, chring, 14 rooms, 10 boths, terrace, surrounded by large garden. Yiew on River Togus. Intractivity evaliable for residence or company offices. Contact-Mrs ML. Fragoso, Au-Republica, 47-4°ESQ. 100 IISBON - PORTUGAL. NERIA COSTA DEL SOL. Charming unspoilt areo-lutury detached villabeach wolling distonce. 4 bedrooms, big living-drinng, 3 beths. Fully funished. Sacluded gorders, pool, terrocas. Panorame views. Life golf membership included. $75,000, [34-52,520194. POB 154 Nerja, Mologa MARRELLA EXCLUSIVITES, Land, vi los, policies, private or investor Apartado 375, Son Fedro de Alco taro, Malaga, Tel; (34-52) 780549. SWITZERLAND

LAKE LUGANO Lake LUGANO

Lideside opartments in a beautiful park with swimming pool, own landing stages. First quality equipment file fireplaces, large terraces, ball-in facthers, etc. Prices from SF453,900 up to 151,122,800. Mortgages up to 60% of 151,122,800. Mortgages
151,122,800. Mort

REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT IN SOUTHERN SWITZERLAND.
Construction of a 10 une condominum, annot income of 4.5%, increasing each 2 years 6%. Rental administration guaranteed. Free for sale to foreigners, Sales price $72.450,000, Martigages up to 66% civiliable. For further details, please contact.

EMERALD HOME LTD. Via G. Cattori 3 CH-8900 Lugano-Percelle Tel. Switzerland 91-542913. Talas: 73612 HOME CH.

LAKE OF GENEVA

18 miles from sirperi
Directly from owner. Disport maneion, loke freetage. Unique properly, fully renevaled on approximately one hectore of lower. Sufficient space to accommodate deplorance mission. Fighest standards of security ovaliable. Price corresponds to uniqueness of site. For information places write.

UTO-RING AG.

100 rue du Rone.
C4-1204 Geneva

APARTMENTS - CHALETS Are available for purchase by foreigners. Prices from SF 123,000 Margages at 66% interest. W. Globe Plan SA. Ave Man-Repos 1005 Lousante, Swirzefond.
Tel (21) 22 35 12, Tis: 15185 Meis

NEAR MONTRE/X, FOREIGN con buy: lots of 800 sg.m. Francisco. SF8,000. Choles from SF220.00 Agreem viles from sF325,000. Agreem from about SF100,000. M gapes 70% at 6/2% interest. Con 11. SE00.00 SA. Tour Grize 6. 1. Lassane. Tel. 21/25 26 11.

Swiss Residence New Condom ni CHATEAU D'OEX - GSTAAD Lucury, 2 foreign pennis coals; sports, view, finishous, etc. US$225.0 70% financed. 5. Scheffer, 6 Bnd 1224 Geneva. 22 / 35 67 55. ONTACT THE SPECIALISTS. F CONTACT THE SPECIALISTS.
Montreux to Jugono, St. Montre Villors - we have a complete rong propesties in Switzerland. Hilary 35
Lint., 422 Upper Rohmond Rd. Wal
London SWI4. Tel. 01-876 6555.

PORSIGNERS can buy apartments chalets around Loke Lucerne. Barbon ovalidate. Write Postfoch 1912 Brinningen 1, Switzerland. 811/2 Brinningen 1, Switzerland. 811/2 Brinningen 1, Switzerland. 811/2 Brinningen 1, Switzerland. USA GENERAL BIQUISITE 100 ACRES on notified spring-fed lake in most prestory.

Connecticut Barbarres. Contra como with object contra street. comp with olympic pool, etc., sports focifities & many buildings. Someone possibilities. No common Asing $1,500,000. Box $14, Heroid Tribune, $2521 Neutly Cedex, France

NEW HAMPSHIRE - 500 ACRES of prime forest lend in one of the most beautiful U.S. States. Great development possibilities $290,000. M. Butterworth, Marrill Lynch Realty, 141 S. Main St., W. Leuword, "75107. Tb., 643-057 HQHFD. INCOME producing properties. Ag-cultural, commercial, & industrical Ropid appreciation with ideal Royal climate. Jumar Realty Co., P.O.B. 95; Eaton Park, FL 33840 813-665-0052.

USA RESIDENTIAL room appriment over Fifth Avenue var-spectocker views somheast north-of-west over Central Park! This speci-hame features 2 small belcanes out Fifth, 3½ bette, a made's room, and all plants of the properties of the pro-sive services in first distinctive pre-out-building. High price, highest value! CSC Mr.Eberle 212-688-85 WILLIAM B. MAY CO. Since 1866

WISE INVESTMENT Terrific price for 41/2-room operations in a presigious cooperative building, 2 bedroom sates, each private. Cuies and bright on high floor, Nice divining area. Well-priced $275,000. Cell Leonore Metrick 212,488,8700. Or, residencer 212,753,3087

West 57th St., New York, NY 100$

WILLIAM B. MAY CO. West 57th St., New York, NY 10019. SOUTHWESTERN
NEW HAMPSHIRE
No Starte Income Or Soles Tox
Cotumy & Vilope Properties, Histori Capes, Colorisch and Retirement Home from $ 50,000
The Madines, REALTORS
South St. Gistory, N.H. (1348)
Telephone 6(3-352-4773 USA

PAGES 17 & 14 FOR MORE CLASSIFIEDS

VAN CLEEF & ARPELS WORLD FAMOUS JEWELLERS NOW HAVE A SHOWROOM IN LONDON 153 NEW BOND STREET. TEL: 01-491 1405 TELEX: 266265

MOVING

FOR A FREE ESTIMATE CALL

FOR MORE REAL ESTATE OPPORTUNITIES SEE PAGE 15

ANDORRA

Conditions 50% in three months, 50% ine months, no interest, or four years with unlerest. 6% reduction for total vitient.
LOCATIONS SAISONNIERES
PROMOCIONS CONSUEGRA
Cerrer Bearn 17
Pas de la Cesa, Andorra
Tel: 16 1078 55007

UNIQUE INVESTMENT PRINCIPALITY OF ANDORRA PAS DE LA CASA

OPPORTUNITIES BROKERS

Lifetime Opportunity HORIZONS 2000 Offers a guaranteed return of 50 of total investment in U.S. agriculture 5 years, in collaboration with a promi neal financial institution liquety 5 years, in calobration with a promi-neal financial institution, thestoric can also expect returns projected to overage 65% yearly from amusi-harvess for the 6th through the 20th year, income distributed quarterly and is expected to continue for generations. year. Income distributed quarterly on a expected to continue for generotrans Raviswed by an international occounting firm and deeligned to foreign and U.S. Investions. Means octable in English, French, Gernact Araba, U.S. demakany director will available for provide decusions in April, in major burgapan order. Engunes from Investors and Brokers we come. For default control.

come. For details contact.
Globe Plan 5.A.
Ave Mon Repos 24
1005 Lausanne, Switzerland.
Tel. [21] 22 35 12. The 25185 MEJIS CH. AN INSTANT MONEY MAKER
THAT CAN EARN YOU
US$8000 - US$10,000 PER MONTH World a busness ther's oil cash_that delivers profits in recitity lump sums_ther has refranches fees or resmarkedss_ther's port-title, itsel's ideal hill-title, port-title or weekends?
Then you ought no be in pictures COMPUTER PORTRAIT SYSTEM you don't have to sell to customers. customers.
You just line them up and shoot them with a TV cornera, then instently protout their pictures by computer in black and white ar color.
Put the partnass on T-shirts, calendars

WE ARE LOOKING FOR BUYERS WE ARE LOCKING FOR BLYTES of Dehydrage peans & oppies in stora, dehydrated whole prunes in bulk, strawberry, roperry, blackberry-peach, oppinco, plum & gradte pra-iars of one pound with history of Contact Mr. Schaffflutzs irom March 13-2s 1984 at Hotel Reza Affense, 25 Ave Montragne 75008 Para. Cr. Cater LH., PCB 147, 8055 Zunch. Tis. 813-619 DON CH Tel- 00411-431-38-51

International Business Message Center UNLIMITED INC. U.S.A.

LANDLESS 212-765-7793 212-765-7794 330 W. 56th St., N.Y.C., 10019

we are "At Your Service"

Complete office services of two presings addressed from the short term or the long term.
Internationally transel office and professence staff of your deposed.

On be legally used as your corporate domicile for Germany/Europe.

Your business operation can start immediately. Leirco Business Services GmbH Lorco-Hous em Holzheusenpark Justinionstrasse 22 6000 Frankfurt om Main 1

Germany Tel: 0611-590061 Tales: 474561 YOUR OFFICE IN PARIS: TBLEX, ANSWERING SERVICE, secretary, errands mailton, live 24H/day, Tel. PAT. 609 95 95. PARIS ADDRESS, Champs-Bysic Sings 1957 LS.P. provides mail toho Since 1957 LSP, provides most, phone telex, meeting rooms, 5 rue d'Arteis 75008, Tel: 359 47 04, Tb.: 642504 5'R. VOUS PLAIT, 150 E 74 St., NY NY 10021, 24 hr. phone, relex, ma + office, 212-737-1600. The 237818

Imprimé par Offprint, 73 rue de l'Evangile, 75018 Paris, هكذامنالأحهل